Being@NYU

A benchmark to measure our progress in advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion
Background

NYU is committed to building a culture that respects and embraces diversity, inclusion, and equity, believing that these values—in all their forms—are, as President Andrew Hamilton said, “not only important to cherish for their own sake, but because they are also vital for advancing knowledge, sparking innovation, and creating sustainable communities. They should be indispensable elements of an NYU education on all of our campuses. A diverse population encounters and appreciates all perspectives of an issue with a wealth of different approaches to confront it. The result is a higher quality of debate, and a more excellent and advanced academic enterprise.”
Overview

► Open to NYU students, faculty, administrators, and staff
► Fall 2017
► Voluntary
► Anonymous
► Multiple formats
► 15 – 20 minutes
► Focus on results
Content

► Affiliation and demographics
► Personal experiences and perceptions of the climate in the past year, in relation to the living/learning/working environment
► Institutional actions related to climate
Phases

- Spring 2017: Focus groups
- Spring 2017: Development
- Summer 2017: IRB application
- Fall 2017: Assessment
- Spring 2018: Results
Your support

Goal = maximum participation rate
Incentives!
Please take the assessment, spread the word, and give the working group your ideas about how to promote Being@NYU amongst students, faculty, administrators, and staff.
Thank you

► Suggestions?
► Questions?
► being@nyu.edu