1. AM I REQUIRED TO HAVE A MEAL PLAN?
All first year, visiting and transfer students living in Brittany, Founders, Goddard, Lipton, Rubin, and Weinstein Halls — also known as “traditional style residence halls” — must begin each semester with a minimum of 225 meals, therefore they must purchase the 225 Flex plan or higher. All first year, visiting and transfer students living in apartment style residence halls must begin each semester with a minimum of 120 meals and must purchase the 120 Flex plan or higher. All first year, visiting and transfer students in the School of Engineering who live in Brooklyn residence halls are required to register for the 120 Flex plan. All upperclassmen living in Othmer are required to be on the BRKLYN 50 Flex plan or higher.

2. HOW AM I CHARGED FOR MY MEAL PLAN?
All Dining Charges appear on the students Bursar account in 24-48 hours after a purchase has been made. When a student signs up after the beginning of a semester, the plan and charges are prorated for the remainder of that semester. Charges and refunds for all meal plans (flex plans and Dining Dollars included) are calculated on a daily basis. Charges begin on the activation date, not when the students begin using their plan.

3. CAN I CHANGE OR CANCEL MY MEAL PLAN?
Meal plan changes and cancellations may only be made via mealplans.nyu.edu prior to the Fall and Spring deadlines September 18, 2018 and February 5, 2019.

Any unused meals expire at the end of each semester at 4pm. For active meal plan members, unused Dining Dollars carry over from fall to spring semester but expire at the end of the spring semester. The meal plan participant must maintain an active meal plan in the spring semester in order to receive the unused fall dining dollars.

Dining Dollars can be used only for purchases in NYU Dining Halls. Campus Cash can be used at a variety of locations, including the bookstore, laundry services, as well as all NYU Dining locations.
