

1010data

1010data was founded in 2000 by pioneers of large-scale data systems on Wall Street. Drawing on that experience and newly available technologies, the company developed a web-based service and the underlying software that makes it easy to acquire, organize, manage, and analyze large volumes of complex, interrelated data.

The data management architecture developed by 1010data differs significantly from other database software; in theory, it is almost infinitely scalable - simply, cheaply, expediently, and reliably. It is architected to handle multi-terabyte databases at a fraction of the cost and with much higher performance than other data management approaches.

Axiom

Axiom is a modern alternative to the traditional law firm. If you're thinking-what the heck does that mean?? Don't worry, a lot of people new to Axiom have asked the same thing. We're something entirely new: a stripped down law firm whose attorneys work at the client site instead of in one centralized building. That means that our clients (Google, Amex, etc.) get to work alongside our attorneys and we at HQ get to wear jeans and play music on our iPod stations. You don't have to be a lawyer or even want to go to law school to work here-we hire graduates from all academic disciplines. Axiom is a fast-paced, 'work hard play hard' kind of place and we're meticulously focused on creating a unique and addictive culture. We're looking for the right people to join us... think you're one of them?

Here at the web team of kgb we are an organizational centaur. The head of a start-up with the body of a leading global information services company. kgb has operated information businesses worldwide since 1992 and recently launched the "Ask Us Anything" 542-542 Text message service. Therefore, we pay a competitive salary with full benefits, and enjoy the strength and resources of an established organization. In ancient times they called that a "magical combination". Today, they'd probably just coin it "reorganized organizational organization."

We are a distinct small and agile team that functions as an incubated start-up funded by a larger organization. Our mission is simple: completely redefine the way users get their content on the web.

Kopali Organics

Kopali Organics was the winner of the 2007 Socially Responsible Business Award. We started Kopali from our off the grid organic permaculture farm and sustainability center in the rainforest of Costa Rica to support sustainable family farmers and their communities around the world through the sale of organic and fair trade snacks that are "Good for you. Good for farmers. Good for earth." We are a small entrepreneurial team at an exciting moment of growth: we are carried in every Whole Foods Market nationwide and just ended "exclusive" terms of that agreement. We are just beginning to sell to all the other retailers and shoppers, who will bring our company to "scale" and allow us to have greater positive impact upon the world.

Room to Grow

Room To Grow's mission is to enrich the lives of babies born into poverty throughout their critical first three years of development.

Room to Grow's program provides parents raising babies in poverty with individualized parenting support and essential baby items throughout their children's critical first three years of life. Upon referral by prenatal clinics assisting low-income families, parents visit Room to Grow's warm and inviting space once every three months from just before the birth of the baby until their child turns three. During their one-on-one appointments with our staff social workers, typically lasting two hours, parents receive developmental information, customized support, and all of the needed baby items to ensure a healthy and secure start for their child.

Success Charter Network

Success Charter Network is an ambitious charter management network of four high-performing charter schools in New York City. Over the next decade, we will grow to 40 schools that provide access to high-quality education for New York City school children.

In 2006, Success Charter Network launched our flagship school, Harlem Success Academy Charter School. With the opening of three additional schools in 2008, we are currently serving over 1,000 students. We will launch three new schools in the fall of 2010 that all provide academically rigorous and well-rounded instruction in historically underserved communities.
