Introduction and Overview:
Teacher and Leader Preparation Program
Registration Process

Procedures Common to all Proposals

The Office of Higher Education assesses the compliance of public, independent, and proprietary degree-granting institutions and the programs of study they offer with the standards of quality set forth in laws, rules, and regulations. This includes assessing applications to establish new higher education institutions, major changes to the missions of existing higher education institutions, proposed programs of study and changes to currently registered programs. New York State Education Department (NYSED or Department) approved programs are listed on the Department’s Inventory of Registered Programs (IRP).

The Department registers individual curricula (“programs”) rather than an institution as a whole. However, the registration process takes into consideration all significant aspects of an institution’s educational enterprise as it relates to a proposed program. Program registration is the Department’s chief means to ensure that colleges, universities, and professional schools maintain quality standards.

What Requires Registration?

Registration of a curriculum (program of study) indicates its approval based on quality standards in the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education (Commissioner’s Regulations). Section 50.1 (i) of those regulations defines curriculum or program as “the formal educational requirements necessary to qualify for certificates or degrees. A curriculum or program includes general education or specialized study in depth in a particular field, or both.” Section 52.1 requires registration of the following types of curricula at colleges, universities, and professional schools before those institutions may offer them:

- every curriculum creditable toward a degree offered by institutions of higher education;
- every curriculum leading to a certificate or diploma bearing credit towards a degree;
- every curriculum leading to licensure in a profession;
- every curriculum for which registration is required by statute, the Rules of the Board of Regents, or any other section of these regulations; and
- every curriculum leading to a certificate or diploma offered by a non-chartered proprietary institution authorized by the Regents to grant degrees, except noncredit curricula approved by another State agency for the purpose of licensure by that agency.

(Statutory Authority: Sections 207, 210, 6506, and 6507 of Education Law. See also Section 13.1 of the Rules of the Board of Regents.)
The Proposal Submission Process
Proposal applications to register or change a Teacher Education, Educational Leadership or Pupil Personnel Services certificate title program must be submitted in portable document format (PDF) to: OCUEedapps@mail.nysed.gov

Proposal applications are required for the following actions:

- Registration of a new degree program (with some exclusions), including those requiring master plan amendment (MPA)
- Registration of a new certificate or advanced certificate program
- Addition of the distance education format to an existing registered program
- Changes in program content, including:
  - Changes in the program’s focus or design
  - Adding a certificate title (e.g., adding a 5-6 extension)
  - Adding or eliminating a major or concentration
  - Altering the liberal arts and science content
  - A cumulative curricular change of 1/3 or more of the total credits
  - A curricular change that impacts the pedagogical core
  - Eliminating a requirement for completion
- Changes in program information, including:
  - A change in degree award (e.g., from a B.S. to B.A.)
  - A change in program title
  - A change in format (e.g., from day to evening, from full-time to part-time)
  - A change in delivery mode (e.g., from traditional format to an on-line format of the program)
  - A change in the total number of credits of any certificate or advanced certificate program (if less than 1/3 of total credits and does not impact the pedagogical core)
  - Deleting a certificate title
  - Discontinuing a program

If the request does not fall into one of the above categories, please contact the Office of College and University Evaluation (OCUE) at (518) 474-1551, or at OCUEINFO@mail.nysed.gov for further information and instructions. Examples of Program Registrations not included in this process:

- Doctoral Programs
- ITI Programs (Intensive Training Institutes) in Bilingual Education
- Programs leading to professional licensure

Colleges and universities within the State University of New York (SUNY) and City University of New York (CUNY) systems should contact their respective system administrations for the appropriate proposal submission process.

Completing the Proposal Application
After a proposal has been submitted to the New York State Education Department, Office of College and University Evaluation, a preliminary review is conducted. This preliminary review checks to see if the correct application has been completed as well as for inclusion of certain basic information, such as purpose of the proposal, contact person, and signature of approved institutional designee. Once the preliminary review is completed and the information is confirmed, the proposal is logged in and assigned to an OCUE reviewer.

The Office is committed to reviewing proposals within 30 working days of their submission, when the submission is complete and on the correct application form. If issues are raised, the institutional contact person identified in the proposal will be notified of the specific problem areas, questions and issues. Once contacted, institutions will have 30 working days to provide a comprehensive e-mail response that addresses all problem areas, questions and issues identified by OCUE staff. If the proposal is not resubmitted within the required 30 working day period with all the requested information, and/or if any of the problem areas, questions and issues have not been fully addressed in the institution’s response, the proposal will be withdrawn from further consideration. In this case, the institutional contact will be notified via a letter citing the regulatory deficiencies in its submission and resubmission/response. Therefore, institutions are urged to read this guidance document to have a clear understanding of what the expectations are regarding program review criteria, submit the proposal on the correct application form, check to ensure the application is completed thoroughly and ensure that all additional attachments and submissions are included. Again, institutions are encouraged to read this guidance document in its entirety. If more information is needed after reading the guidance document, email OCUEedapps@mail.nysed.gov.

There may be instances when, as a result of a unique proposal or other special circumstances, additional time is needed to engage the institution and confirm compliance with quality standards. In such cases the OCUE evaluator will contact the institution’s liaison, explain the concern and ask for the appropriate additional information to move the review process forward.

In addition, institutions are asked to limit the total number of proposals they submit within a three month period of time. As a general guide, institutions should not submit more than five new program registrations in any single three month period, and not more than one Master Plan Amendment in any six month period. If an institution submits more than five proposals in three months, the Department expects that the institution has submitted the proposals in priority order and will review them accordingly.

Applications for Programs Leading to Classroom Teacher, Educational Leadership, and Pupil Personnel Services Certifications

| There are five different applications for programs leading to teacher, educational leadership or pupil personnel services (PPS) certification, discussed below. |
| I. The Application to Register New Programs Leading to Initial or Initial/Professional Classroom Teaching Certificates/Extensions/Annotations |
| Use this application to register a traditional undergraduate program leading to initial classroom teaching certification or a graduate level program leading to initial/professional classroom teaching certification. |
| Use this application to register a traditional program leading to an extension, including bilingual extension for teachers, or annotation. |
| Do not use this application for Transitional B program registration, please see below. |
| II. The Core Application for Registration of a New Program Leading to Professional, Transitional B, or Transitional C Certification. |
| Applicants for a program leading to the Professional, Transitional B, or C Certification, must complete the Core Application and applicable Supplement (A, B or C). |
| Use this application to register a traditional graduate program leading to professional... | certification only. Programs leading only to professional certification require candidates to hold initial certification in the same certification subject area as the proposed professional program. These programs cannot be used as a second certificate pathway as they do not require field experience or student teaching (Supplement A).

Use this application to register an alternative graduate program leading to Transitional B classroom teaching certification, or Transitional C classroom teaching certification (Supplement B or C).

III. The Educational Leadership Application

Use this application to register a graduate program leading to initial school building leader certification, professional school district leader certification including alternative Transitional D or professional school district business leader certification. This application includes the option of a bilingual extension for these certificate titles.

IV. Pupil Personnel Services (PPS) Application

Use this application to register a program that leads to certification as a school psychologist, school social worker, or school counselor. This application includes the option of a bilingual extension for these certificate titles.

V. The Application for Changes in a Currently Registered Program Leading to Certification in Teacher or Educational Leadership Certification.

Use this application to make changes to currently registered programs leading to classroom teacher or educational leadership certification.

Instructions for Completing a Proposal Application

1. Review the instructions and tasks required for each application before actual submission. Each application form can be downloaded and completed for hard copy submission.

2. Please note that all SUNY and CUNY colleges and universities should continue to prepare and submit proposals as required by their respective system administrations. SUNY and CUNY colleges and universities please contact your system administration for direction regarding processes, procedures, timelines and applications.

3. Use the Instructions, Resources, Guidance and Relevant Regulations associated with each application and task. This Teacher, Leader and PPS Guidance Document for Program Registration can be downloaded and printed.

4. Incomplete applications or applications that do not use the appropriate forms, will be returned to the institution and withdrawn from further consideration. Please ensure that you understand the applications and forms that are required for your particular proposal.

5. An application that has been returned may count toward the five proposal limit within a three month period for each institution, depending on the reason for the return.

6. Proposals that represent a significant change in the institution’s academic mission may require a master plan amendment. For more information on master plan amendments, see http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/mpainfo.html

7. Certain actions may require an amendment to the institution’s charter or certificate of incorporation. For more information see http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/cainfo.html

8. If the change involves establishing an existing registered program at a new location, this is considered to be a new program, not a change to an existing program. A new registration application for the proposed program is required, with all requisite accompanying materials.
9. For programs that are registered jointly with another institution, all institutions involved in the joint registration must confirm their support for the changes by signing the required documents.

10. To change a registered professional licensure program or to add a license qualification to an existing program (e.g., School Psychologist, Speech & Language Pathology), please contact the Office of the Professions (OP) for guidance. Please see http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/register.html#professions for information on state professional license.
External Program Reviews

When is an External Program Review Required?

An external review of a proposed teacher, educational leadership or pupil personnel services program is required if the program falls into one of the following two categories:

1. The program leads to a graduate degree and is in a new certificate area in Teaching or Educational Leadership. When an Institution of Higher Education (IHE) moves to a new certificate area at the graduate level (adolescence education when they have only physical education), an external review is required.

2. An external review is requested by the Department. The Department reserves the right to request an external review of a program leading to teacher, educational leadership or pupil personnel services certificate at any time. Such instances include, but are not limited to, when pass rates fall below 80% on the New York State Teacher Certification Exams (NYSTCE), low graduation rates, complaints and/or evidence of ineffective candidate preparation.

If an external review is required, the new program proposal must include the submission of:

- A copy of either the original External Review for Teacher Education Programs form, the External Review for Educational Leadership Programs or External Review of Pupil Personnel Services Programs form, completed and signed by a recognized expert in the field and certificate area. IMPORTANT: The expert must be approved by OCUE in advance of the External Review occurring.

- A copy of the email from the State Education Department (OCUE), indicating that advanced approval of the external evaluator was received prior to the external review occurring.

- A copy of the institution’s response to the external evaluation, including how the institution’s proposal has been modified in response to the external reviewer’s comments and recommendations.

Who Qualifies as an Acceptable External Reviewer?

The proposed external reviewer is expected to be a recognized expert in the field of the proposed program, as demonstrated by appropriate educational credentials, professional experience, academic teaching and/or administrative experience in similar programs, or publications in the field in peer reviewed journals. A terminal degree in the field of study is preferred. The proposed reviewer must not have a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest with the institution or program under review.

What Constitutes a Conflict of Interest?

There is a conflict of interest when the potential reviewer:

- is a present or former employee, student, member of the governing board, owner or shareholder of, consultant (past or present) to the institution or in a partnership with the institution that is proposing the new program; this includes those persons who may have consulted or helped develop the proposed program.

- is a spouse, parent, child, or sibling of an individual or persons listed above;

- has expressed an opinion for or against the proposed program;
- is seeking or being sought for employment or other relationship with the institution proposing the program;
- has a personal or professional relationship with the institution that might compromise objectivity; and/or
- has a competitive relationship with the institution that might compromise objectivity.

How is Approval of an External Reviewer Obtained? What is the Review Process Once Approval is Obtained?

External reviewers must be approved before the review takes place. The approval of an external program reviewer, and the external review process, includes the following steps:

1. Ensure there is no conflict of interest with the proposed reviewers (see list above).
2. Submit to the institution's OCUE liaison, via e-mail, the names and CVs or biographies of proposed reviewers (usually three).
3. Include a brief description of the program.
4. The OCUE liaison reviews the credentials of the proposed reviewers and advises the institution.
5. An external reviewer completes the review.
Proposals Requiring Master Plan Amendment

What is a Master Plan?

A college or university states its mission, goals and objectives in its master plan. The master plan describes the institution’s philosophy, purposes and direction; the characteristics of the people it seeks to serve; the level and range of programs it offers; the research it conducts; and the services it provides. This plan may be modified by amendment as the institution evolves.

What is a Master Plan Amendment?

When an institution seeks to expand its academic mission (e.g., by offering a degree at a new level of study or in a new disciplinary area), it must submit a master plan amendment application for review and approval by the Board of Regents. The Regents must approve an amendment of an institution’s master plan before the institution can undertake the proposed activities. The main purpose of this process is to permit public review of significant changes in an institution’s academic mission.

What Requires a Master Plan Amendment?

Approval of a master plan amendment is required when the institution seeks initial authorization to award a degree; offers its first program at a new level of study; establishes a branch campus or inter-institutional program (see Section I: General Information for definitions); or establishes at each degree level its first program in each of the 10 general disciplinary areas. Under certain circumstances, proposed programs may require amendment of the institution’s master plan and/or charter or certificate of incorporation, in addition to program registration.

Additional information about master plan amendment is available online:

Proposals Requiring Charter Amendment or Similar Authorization

The Board of Regents incorporates independent, not-for-profit colleges and universities by issuing a charter, which defines the institution’s legal authority and the location and scope of its programs of study and the degrees it may award. Charter amendments may be needed for such actions as initial authority to award degrees, new degree titles, including degrees at new levels, change of location or establishment of a branch campus, and operation beyond the specified limitations in the existing charter.

A proposal for registration from a proprietary college may require amendment of the college’s certificate of incorporation on file with the Department of State. Such amendments require the consent of the Commissioner of Education.

Additional information about charter amendments and similar authorizations is available online at: http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/cainfo.html.
Important Policy Information

- To strengthen the preparation of teachers and leaders and to support the Regents Reform Agenda, please take note of the following:

- The Department will no longer register, as one program, a teacher preparation program with a “track” that leads to teacher certification and a “track” that does not lead to certification. These tracks have different career outcomes and objectives, and should be designed, administered and implemented differently. “Tracks” that do not lead to teacher or leader certification should be submitted using the application for general academic programs. Educational leadership companion programs are an exception. See Registration of Companion Programs.

- If the proposed program leads to initial and/or professional certification for library media specialist, the program must lead to a master’s or higher degree. Commissioner’s Regulations, Part 52.21(b)(3)(xiv) require that programs leading to the library media specialist certification “shall lead to a master’s or higher degree.” As such, the Department will no longer register new library media specialist programs leading to an advanced certificate, since an advanced certificate is not a degree title. Section 3.50 of the Rules of the Board of Regents lists all degree titles in New York State, found at: http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/lrp/chapter_i_of_title_8_of_the_offi.htm#Section3.50.RegisteredDegrees. Existing library media specialist programs leading to an advanced certificate should consider a change to a master’s degree to be in compliance with Commissioner’s Regulations and Regent’s Rules.

- If the proposed program leads to initial and/or professional certification in teaching Literacy Birth-Grade 6 or teaching Literacy Grades 5-12, the program must lead to a master’s or higher degree. Commissioner’s Regulations, Part 52.21(b)(3)(xi) require that programs leading to the teaching literacy certifications “shall lead to a master’s or higher degree.” As such, the Department will no longer register new literacy certification programs that lead to an advanced certificate, since an advanced certificate is not a degree. Section 3.50 of the Rules of the Board of Regents lists all degree titles in New York State, found at: http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/lrp/chapter_i_of_title_8_of_the_offi.htm#Section3.50.RegisteredDegrees. Existing Literacy Birth-Grade 6 and Literacy Grade 5-12 programs should consider a change to a master’s degree to be in compliance with Commissioner’s Regulations.

- Programs that lead to multiple, unrelated certificates (i.e., Childhood Education, Adolescent Education (Chemistry 7-12) and Specific Subject Education (Health)) or certificates at different levels (i.e., initial/professional with a second track for professional) should be registered as separate programs.

- Programs should not be designed to lead to a list of certificate titles. Combining multiple certificate tracks and levels may lead to a curriculum that is diluted and diffused. A focus on one or two certificate titles at the same level will help maintain the focus and integrity of the program so that candidates are fully prepared to meet their specific career objectives.

- Advanced certificates leading to a base teaching certificate should minimally be 15 credits for teachers already holding an initial certificate.

- The institution shall take into account the capacity of the student to undertake a course of study and the capacity of the institution to provide the instructional and other supports the student needs to successfully complete the program. Low institutional retention and graduation rates can be indicators that the supports necessary for student learning are ineffective or insufficient. These rates will be considered when the application is submitted.

Related Regulations on Off-Campus Instruction: Branch Campus

Section 50.1 Definitions. As used in this Subchapter

(r) Branch campus means a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution’s principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution offers one or more curricula leading to a certificate or degree.

Related Regulations on Off-Campus Instruction: Extension Center

Section 50.1 Definitions. As used in this Subchapter

(s) Extension center means a unit of an institution located at a place other than the institution’s principal center or another degree-granting institution, at which the institution does not offer any curricula leading to a certificate or degree, but at which the institution either conducts more than 15 courses for credit or has more than 350 course registrations for credit in any academic year.

(c) Extension centers. 1) No institution shall begin to operate an extension center after September 2, 1980, and no institution shall, after September 2, 1981, continue to operate an extension center existing prior to September 2, 1980, unless the institution has applied for and obtained specific approval of the commissioner to operate such extension center.

(2) In reviewing the application of an institution to operate an extension center, the commissioner will consider: (i) the impact of the extension center upon the institution offering courses, including its impact on the quality of academic curricula registered at the institution; (ii) the need or demand for the extension center and for the courses offered there for credit from the points of view of students or special groups of students, including military personnel and people in sparsely populated areas, potential employers of the students completing those courses, the institution and the public; (iii) the impact of the extension center upon other institutions in the area and in the State as a whole; and (iv) the compatibility of the extension center with the Regents Statewide Plan for the Development of Postsecondary Education.

II. Program Information for New or Existing Programs

Program Code

Review Criteria:

- The institution enters the existing program code when requesting a change to a currently registered program.
- No program code is entered if requesting a new program.

Program Title

Review Criteria:

- Proposed program title reflects program purpose.

Note: Award is a separate program element and should not be included in the proposed program title. For example, if the proposed program title is for an advanced certificate in Bilingual Education, the registered program title will be changed to “Bilingual Education” since “advanced certificate” is the award.

Degree Award

Review Criteria:

Proposed program degree award must be authorized in the institution’s charter. Before submitting an application, check the institution’s charter for eligibility.

- If the proposed program award is not authorized in the institution’s charter, the institution will need to request a charter amendment to register the program. Information on charter amendments is available at:
  http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/cainfo.html
- If the proposed program leads to a teaching certificate for library media specialist, the program must lead to a master’s degree or higher.
- If the proposed program leads to a certificate in Literacy Birth-Grade 6 or Literacy Grades 5-12, the program must lead to a master’s degree or higher.
- An appropriate award for a master’s level program leading to teacher certification for someone without initial certification is the Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.)
Baccalaureate degree programs shall normally be capable of completion in four academic years of full-time study, or, in the case of five-year programs, five academic years of full-time study, or their equivalent in part-time study, with an accumulation of not less than 120 semester hours.

Master’s degree programs shall normally require a minimum of one academic year of full-time graduate level study, or its equivalent in part-time study, with an accumulation of not less than 30 semester hours. Research or a comparable occupational or professional experience shall be a component of each master’s degree program. The requirements for a master’s degree shall normally include at least one of the following: passing a comprehensive test, writing a thesis based on independent research or completing an appropriate special project.

Related Regulations on Credits

Part 52.2 Standards for the Registration of Undergraduate and Graduate Curricula. (c) Curricula and awards.

(2) For each curriculum, the institution shall assure that courses will be offered with sufficient frequency to enable students to complete the program within the minimum time for completion, in accordance with paragraphs (6)-(10) of this subdivision.

(7) Baccalaureate degree programs shall normally be capable of completion in four academic years of full-time study, or, in the case of five-year programs, five academic years of full-time study, or their equivalent in part-time study, with an accumulation of not less than 120 semester hours.

When the program leads to a certificate or an advanced certificate, indicate the registered degree program(s) to which the credits apply.

Review Criteria:

- The degree program(s) listed here must be (an) existing registered program(s).

Note: Information on the current registered program is required. Commissioner’s Regulations Part 50.(n) defines credit” as “a unit of academic award applicable toward a degree offered by the institution, and Part 50(i) defines “certificate” as “a credential issued by an institution in recognition of the completion of a curriculum other than one leading to a degree.”

- Institutions wishing to simultaneously register new degree programs and new certificate or advanced certificate programs associated with the same new program, the master’s proposal must first be evaluated and approved for registration before the Advanced Certificated will be considered.

When the program is part of a dual degree program, provide the program title, degree award, HEGIS code, and minimum and maximum number of credits required to complete the second degree of the dual degree program.

Review Criteria:

- The degree program(s) listed here must be (an) currently registered program(s).

- The degree program listed in response to this item must be registered.

III. Contact Person for this Proposal

If any problem areas, questions or issues arise during the review period, the Department (OCUE) liaison(s) will send questions on the proposal to the contact person. Therefore please be certain that the contact person is listed, and that the person is reachable and knowledgeable about the program.

Review Criteria:

- Information for the program contact person, including an e-mail address and phone number, has been provided.
Department Expectations:
Program Information and Sample Program Schedule

Program Format

Review Criteria:

- Program description and sample program schedule reflect allowable program scheduling and format features.
- For the Distance Education format, an Application to Add the Distance Education Format is submitted.

Format Definitions

- Program format definitions (e.g., evening, weekend, accelerated, etc.) are available at: http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/format.html
- See Review Process for Approval of Programs in Distance Education Format for detailed information on distance education.

Program Description and Purpose

a) Program description as it appears in the institution’s catalog

Review Criteria:

- A program description is provided that includes the philosophy, purpose, and specific career objectives of the program.
- The program has a clear focus and specific career objectives.
- The program focuses on one or two certificate titles in order to ensure the integrity of the program, the curricular design and attention to the student population to be taught.

Related Regulations on Program Description

Part 52.21 Registration of curricula in teacher education. (b) Programs leading to certification in the classroom teaching service.

(i) Standards for all programs. In addition to meeting the applicable provisions of this Part, including but not limited to the applicable provisions of section 52.2 of this Part, all programs leading to certification in teacher education shall meet the following requirements:

(a) Programs shall have a written statement of the philosophy, purposes and objectives of the program.

b) Certificate titles

Review Criteria:

Certification Titles

- Certificate titles for which the institution would like the authority to recommend as a result of the registration of this proposed program are identified.
- Programs leading to multiple certification title areas are designed for a specific developmental level or have a specific pedagogical focus.
• Programs that lead to multiple, unrelated certificates (i.e., Childhood Education, Adolescent Education (Chemistry 7-12) and Specific Subject Education (Health)) or certificates at different levels (i.e., initial/professional with a second track for professional) should be registered as separate programs.

• Programs should not be designed to lead to a list of certificate titles. Combining multiple certificate tracks and levels may lead to a curriculum that is diluted and diffused. A focus on one or two certificate titles at the same developmental level will help maintain the focus and integrity of the program so that candidates are fully prepared to meet their specific career objectives and have the knowledge and skill to teach the New York State Learning Standards and Common Core Curriculum.

Extensions and Annotations

Review Criteria

- Definitions for extension and annotation may be found below the Extension and Title List and at in Commissioner’s Regulations Part 52.21 (b)(1)(i) and (vi)

- Extensions to authorize the teaching of a subject in Grades 5 and 6 must be tied to a certain base certificate, including grades 7-12 certificates in teaching biology, chemistry, earth science, English, mathematics, physics, social studies or languages other than English (LOTE). The 5-6 extension is only valid for someone with the appropriate 7-12 base certificate, or who is concurrently earning the base certificate.

- Extensions to authorize the teaching of a subject for students in Grades 7 through 9 for teachers with existing base certificates in childhood education shall require study of at least 30 semester hours in the subject to be taught and at least 6 semester hours in middle childhood education.

- Subject area extensions for Students with Disabilities (SWD) certificates are tied to the developmental level of the base certificate. Only SWD 7-12 subject area extensions can be added to the SWD Generalist 7-12 certificate. As of September 2011, program registration for the SWD 5-9 specialist and generalist certificates ended with previously existing programs being phased out by 2016. There is no 5-6 extension to the SWD Generalist 7-12 certificate.

- Programs leading to annotations for teaching students with severe or multiple disabilities must associate the annotation to certificates for teaching students with disabilities in early childhood, childhood, adolescence, students who are blind or visually impaired, students who are deaf or hard of hearing or students with speech and language disabilities.

- Extensions to authorize the teaching of Bilingual Education must be tied to an appropriate base teaching, leadership, or pupil personnel services certificate. The Bilingual Extension is only valid for someone who has an existing certificate or who is concurrently earning a valid certificate. TESOL is not an appropriate base certificate for the bilingual extension.

- Bilingual extension requirements differ for teacher education and educational leadership and PPS certificates. Please see Department Expectations: Bilingual Extensions for Pupil Personnel Services and Educational Leadership Titles

c) Documented need for the program

Review Criteria:

- Strong evidence indicating a demonstrated need and demand for teachers or leaders in the title area and geographic region and/or statewide is provided, such as:
  - Quantitative data regarding the need for this program that leads to this specific certificate(s)
  - The nature (and level) of the occupational demand for graduates of the program
  - Evidence showing that the demand will continue (See the Department's Office of Research and Information Services (ORIS) database for information on supply and demand for teacher and leader certificate titles at: http://www.highered.nysed.gov/oris/stats/tsd.htm.

As an example, Childhood Education (Grades 1-6) is an area of surplus and is not likely to be approved as a new program without very strong supporting quantitative data that there is a need for this program.

d) Formal relationships and faculty involvement with partnering schools for the purpose of improving the preparation of teachers and educational leaders, and the student teaching and leadership internship experiences.

Review Criteria:

- Evidence that formal relationships and faculty involvement exist with partnering schools and, when appropriate to the certificate, community based agencies hosting Universal Pre-K programs where candidates may be placed for lab and field experiences and student teaching. Formal relationships are evidenced by:
  - funds allocated for IHE school partnerships;
  - a template of the MOU between the IHE and partnering school for the proposed program;
  - current (within the past two years) examples of Memorandums of Understanding (MOU) and/or other agreements from registered teacher education and educational leadership programs;
  - a plan regarding how the faculty intend to collaborate with the school. This plan could indicate how the school will benefit from the relationship with the teacher/leader preparation program;
  - previous professional development offerings the IHE has provided to partnering schools;
  - plans for prospective professional development the IHE will provide to partnering schools;
  - procedural agreements regarding the edTPA.

- Is consistent with the program’s philosophy, purposes and objectives and carefully selected and planned by program faculty, with learning outcomes specified and their achievement regularly evaluated.

- Is accompanied by coursework or seminars and supervised by one or more faculty who participate actively in the program and in program development and who have training and skills in supervision and the expertise to provide supervision related to content and pedagogy.
- Full-time faculty are involved in supervising candidates during their student teaching or practica assignments.
- Candidates are provided with experiences in a variety of communities and across the range of student developmental levels of the certificate. Experiences include skill development in interacting with parents or caregivers, teaching in high need schools, and with each of the following student populations: socioeconomically disadvantaged students, students who are English language learners, and students with disabilities.

Related Regulations on Faculty Involvement

Part 52.21 Registration of curricula in teacher education. (b) Programs leading to certification in the classroom teaching service.

(i) Standards for all programs.

(f) Institutions shall demonstrate how they maintain formal relationships with local schools for the purpose of improving the preparation of teachers and improving teaching and learning at both the institutional and the elementary and/or secondary school levels.

(g) Institutions shall demonstrate how they promote faculty involvement with public or nonpublic schools for the purpose of improving the preparation of teachers with regard to understanding diversity and issues facing high need schools.

(i) Institutions offering educational leadership programs shall “collaborate with school districts or with educational or leadership associations.”

Part 52.21(c) Programs leading to certification in the educational leadership service. (1) General requirements for all programs preparing education leaders.

(iii) External relationships. Programs shall establish and maintain formal relationships with distinguished practitioners and scholars in the field of education and in other fields, such as business or the professions, for the purposes of program development, leadership preparation, program evaluation, and program improvement.

e) Anticipated Year 1 though Year 5 enrollment:

Review Criteria:

- The institution provides sufficient resources to support candidates enrolled in the program as the program grows. (See Department Expectations for Resources)

Related Regulations on Enrollment:

Part 52.21 Registration of curricula in teacher education. (b) Programs leading to certification in the classroom teaching service.

(i) Standards for all programs.

(j) Institutions shall provide sufficient resources and equipment and adequate facilities and physical space, as prescribed in section 52.2(a) of this Part, to support effective teaching and scholarship by faculty and effective learning and scholarship by students in the program.

Financial Aid Considerations

The eligibility of the proposed program for the New York State Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) is determined through a review of the Sample Student Schedule.

If a program can be completed in the “normal” time for the particular degree level, the program is registered as being offered on a full-time basis. Only programs registered as full time are eligible for TAP.
A full-time program is one that is capable of completion in the “normal” (statutory) time. Section 52.2(c)(7) of Commissioner’s Regulations specifies that a baccalaureate degree must be capable of completion in four academic years of full-time study.

While a full-time program must be capable of completion in the normal time to be registered as a full-time program, students need not complete the program at the rate of 15 semester hours a semester. The full-time study requirement for financial aid purposes, pursuant to Commissioner’s Regulations section 145-2.1 (a), is a minimum course load of 12 semester hours.

For more information on the New York State Tuition Assistance Program, contact the Higher Education Services Corporation (HESC).
Curriculum Matters

Curriculum

For teacher education and education leadership programs, curriculum is addressed throughout the applications and the guidance document, including the Program Information and Sample Program Schedule, Admission, General Education and Content Cores, Faculty, Resources, Student Teaching and Field Experiences, Pedagogical Core Courses and the Core Application Supplements. The regulatory requirements for curriculum are specific for each certificate title. In addition to the specific certificate title requirements, field experiences, student teaching, the NYS Learning Standards and Common Core Curriculum, required workshops, literacy and teaching to diverse student populations are among the curricular elements that generally must be addressed. In addition to the guidance below, check each specific application section for additional guidance.

- The curriculum design is coherent, implements the philosophy and purposes of the program, aligns with the educational and career objectives of the program, and is consistent with professional expectations in the field.
- Curriculum content proceeds from introductory level to advanced level in logical sequence with appropriate breadth, depth, and currency. Appropriate prerequisite knowledge and skill is required.
- Faculty in education collaborate with arts and sciences faculty to develop curriculum and ensure that teacher preparation and educational leadership candidates are of consistent high quality, equivalent to that of higher education students in other fields.
- To ensure a strong curriculum and to ensure teachers have the content knowledge to teach to the NYS Learning Standards and Common Core Curriculum, institutions should further develop and support strong relationships between the Education and the Liberal Arts and Science Faculties.
- Undergraduate degree programs must contain the required amount of liberal arts and science content for the degree award cited. See Policy Statement on Liberal Arts and Sciences, http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/lrp/liberalarts.htm.

Sample Program Schedule

Review Criteria:

- The Undergraduate Program Schedule Table and/or the Graduate Program Schedule Table are submitted.
- The minimum number of credits for baccalaureate degrees is 120 semester hours.
- The minimum number of credits for master's degrees is 30 semester hours.
- At least 90 credits in the liberal arts and sciences are included in a Bachelor of Art (A.B. or B.A.) Degree; at least 60 credits in the liberal arts and sciences are included in a Bachelor of Science Degree or Bachelor of Science in Education (B.S. in Ed.) Degree (Refer to http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/lrp/liberalarts.htm for Policy Statement on Liberal Arts and Sciences).
- Program schedules include all courses, not solely teacher education specific courses.
• One semester hour or a credit represents at least 15 hours (of 50 minutes each) of classroom instruction and at least 30 hours of supplementary assignments (homework), such as reading and research, beyond what is scheduled for in the classroom.

• Syllabi are demonstrably consistent with, or superior to those of comparable course and programs at comparable institutions: syllabi embed the content and skill expectations of professional associations in the field.

• Coursework in graduate courses is clearly graduate-level work, and advanced in content, rigor and requirements.

• A master’s degree includes at least one of the following: passing a comprehensive test, writing a thesis based on independent research or completing an appropriate special project.

• The curriculum design is coherent, implements the philosophy and purposes of the program, and is aligned with the educational and career objectives of the program. (See Program Description and Purpose)

• Courses are offered frequently enough to ensure timely completion of the program, as demonstrated in the sample program schedule.

• A nontraditional schedule is explained and the explanation includes its impact on financial aid eligibility.
Department Expectations: Review Process for Approval of Programs in the Distance Education Format

Colleges and universities located in or operating in New York State that offer degree or certificate programs in which a major portion of the requirements (i.e., 50% or more) can be completed through study delivered by distance education must have those programs registered in the distance education format.

To add the distance education format to a registered program, submit the “Add the Distance Education Format application.”

To submit a proposal for a new degree or certificate program to be offered in the Distance Education format, submit the Add the Distance Education Format application and the Register a New Degree Program (non-doctoral) application.

Review Criteria:
- If the teacher preparation or educational leader program proposal has not been previously approved and registered in the traditional classroom (on-ground) format, full applications to Register a New Program and Add the Distance Education Format must be submitted.
- If the teacher preparation or educational leader program proposal has been previously approved and registered in the traditional classroom format, the Application to Add the Distance Education Format to a Registered Teacher Preparation or Educational Leader Program must be submitted.

Distance Education Programs: Principles of Good Practice

Organizational Commitment

Principle: Distance learning must be backed by an organizational commitment to program quality and effectiveness in all aspects of the learning environment.

Discussion: To be effective distance learning programs must be backed by the institution’s commitment to include distance learning in its planning and goal-setting, to treat distance education and on-campus education equitably in its policies and procedures, and to provide the necessary resources – human, fiscal, programmatic and technical – to support those programs.

Operational Criteria:
- The institution's distance learning activity is consistent with the institutional mission.
- The institution shows evidence - through its priorities, goals, strategic plans, policies, procedures, faculty recognition, and infrastructure - that it values distance learning.
- The institution's distance learning programs show evidence of careful planning, including identification of the need, the nature and size of the intended audiences, provisions for serving those audiences, and a plan for adding resources (financial and human, including instructional staffing and support functions) to accommodate future program growth (“scalability”).
- The institution has committed sufficient resources to its distance learning programs and services to ensure their effectiveness.
- The institution has clearly identified a single office or officer with responsibility for assuring the quality of all distance education across the institution.
• The institution ensures that the administration of its distance learning programs is carried out by knowledgeable personnel with adequate time and resources to accomplish this task.

• The institution has developed and implemented a process for sustaining faculty professional development in distance learning. This process recognizes that teaching in the distance learning environment requires different pedagogical and communication strategies to function effectively, and that the faculty member and the institution share responsibility for assuring effectiveness.

• If the institution uses courses, programs, or academic support services from another provider, it has an adequate process in place (with faculty participation) for evaluating their quality, academic rigor, and suitability for the award of college credit and a degree or certificate.

• The institution has in place a comprehensive, viable technology plan to support current and planned curricula in the distance learning format.

• The institution has a clear policy on ownership of course materials developed for its distance education courses; this policy is shared with all faculty and staff involved in distance education at the institution.

Learning Design

Principle: The institution's distance learning programs are designed to fit the specific context for learning.

Discussion: All programs the institution offers in a distance learning format must have quality, integrity, and consistency, and must fit the specific context for learning. That context includes the nature of the subject matter, the intended learning outcomes, the needs and goals of the learner, the learner's environment, and the instructional technologies and methods.

Operational Criteria:

• The same academic standards and requirements are applied to programs offered on campus and through distance learning.

• Distance learning programs are coherent, complete, and offered in a sequence or configuration that allows timely completion of requirements.

• The same faculty qualifications are applied to distance education programs as all other academic programs.

• Faculty is responsible for the initial and ongoing development and delivery of instruction in distance programs.

• Distance learning programs provide clear statements of learner responsibilities and expectations of student participation and learning.

• Distance learning programs provide for appropriate and flexible interaction between faculty and students and among students.

• The technologies selected for a specific distance learning opportunity are appropriate for the intended learning outcomes, content, relevant characteristics of the learning and the learner, and student cost.

• Distance learning programs include adequate verification of learners' work.

• Faculty and program administrators determine the appropriate enrollment that can be supported in the distance learning program and in individual courses based upon the content and learning activities, the nature of the learners, the technologies used, and the support available to faculty.
Learner Support

Principle: Distance learning activities are effectively supported for candidates through fully accessible modes of delivery and resources.

Discussion: Distance learners (candidates) often must assume greater responsibility for their own learning. They must understand and address their own learning needs; take initiative in asking questions and obtaining help; interact with faculty and other candidates as appropriate; and be prepared to deal with technical difficulties in the two-way flow of information. At the same time, institutions must develop and provide the necessary information and learner support systems to assist learners in carrying out their learning activities and using the available resources. Learner support must be appropriate to the distance learning modes used.

Operational Criteria:
The institution provides distance education candidates with detailed information on admissions and program graduation requirements.

- Distance program materials clearly and accurately represent the program, including detailed program completion requirements, the nature of the learning experience, program and faculty responsibilities, and the nature of faculty-candidate, candidate-faculty, and candidate-candidate interaction opportunities, techniques, and requirements. They define any specific candidate background, knowledge, or technical skills needed to undertake and successfully complete the distance program, and describe in layman's terms any technical equipment and/or software required or recommended.

- The institution provides distance learners adequate academic support, including academic advisement, technical support, and other student support services normally available on campus. Program materials clearly describe how candidates obtain these support services.

- The institution provides adequate library and information resources, services, and support for academic programs, including training in information literacy. These resources and services are accessible at a distance on a timely basis.

- Administrative processes such as admissions and registration are readily accessible to distance candidates, and program materials clearly describe how access is obtained.

- The institution provides orientation opportunities and resources for distance learners that are appropriate to the technologies used, the content, and the learners.

Field Experience and Student Teaching in Distance Education Programs

Principle: The following are guiding principles in fieldwork, student teaching and/or practica for distance education:

- Field experience and student teaching/practica must be consistent with the program's philosophy, purposes and objectives, and carefully selected and planned by program faculty, with learning outcomes specified and the achievement of outcomes regularly evaluated.

- Field experience and student teaching/practica are accompanied by coursework or seminars. In addition, they are supervised by one or more IHE faculty who participate actively in the program and its development, and who possess training and skills in supervision and the expertise to provide supervision related to content and pedagogy. Full-time faculty participates in supervising candidates during their student teaching and/or practicum.

- Candidates are provided with experiences in a variety of communities and across the student developmental range of the certificate. Experiences include: practicing skills for interacting with parents and other caregivers; working with students and other staff in high needs schools; and working with students who are socioeconomically disadvantaged, English language learners and students with disabilities.

Operational Criteria (common to all programs):

- Courses that require field experience(s) and student teaching/practica are listed.
- Instructors (i.e., supervisors) for field experiences and student teaching/practica are included in the Faculty Table.
- Instructors involved with supervising field experiences and student teaching/practica have the subject area expertise to provide supervision related to content and pedagogy.
- The supervising (cooperating) teacher is appropriately certified, and has been identified as a trained, effective teacher mentor.
- The supervising (cooperating) teacher is supported by the institution and program.
- The time requirements for field experiences and student teaching are minimally 100 clock hours of field experience, of which 15 hours must be in understanding SWD.
- Student teaching/practica must meet the minimum standard of two twenty-day supervised placements or one forty day placement provided field experiences and student teaching combined include all grade levels settings as described in Commissioner’s Regulations section 52.21.
- For candidates preparing for two certificates simultaneously, the second certificate is required to meet a reduced standard of 50 clock hours in the second certificate area, with 20 days of student teaching/practica. All other requirements for the first certificate apply.
- There is active and ongoing collaboration between IHE faculty and the supervising teacher that includes regularly scheduled meetings held face-to-face or using other meeting formats.

Operational Criteria (specific to Distance Education Teacher Preparation programs):

- Candidates in the fieldwork and student teaching/practica and seminar are fully engaged; they are fully supported within the distance education format and curriculum.
- The technology fully supports the required interactions between faculty and student teachers needed for delivery of curriculum, ongoing supervision, candidate evaluation and skills assessment.
- Face-to-face interactions between supervisors and teacher preparation program candidates, to discuss their placements and experiences, are held with sufficient frequency.
- Available technological resources are sufficient to cover the current and planned program curricula in distance education.

Operational Criteria (specific to Distance Education Educational Leader Preparation programs):

- Candidates in the fieldwork, educational leader internship and seminar are fully supported within the distance education format and curriculum.
- The technology fully supports the required interactions between faculty and educational leader interns that are needed for ongoing supervision, candidate evaluation, and skills assessment.
Face-to-face interactions between supervisors and education leadership program candidates, to discuss their placements and experiences, are held with sufficient frequency.

Available technological resources are sufficient to cover current and planned program curricula in distance education.

Outcomes and Assessment

Principle: Distance education programs organize learning activities around demonstrable outcomes (often expressed in learning objectives), assist the learner to achieve these outcomes, and assess learner progress by reference to these outcomes.

Operational Criteria:

- Distance learning programs are expected to produce the same learning outcomes as comparable classroom-based programs. These learning outcomes are clearly identified - in terms of knowledge, skills, or credentials -- in course and program materials.
- All aspects of the distance learning program are consistent with and shaped to achieve the demonstrable learning outcomes.
- The means chosen for assessing student learning are appropriate to the content, learning design, technologies, and characteristics of the learners.

Program Evaluation

Principle: The institution evaluates the effectiveness of its distance learning programs and uses the findings to improve the programs and services.

Operational Criteria:

- The institution has a process in place to monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of all aspects of its distance learning programs on a regular basis.
- The evaluation results are used for continuous program improvement.
- Program evaluation procedures include a determination that distance learning programs result in learning outcomes appropriate to the rigor and breadth of the college degree or certificate awarded.

Determining Time on Task in Distance Education

Discussion: Time on task is the total learning time spent by a student in a college course, including instructional time as well as time spent studying and completing course assignments (e.g., reading, research, writing, individual and group projects.) Regardless of the delivery method or the particular learning activities employed, the amount of learning time in any college course should meet the requirements of Commissioner's Regulation Section 50.1 (o), a total of 45 hours for one semester credit (in conventional classroom education this breaks down into 15 hours of instruction plus 30 hours of student work/study out of class.)

"Instruction" is provided differently in online courses than in classroom-based courses. Despite this difference in methodology and activities, however, the total "learning time" online normally can be measured. Rather than try to distinguish between "in-class" and "outside-class" time for students, the faculty member developing and/or teaching the online course should calculate how much time a student doing satisfactory work would take to complete the work of the course. This includes:

- reading course presentations/ "lectures"
- reading other materials
- participation in online discussions
• doing research
• writing papers or other assignments
• completing all other assignments (e.g. projects)

The total time spent on these tasks should be roughly equal to that spent on comparable tasks in a classroom-based course. Time spent downloading or uploading documents, troubleshooting technical problems or in chat rooms (unless on course assignments such as group projects) should not be counted.

In determining the time on task for an online course, useful information includes:

• the course objectives and expected learning outcomes
• the list of topics in the course outline or syllabus; the textbooks, additional readings, and related education materials (such as software) required
• statements in course materials informing students of the time and/or effort they are expected to devote to the course or individual parts of it
• a listing of the pedagogical tools to be used in the online course, how each will be used, and the expectations for participation (e.g., in an online discussion, how many substantive postings will be required of a student for each week or unit?)

Faculty Requirements

Review Criteria:

- Faculty assigned to the proposed program have college teaching and administrative experiences appropriate to their assignments.
- Faculty in the program have the documented expertise, including the advanced study and licensure appropriate to the field, to teach effectively each course to which they are assigned, in appropriate depth and breadth, and to conduct other faculty responsibilities set forth in the standards.
- The information listed in the Faculty chart(s) (e.g., earned degrees in specific/related disciplines and/or majors, teaching certificates, teacher education experiences in P-12 and/or higher education, scholarly contributions, including local, state, and national presentations and publications in recognized journals in the field of study) demonstrates how program faculty possess the needed expertise and background to teach the assigned courses. Clinical /school experiences alone do not constitute special competence.
- Faculty in education collaborate with arts and sciences faculty to develop curriculum and ensure that teacher preparation and educational leadership candidates are of consistent high quality, equivalent to that of higher education students in other fields.
- Faculty in education collaborate with P-12 teachers and leaders to improve the preparation of P-12 educators in understanding diversity and the issues facing high need schools.
- At least one faculty member teaching in each curriculum at the baccalaureate level holds an earned doctorate either in the discipline or certificate area of the proposed program.
- Faculty members teaching at the graduate level hold earned doctorates or other terminal degrees in the field of the certificate sought. Faculty members teaching at the graduate level without an earned doctorate or other terminal degree in the discipline or the major of the proposed program have significant, widely-recognized special competence in the field in which they teach, as demonstrated through national or international publications, research recognized in the field and other contributions to the advancement of knowledge, professional practice or quality of life. The burden of proof is with the institution to demonstrate the special competence of such individuals.
- The number of full-and part-time faculty members is sufficient to assure the consistent attainment of program objectives with respect to the depth and breadth of instruction, timely offering of all courses needed to complete the program within the appropriate period of time and effective conduct of other academic responsibilities, including:
  - development, implementation and evaluation of curricula
  - ongoing assurance of the integrity of credit
  - quality of teaching and learning
  - academic advising
  - appropriate allocation and use of services and resources
- The Department may calculate, based on the application submitted, whether the faculty are sufficient to meet the standard of a successful program.
- At least 51% of the pedagogical core course sections are taught by full-time faculty unless the institution is eligible for a waiver by:
• Faculty members teach within the following course load limits:
  o for undergraduate courses, 12 or fewer semester hours per semester
  o for graduate courses, 9 or fewer semester hours per semester
  o for a combination of undergraduate and graduate courses, 21 or fewer semester hours per academic year, unless the institution is eligible for a waiver by having a pass rate of greater than 80 percent on the last reported NYSTCE exams and no identified faculty issues in the most recent teacher accreditation report.

• Class size and the methods of instruction are consistently conducive to effective learning and are consistent with the characteristics and needs of the student population. The size of each class is such to assure prompt, continual and substantive feedback on candidate performance during the course and to assure ongoing faculty accessibility to candidates in the course.

• Faculty workloads provide sufficient time for course preparations and for frequent, timely and careful assessments of candidates’ progress, including the development of writing and analytical skills.
  o having an 80% pass rate on the NYSTCE exams and o no identified faculty issues in the most recent accreditation report.

• Faculty members teaching at the certificate and baccalaureate levels hold at least a master’s degree in an appropriate field of study, and have the background for delivering in-depth instruction, curriculum development and program evaluation that informs program and/or teaching improvements.

• Faculty resumes/curricula vitas include all of the following:
  o education
  o degrees/credentials in specific field(s) of study (e.g., licenses or teaching certificates)
  o P-12 teaching and administrative experiences
  o publications/scholarly activity
  o service
  o memberships in professional/academic organizations

• In faculty areas the Department will consider the overall collective education, experiences, research and other evidence to support a new program. For example, available higher education faculty with doctorates in special education are in short supply. The Department would consider approving a graduate level program that does not include a faculty with a doctorate in Special Education if:
  o unsuccessful attempts to hire a doctorate in special education have been documented and are available o faculty with doctorates that have been hired for the program are in closely aligned fields (e.g., Educational Psychology for Special Education).
  o there exists significant practical experience by master-level prepared faculty, such as 10 years of P-12 special education experience and published research, with contributions to the field.

• For proposed programs whose faculty has yet to be hired, a description of the required academic credentials/content specialization and experience is provided and the anticipated hire date is identified.
  o the position description or announcement may be submitted.

Completing the Pedagogical Core Courses Table for Teacher Certification

Completion of the Pedagogical Core Courses Table follows Steps 1-3 in the Application, as follows. For a more detailed explanation on how to complete the table, visit and view the power point walk through on How to Complete the Pedagogical Core Course Table at http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/documents/pedcoreinstruct.pdf

Step 1: In the first four columns, identify each pedagogical course by course number, title, number of credits, whether required (R) or elective (E), and instructor(s)/status (full-time or part-time). See example on Pedagogical Core Courses Table.

Step 2: Use the Certification Area Codes listed in the application to identify the certificate area(s) the program leads to and insert the certificate area number code(s) in the Cert Code column(s). For example, if a program prepares candidates for a certificate in Childhood Education (Grades 1-6) and Students with Disabilities in Early Childhood and Childhood, mark 02 and 06 in the Cert Code columns. See example on Pedagogical Core Courses Table.

Go to the following website: http://www.highered.nysed.gov/ocue/aipr/PedagogicalCore.html for general and program-specific pedagogical core requirements. Click the title for the certification area(s) the program is designed to lead to, in this example Cert Code 02, Childhood Education, and Cert Code 06, Students with Disabilities Early Childhood and Childhood.

Step 3: Identify the general and program-specific pedagogical core requirements addressed by the course and insert the Roman numerals corresponding to the requirements in the appropriate columns (see example below).

The general and program-specific requirements can be found by clicking on the link to each certification area.

(a) The department shall conduct a registration review in the event that fewer than 80 percent of the students who have satisfactorily completed the institution's program preparing school building leaders during a given academic year and have also completed the examination required for a school building leadership certificate pass such examination. For purposes of this clause, students who have satisfactorily completed the institution's program shall mean students who have met each educational requirement of the program, excluding any institutional requirements that the students pass the required examination for a school building leader certificate in order to complete the program. Students satisfactorily meeting each educational requirement may include students who earn a degree or students who complete each educational requirement without earning a degree. For determining this percentage, the department shall consider the performance on each certification examination of those students completing an examination not more than five years before the end of the academic year in which the program is completed or not later than the September 30th following the end of such academic year, academic year defined as July 1st through June 30th, and shall consider only the highest score of individuals taking a test more than once.

If the department approves the plan, the department shall define a timeframe for its implementation and shall assess the effectiveness of the plan within three years of initiation of the plan. If the department does not approve the plan or determines that the institution is not meeting the terms of the plan, and determines that the institution is not meeting the other requirements of this Part, the institution shall be subject to denial of re-registration.

This course enables students to become informed consumers of educational research and community based data in order to develop skills that prepare them to carry out action research in their schools that will inform decision-making. An emphasis is placed on providing students with knowledge that they can apply in determining whether particular research findings are relevant to their leadership practices and to distinguish between trustworthy and non-trustworthy research. Throughout the course, students identify the elements that scientifically-based research and action research share. Emphasis is placed on how research can become a vital and relevant tool for school leaders.
EDU 814 Data and the Environment covers the Program Specific Pedagogical Core Requirements ii, iii, vi, and x for School Building Leader Certification and e and g for School District Business Leader Certification.
