Report on Security and Safety at NYU Global Academic Centers A1

Report on Security and Fire Safety at the NYU School of Medicine. B1

Message from the President

Dear Member of the NYU Community:

The safety of our students, faculty, staff, and visitors is a top priority for New York University. We are dedicated to maintaining a campus environment where academic excellence can be achieved unburdened by fears for our personal well-being. Our most important resource in this effort is our public safety personnel. We are fortunate to have a large and well-trained corps of security professionals—our public safety officers—to whom we can confidently turn to for all types of emergencies.

Our Public Safety Department is led by Jules Martin, a former three-star chief of the New York City Police Department who is supported by a management team that includes several senior law enforcement professionals. Under his leadership, more than 350 full-time officers and personnel operate 24/7 as the first-line protectors of the NYU community. Through an extensive training regimen, our officers are kept abreast of best practices in the security field, enabling them to identify any issues that could impact the well being of the NYU community. Our Public Safety officers also offer orientation and education programs to the members of our community to ensure their safety as they navigate our campus and the city.

Our Public Safety officers are an ever present force on our campus, but we are fortunate that our city is protected by the greatest police department in the world—the New York Police Department. It is widely recognized that there is no finer law enforcement organization and, through its efforts, crime has been dramatically reduced in New York City in recent years to levels not seen in decades. The NYU community is one of the beneficiaries of this major achievement and our own neighborhood is among the safest in America's safest large city. The NYU Public Safety Department enjoys a strong partnership with the New York Police Department that extends from the local precinct commanders to the highest level of the senior ranks at NYPD headquarters.

The diligence of our Public Safety officers was put on display last fall when Superstorm Sandy left Lower Manhattan, including much of the NYU campus, without power. Public Safety officers worked tirelessly with University staff and volunteers to minimize inconveniences and ensure that NYU remained a safe and secure environment throughout the emergency.

We all know that the world can be an uncertain place—the memory of 9/11 is never far from our hearts. But I am proud that NYU has a long and exemplary history of maintaining highest standards through its public safety resources and its relationships with law enforcement agencies. We remain committed to protecting the safety of the students, faculty, staff, and all those who visit our campus.

Message from the Vice President for the Department of Public Safety

New York University Department of Public Safety has a clear and unambiguous mission: to create a safe and secure environment for students, faculty, staff and visitors across our Global Network University. To meet or exceed expectations, we provide a number of programs supported by a diverse team of dedicated and highly experienced security professionals. The department consists of approximately 330 uniform officers led by a team that brings a wealth of multi-disciplinary experience from both the public and private sectors.

While we have an outstanding security staff, we cannot do it alone. We have built a strong and strategic partnership with federal, state and local law enforcement agencies that are highly responsive to the needs across our global network. Although we are part of the greater Greenwich Village community, we provide a visible presence in and around the campus as uniform officers are seen on post, on patrol or traveling to and from their assignments.

It is well known that New York City continues to be one of the safest large cities in the United States. New York University is located in Greenwich Village, one of the safest neighborhoods in NYC. New York City Police Department statistics have shown a 43.5% reduction in serious crime over the last 12 years in the areas where NYU has facilities, and the commitment to maintain a safe presence continues.

This past October, Superstorm Sandy had an unprecedented impact on areas of the NYC metropolitan area. Lower Manhattan, including the NYU campus, lost power in many buildings. Other challenges ensued. But Public Safety, working tirelessly with University administrators, staff and volunteers, successfully minimized inconveniences, and maintained a safe and secure environment for the resident students and employees who remained in university housing during and immediately after the storm.

The following highlights some of the programs designed to achieve our mission, vision, and security goals:

NYU is truly a Global University. With 16 portal campuses or global study abroad sites on nearly every continent, and additional program affiliations worldwide, the role of Public Safety has progressed beyond the Washington Square campus. Abu Dhabi is currently preparing to transition from its interim site to a new campus on Saadiyat Island in early 2014, with the opening of their campus in the Fall of 2014. NYU Public Safety has played a significant role in the design of the security infrastructure and development of the Public Safety staffing needs. The past academic year also marked the first year for NYU's sites in Washington, D.C., and Australia. As NYU expands its global footprint, NYU Public Safety continues to assess security and strategies of every site to meet the needs and demands of an ever-changing landscape.

Campus Safety Training. The recent tragedies at Sandy Hook Elementary schools and at the Boston Marathon reflect the senseless violence that can occur without notice. To better prepare the University community to recognize and address potential disruptive behaviors, Public Safety is developing a series of training initiatives.

Emergency Notifications continues to be a top priority at NYU. Public Safety has the ability to notify our community in a matter of minutes. The system is tested at least once each semester.

Each year, more than 4,000 NYU students, faculty, and staff travel abroad for NYU-sponsored programs on six continents. NYU has implemented NYU Traveler, a web-based application that provides the NYU community with a secure means of entering and updating travel itineraries, contact numbers, and flight or other transportation information. NYU Traveler also provides authorized University personnel with up-to-date information enabling them to locate and contact students, faculty, and staff abroad in the event of an emergency.

Campus Transportation. During the past academic year, we successfully transported over 650,000 student faculty, staff, and visitors within the borough of Manhattan. Our University transportation services consist of scheduled routes from early morning until night, and on-call "safe rides" during late-night hours. This was the third year of the University's relationship with Academy Bus, LLC, which provides transportation services, including a new web-based GPS system where individuals can see in real time the location of any NYU bus or Safe Ride van. As we have done in the past, we will continue to assess ridership trends and customer feedback to determine route adjustments.

Safety in The City. The department has created educational programs and materials on current safety issues, and also highlight good security practices to keep students out of harm's way.

Allaying parent's concerns about the safety of their children is a priority as well. A parent's fact sheet covering several commonly asked questions is available on the NYU Department of Public Safety website: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/be-safe/public-safety/crime-prevention.html>.

Jules A. Martin

Department of Public Safety

Message from the NYC Police Department Commissioner

Through the hard work and conscientiousness of the men and women of the New York Police Department, New York City is not only the greatest city in the world but the safest large city in the U.S. Thanks to the NYPD's dedicated and innovative policing, New Yorkers — whether long-time residents, students in our colleges and universities, or visitors passing through on holiday or on business — today enjoy a level of safety that has not been experienced for decades.

Like the city it serves, the NYPD is both local and global in scope. While maintaining a vigorous approach to the traditional emphases, modes, and techniques of law enforcement, we have since 2001 also taken on tasks not previously associated with municipal policing, including the creation of intelligence and counter-terrorism capabilities. Our global initiatives enable us to be pro-active in gathering information and implementing new measures to keep our city safe. We believe the efforts undertaken by the NYPD since 2001 are in the forefront of shaping police practices to address 21st century challenges without sacrificing on our traditional law enforcement priorities; the result is a city in which both traditional crime remains low and new threats to safety are evaluated and confronted before they reach our streets.

Regardless of whether the focus is on the traditional or the transformational, safety and security is most effective when there is a robust partnership between citizens, government agencies, and private institutions. In New York, we have forged especially effective partnerships with the public safety departments of our city's colleges and universities, many of which are led by former senior police officials. Their officers act as important and additional trained eyes and ears, and they make a significant contribution to both the emergency readiness of our city and in keeping our city and its citizens safe. Our colleges and universities are among the institutions of which New York is most proud; they are magnets for the human talent that keeps New York vigorous and innovative. As Commissioner, I am strongly committed to providing effective police services to all communities in our city. New York is blessed with the finest, most admired, and most emulated police department in the world, and I am determined to build upon and expand this Department's existing achievements in reducing crime and enhancing personal safety. At the New York Police Department, we consider it a special trust and sacred duty to keep all the residents of this great city safe.

Commissioner

Report on Security and Fire Safety at New York University

Security and Safety at NYU

Colleges and universities are required by the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act) and the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) to publish and distribute an annual security and fire safety report containing (i) campus security and student residence fire safety policies and procedures and (ii) campus crime and fire statistics. In the 2013-2014 Campus Security and Fire Safety report which follows, the term “campus” will include all NYU facilities (on-campus and non-campus). The crime statistics on page 7 of this report are broken down into the categories of “on campus,” “non-campus,” and “public property.”

Security for New York University is provided by the NYU Department of Public Safety (Public Safety), in cooperation with the New York City Police Department (NYPD). Under the leadership of the Vice President for Global Security and Crisis Management, Public Safety comprises a security staff of 350 members, of which over 330 are uniformed officers and supervisors, and management personnel. The department operates 24 hours a day, serving 75 on-campus and non-campus locations providing vehicular and foot patrols, emergency response, building security, and safe rides.

Public Safety officers have the same authority on University property as all owners of property, which allows for reasonable detention of individuals suspected of criminal activity. When not on University property, Public Safety officers have no authority beyond that of private citizens; they use citizen arrest procedures as necessary.

Public Safety maintains a professional relationship with local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. Public Safety personnel work closely with the NYPD in the following Manhattan precincts: the Fifth (Lower East Side), the Sixth (Greenwich Village), the Ninth (Broadway to the East River), the Tenth (West Side), the Thirteenth (East Side), and the Seventeenth (Upper East Side), all locations of NYU facilities. While there is no formal memorandum of understanding between NYU and the NYPD, regular communication takes place between members of Public Safety and individual precincts, borough command, specialized units and the Office of the Police Commissioner.

NYU's main campus at Washington Square is located in Greenwich Village, which historically has been one of New York's lowest-crime neighborhoods. In recent years, NYU has initiated a wide range of measures to expand its safety and protection services for the benefit of all members of the NYU community — students, faculty and staff. The security services provided by NYU include:

- Mobile patrol
- Foot patrols by NYU security officers to monitor routes traveled by students in the evening
- A Victim Assistance Program assisting students who are victims of relationship violence, sexual assault, stalking and other crimes
- Orientation programs including safety seminars, crime prevention pamphlets and brochures
- University Transportation between Washington Square and outlying residence halls, College of Dentistry and School of Medicine
- Overnight on demand safety rides and safety escorts
- Safe Haven Program that includes New York Fire Department houses
- Awareness programs
- Special events teams

The Department of Public Safety Web page (<http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/be-safe/public-safety.html>) includes safety tips and other useful information.

Reporting Procedures

New York University students, staff and faculty are urged to promptly report all crimes and emergency situations in which they are a victim or a witness (whether occurring on campus or off campus) to Public Safety and to the police. Public Safety offers support and assistance to any victim or witness. Reporting incidents to Public Safety will aid in providing timely warning notices to the community, when appropriate and will enable inclusion of reported incidents in the annual disclosure of crime statistics.

Crimes may also be reported to any campus security authority, who are University officials with significant responsibility for student and campus activities. Campus security authorities include senior staff members in Residence Life, Student Affairs, Student Activities, Athletics, Community Standards and each of the individual colleges within the University. All Resident Assistants (RAs), athletic team coaches and advisors to student clubs and organizations are also included in this classification. Crimes reported to any campus security authority are communicated to Public Safety. Professional mental health counselors and pastoral counselors acting in such capacity are excluded from the requirement to report crimes communicated to them to Public Safety; however, NYU encourages individuals acting in these capacities, when they believe it appropriate, to inform the person being counseled of procedures to report crimes on a voluntary, confidential basis for inclusion in the crime log and the annual security report.

Victims of, or witnesses to, a crime who do not want to pursue action within the University system or the criminal justice system may still want to consider making a confidential report. With the permission of a victim or witness, Public Safety can file an internal report of the details of the incident without revealing the victim's or witness' identity. The purpose of a confidential report is to comply with the desire to keep the matter confidential, while taking steps to ensure the future safety of the victim and others. With such information, the University can keep an accurate record of the number of incidents involving students, employees and visitors; determine where there is a pattern of crime with regard to a particular location, method, or assailant; and alert the campus community to potential danger. Reports filed in this manner are counted and disclosed in the annual crime statistics.

NYU makes every effort to facilitate the reporting of crimes. Reports can be filed with Public Safety 24 hours a day, seven days a week by going to the command center or by calling 212-998-2222.

When reports are received, the following actions are taken:

- Victims are referred to the appropriate offices/agencies on and off campus, including law enforcement, counseling, health/medical services and judicial affairs.
- The University does not have a written policy encouraging pastoral and professional mental health counselors to inform persons about reporting crimes. However, such individuals do alert students of the

NYU Wellness Exchange

- x 39999 (on campus phones)
- 212-443-9999 (non-campus phones)

NYU's Wellness Exchange provides a single point of access to the University's many programs and services that are available to address the varied health and mental health needs of students. The Wellness Exchange can be contacted 24 hours a day, seven days a week by dialing 999 from any New York City campus phone or 212-443-9999 from other phones.

Students can find contact information and more at the Wellness

Exchange's Web site at www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/wellness-exchange.html. By contacting the Wellness Exchange, students can be put in touch with the most appropriate of a wide range of professionals to help them address day-to-day challenges as well as any other crises they may encounter, including depression, sexual assault, anxiety, alcohol or drug dependence, sexually transmitted infections, and eating disorders. The Wellness Exchange also is available for students who just need to talk or are concerned about a friend.

University Transportation

When classes are in session during the fall and spring semesters, the NYU Department of Public Safety provides safe, free and dependable transportation seven days a week, 24 hours a day, to and from NYU facilities.

Scheduled route service operates from 7 am to 12 midnight on weekdays and from 10 am to 12 midnight on weekends. Schedule information is available online at www.nyu.edu/public.safety/transportation/ and real time bus locations are available online at: www.nyu.edu/nyutransport.

Safe Ride is a shared ride/on-demand van service that is available to provide overnight transportation each day from the time that scheduled route service concludes until it resumes on the following morning. The vans operate from 12 midnight to 6:30 am on weekdays and from 12 midnight to 9:30 am on weekends. Passengers should call the Department of Public Safety office at 212-992-VANS (8267) if they are in need of transportation during the noted hours. A Safe Ride van, operated by Academy Bus LLC, will be dispatched to provide transportation to and from NYU facilities. Wait time for a van to arrive may be longer than usual during peak request periods.

Transportation Schedule

Passengers are advised to consult the announcements section on the real time bus locator system for information on service changes that occur on short notice at www.nyu.edu/nyutransport or with the NYU Mobile smartphone app. Information on planned schedule changes on holidays and exam periods is available on the University Transportation website. Service is not provided during semester breaks, and limited service on Route E only is provided during the two summer semesters.

- All riders and drivers must obey the rules and regulations of New York University and the Department of Public Safety. Violators will be subject to disciplinary action.
- A valid NYU ID is required to board any University Transportation Services vehicle. Passes are available for guests from residence hall managers, from the Department of Public Safety main command center.
- Passengers are asked not to eat or drink while on board any of the vehicles.
- Vehicles will pick up and discharge passengers only at designated bus stops.
- Drivers are not permitted to allow passengers to board after the door has been closed at a bus stop. This rule is for our passengers' safety.
- Departure times as listed within all timetables are approximate, and due to New York City traffic congestion, trips may be delayed. Please plan your trip accordingly and allow for sufficient time when riding University Transportation vehicles. Our passengers' patience is appreciated when delays occur, and Public Safety apologizes for any such delays that passengers may encounter.
- Feedback forms for complaints or compliments are available online at www.nyu.edu/public.safety/transportation/.

services provided by Public Safety including assistance in navigating the criminal justice system if they choose to report the incident.

- Incident reports concerning students are promptly sent to Student Affairs, Office of Community Standards, Residential Life, University Health Center, Counseling Services, and Deans of Students of the individual schools, as appropriate.
- Incident reports concerning staff and faculty are sent to appropriate administrative or academic departments for review and follow-up.
- Public Safety distributes information on campus crime to the University community through the campus media. In the event of the commission of a serious crime or report of a crime pattern or trend either on or off campus, such as robbery or assault, Public Safety promptly distributes electronic “Safety Alerts” to campus security authorities, Residence Life staff and other administrators for posting in conspicuous locations.
- NYU uses the information from incident reports to improve its campus protection program and shares the information with the proper law enforcement authorities and University personnel. For example,
- Public Safety analyzes the reports, compiles crime statistics, and develops strategies to reduce criminal incidents and enhance preventive measures.
- The Public Affairs Committee of the University Senate (representing faculty, administrators and students) is charged with reviewing annually the activities of Public Safety, the adequacy of current crime prevention programs, and policies for responding to victims of crime.
- Staff from the Offices of Student Affairs, Residential Education, Health Services and Public Safety regularly meet to discuss campus safety issues and to develop related crime prevention programs, safety workshops, and posters.
- Local police agencies are requested to report to Public Safety any criminal activity involving NYU students or personnel at off-campus locations.

Crime Definitions

The following definitions are to be used for reporting the crimes listed in 34 CFR sec. 668.46 (previously 668.47) in accordance with the Federal Bureau of Investigation’s Uniform Crime Reporting Program. The definitions for murder, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, motor vehicle theft, weapon law violations, drug abuse violations and liquor law violations are excerpted from the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook. The definitions of forcible and nonforcible sex offenses are excerpted from the National Incident-Based Reporting System Edition of the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook.

Arson

Any willful or malicious burning or attempt to burn, with or without intent to defraud, a dwelling house, public building, motor vehicle or aircraft, personal property of another, etc.

Criminal Homicide-Manslaughter by Negligence

The killing of another person through gross negligence.

Criminal Homicide-Murder and Nonnegligent Manslaughter

The willful (non-negligent) killing of one human being by another.

Aggravated Assault

An unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe or aggravated bodily injury. This type of assault usually is accompanied by the use of a weapon or by means likely to produce death or great bodily harm. (It is not necessary that injury result from an aggravated assault when a gun, knife, or other weapon is used which could and probably would result in serious personal injury if the crime were successfully completed.) This category also includes cases when the offender is aware that he or she is infected with a deadly disease and deliberately attempts to infect another with that disease by biting, spitting, or some other method.

Burglary

The unlawful entry of a structure to commit a felony or a theft. For reporting purposes this definition includes: unlawful entry with intent to commit a larceny or felony; breaking and entering with intent to commit a larceny; housebreaking; safecracking; and all attempts to commit any of the aforementioned.

Motor Vehicle Theft

The theft or attempted theft of a motor vehicle. (Classify as motor vehicle theft all cases where automobiles are taken by persons not having lawful access even though the vehicles are later abandoned including joyriding.)

Weapon Law Violations

The violation of laws or ordinances dealing with weapon offenses, regulatory in nature, such as: manufacture, sale, or possession of deadly weapons; carrying deadly weapons, concealed or openly; furnishing deadly weapons to minors; aliens possessing deadly weapons; and all attempts to commit any of the aforementioned.

Drug Abuse Violations

Violations of State and local laws relating to the unlawful possession, sale, use, growing, manufacturing, and making of narcotic drugs. The relevant substances include: opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine); marijuana; synthetic narcotics (demerol, methadones); and dangerous nonnarcotic drugs (barbituates, benzedrine).

Liquor Law Violations

The violation of laws or ordinances prohibiting: the manufacture, sale, transporting, furnishing, possessing of intoxicating liquor; maintaining unlawful drinking places; bootlegging; operating a still; furnishing liquor to a minor or intemperate person; using a vehicle for illegal transportation of liquor; drinking on a train or public conveyance; and all attempts to commit any of the aforementioned. (Drunkenness and driving under the influence are not included in this definition.)

Sex Offenses

A) Sex Offenses-Forcible

Any sexual act directed against another person, forcibly and/or against that person’s will; or not forcibly or against the person’s will where the victim is incapable of giving consent.

1. Forcible Rape-The carnal knowledge of a person, forcibly and/or against that person’s will; or not forcibly or against the person’s will where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity (or because of his/her youth). New definition January 2012 - The penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.”
2. Forcible Sodomy-Oral or anal sexual intercourse with another person, forcibly and/or against that person’s will; or not forcibly against the person’s will where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her youth or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity.

3. Sexual Assault With An Object-The use of an object or instrument to unlawfully penetrate, however slightly, the genital or anal opening of the body of another person, forcibly and/or against that person’s will; or not forcibly or against the person’s will where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her youth or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental or physical incapacity.

4. Forcible Fondling-The touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, forcibly and/or against that person’s will; or, not forcibly or against the person’s will where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her youth or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity

B) Sex Offenses-Nonforcible (Unlawful, nonforcible sexual intercourse).

1. Incest-Nonforcible sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.
2. Statutory Rape-Nonforcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

Bias or Hate (definition for the purpose of inclusion in Clery report)

A crime involving bodily injury where the victim was intentionally selected on the basis of actual or perceived race, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, gender identity, national origin or disability.

Under the Violence Against Women act signed into law by President Obama on March 7, 2013, institutions are required to compile statistics for the additional crimes of domestic violence, dating violence and stalking which are reported to campus law enforcement, local police agencies or campus security authorities. These are expected to become a part of the October 1, 2014 annual report.

Dating violence

The term “dating violence” means violence committed by a person—

- (A) who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim; and
- (B) where the existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on a consideration of the following factors:
 - (i) The length of the relationship.
 - (ii) The type of relationship.
 - (iii) The frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

Domestic violence

The term “domestic violence” includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence committed by a current or former spouse of the victim, by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, by a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse, by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction receiving grant monies, or by any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person’s acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction.

Stalking

The term “stalking” means engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to— (A) fear for his or her safety or the safety of others; or (B) suffer substantial emotional distress.

Campus Facilities and Programs

NYU takes very seriously its responsibilities for the safety of its residence halls, classrooms, and other facilities. Services provided include card readers for access control at residence halls and various academic facilities; call waiting at residence hall security desks so that calls will be received by security personnel; video surveillance systems in various outdoor and indoor locations, including residence hall lobbies; panic alarm buttons in common rest rooms; emergency call boxes located near NYU facilities; an expansion of the number of buildings with 24-hour security officers; secure bicycle parking area behind Tisch Hall; and an electronic card access system for off hour access into certain academic buildings and facilities.

Residence Halls

All undergraduate residence halls are staffed with an NYU security officer at the front desk on a 24 hour a day basis. Graduate residence halls have either a doorman or 24-hour security patrol/coverage. No one is allowed into the residence halls unless he/she is a resident, guest or otherwise authorized visitor. Most of the residence halls utilize a turnstile system tied into the University access control system allowing all resident students access by using their identification card and PIN number. Commuter students must be accompanied by the resident student and the commuter student ID card is swiped in conjunction with the resident student card for tracking purposes. All other guests must be in the presence of the resident student. The guest produces a photo ID which is either state issued or from another college or university. The ID is retained by the security officer until the guest is signed out by the host. All persons seeking entry, including staff and faculty, are checked for proper identification.

Guests in buildings must identify themselves and be announced. Residents must respond to the lobby to accept deliveries. Graduate students residing in residence halls with doormen may use a package room for deliveries or must approve deliveries to their doors.

NYU does not have any officially recognized student organizations that have housing facilities “off campus.” If the NYPD is contacted about criminal activity occurring off campus involving NYU students, NYPD may notify Public Safety. However, there is no official NYPD policy requiring such notification. Students in these cases may be subject to arrest by the NYPD and to University student disciplinary proceedings.

Classrooms

Security officers are stationed in the lobby of most classroom buildings to monitor persons entering the building.

Other University Facilities

NYU security officers are posted in the Bobst Library and Coles Sports Center during all operating hours of these facilities. All persons entering these facilities are checked for proper identification and/or memberships. In addition, Public Safety maintains security officers in and around academic and administrative buildings. Video surveillance systems are located throughout campus buildings.

Maintenance of Campus Facilities

Facilities are maintained in a manner that minimizes hazardous conditions. Public Safety personnel regularly patrol the campus and report malfunctioning lights and other unsafe physical conditions to the Public Safety Command Center, where an incident report is prepared. Incident reports are then routed to the appropriate building personnel for corrective action. NYU Facilities and Construction Management maintain a work order system where members of the University community can be email problems and the appropriate maintenance personnel are dispatched to correct the condition.

Defibrillator Action Response Team (DART)

Public Safety, in conjunction with the NYU Student Health Center, has established a Defibrillator Action Response Team (DART). DART is a public access defibrillation program designed to make automated external defibrillators (AEDs) readily accessible to the NYU community as a preventive tool, with the potential for saving lives in cases of sudden cardiac arrest. The program comprises 29 individual defibrillation units strategically located throughout University facilities, covering from as far south as Lafayette Street to as far north as 24th Street. Public Safety continually trains its members to meet American Red Cross certification standards that are valid for two years. Further information may be obtained from the Public Safety training manager at 212-998-1458.

Student Property Identification Program

Public Safety encourages NYU students to mark their personal property to make illegal sale more difficult and the recovery of valuables easier. Methods for students to protect their property are discussed, as part of student orientations and crime prevention programs. During 2012, Public Safety and the NYPD collaborated on 7 Operation ID sessions where small electronic equipment including smart phones, iPods and laptop computers were tagged using infra red technology and registered with the police.

Missing Student Policy

Scope of this Policy

This Policy applies to all New York University ("NYU" or "the University") students, whether or not they reside on an NYU campus or in NYU housing.

Policy Statement

It is the policy of NYU, through the collaboration of the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of Public Safety, to investigate any report of a missing student who is enrolled and attending classes at NYU. This policy, with its accompanying procedures, establishes a framework for cooperation among members of the University community aimed at locating and assisting students who are reported missing.

A student will be deemed missing when he or she is reported absent from the University at any of its campuses or global sites without any known reason. All reports of missing students must be directed to NYU's Office of Public Safety at 212-998-2222, which will investigate each report and make a determination whether the student is missing in accordance with this policy.

Each student has the option to identify a confidential contact person or persons who will be notified within 24 hours in the event that a determination is made by NYU Public Safety that the student is missing. This contact information may be added through "Albert", the portal to NYU's student information system. Only authorized campus officials and law enforcement officers in furtherance of a missing person investigation may have access to this information.

If a missing student is under 18 years of age, and not an emancipated individual, the University will notify a custodial parent or guardian of the missing student not later than 24 hours after the determination by NYU Public Safety that the student is missing.

NYU Public Safety will contact local police and other law enforcement agencies no later than 24 hours after it determines that any student is missing.

There are a variety of University student housing options and staffing patterns. Much of NYU student housing is configured for apartment-style living, and there is no formal procedure or prescribed timelines for monitoring whether students are present in their assigned student housing. Student welfare and safety is paramount to the University; however, the University recognizes and makes known its limitations in obtaining accurate and timely information on the whereabouts of students.

The Office of Student Affairs shall have the responsibility to make the provisions of this policy and the procedures set forth below available to students.

Procedures

Any report of a missing student, from whatever source, must immediately be directed to NYU Public Safety. When a student is reported missing NYU Public Safety will:

- initiate an investigation to determine the validity of the missing person report;
- inform the Office of Student Affairs;
- make a determination as to the status of the missing student;

- notify local police or other appropriate law enforcement agencies within 24 hours of making the determination that the student is missing.

Upon determining the student is missing and upon notification by NYU Public Safety, the Office of Student Affairs will:

- notify the person(s) identified by the missing student as the confidential contact within 24 hours of making the determination that the student is missing;
- if the missing student is under the age of 18, and not an emancipated individual, notify the student's custodial parent or guardian as contained in the records of the University within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing;
- inform other University units, such as the school in which the student is enrolled, as needed; and
- initiate whatever other action is deemed appropriate under the circumstances to be in the best interest of the missing student.
- The Office of Student Affairs shall initiate whatever action is deemed appropriate under the circumstances to be in the best interest of the missing student.

Student Contact Information:

In addition to having the option to identify a "confidential contact person" as provided in this policy, all students will complete a Contact Information Form upon enrollment at NYU. It is the responsibility of the student to regularly update any changes to their contact information.

Student Notification of This Policy:

- Included on NYU Student Affairs and Public Safety web pages and on the NYU Policy database website.
- Included in student and parent enrollment communications.
- Discussed during beginning semester, mandatory housing meetings.
- Included in the annual Campus Security Report.

Crime Awareness and Prevention Programs

NYU students are educated about safety as soon as they arrive on campus. During Welcome Week, resident students attend floor meetings on the first night they move in to receive information about good security practices in and around the campus. Additional information can be found on the following link: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/be-safe/public-safety/crime-prevention.html>, including locations of University buildings with 24-hour security, locations of call boxes and 911 telephones, a description of the 24-hour safe haven program for students, and maps showing University buildings. General safety tips regarding safety on-campus, security in the residence halls, navigating the city and being "street-wise" in New York City, and utilizing the NYU and city transportation systems. Specific safety information on how to avoid being a victim of con games, cults and sexual assault is also included.

A compelling orientation session for incoming students, entitled "The Reality Show," addresses issues such as sexual assault, bias and harassment, and general safety. A variety of other safety and security related workshops also are offered for students during Welcome Week including sessions such as "Safety in the City" and "On the Go—Traveling Safe in NYC."

"Safety in the City" workshops are also offered to incoming students during accepted student programs during the summer and to international and transfer students.

In addition to programs for incoming students, safety information is provided to students throughout the year in the following ways:

- General information and tips for being safe on campus and in New York City are presented on-line by the Department of Public Safety at: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/be-safe/public-safety/crime-prevention.html>
- Updates concerning specific safety related matters on the NYU campus, in the local community, and in relation to events in New York City are issued on the University website at: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/info-alerts.html>
- Special reports on campus safety are included in NYU Today, a University newsletter published monthly during the academic year.
- Articles about crime and safety on campus are published in the student newspaper The Washington Square News.
- A daily crime log is available on the NYU Public Safety webpage <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/be-safe/public-safety/crime-reports-statistics.html> or at the Public Safety command center which is open 24 hours a day, 365 days per year. The information contained in the crime log reflects criminal incidents reported to Public Safety, including the nature of the incident, dates occurred and reported, time occurred, general location and disposition. The privacy of victim and assailant information is protected by never revealing information that can lead to their identities.
- "Safety Alerts" are distributed as necessary to inform the community about safety-related issues, risk-reducing precautions, and sources of help and additional information.
- Safety brochures are available through the Department of Public Safety.
- Throughout the academic year, Peer Educators affiliated with the Student Health Center, Wellness Services, and the Center for Multicultural Education and Programs facilitate educational workshops for students in the residence halls, student organizations, and other University offices. Peer Educators undergo a training program on issues related to the topic of sexual assault such as rape culture, consent in sexually intimate relationships, date rape drugs, and how to help a friend who has been sexually assaulted. Peer Educators present factual information and stimulate non-judgmental conversation on the topic of sexual assault.
- Workshops including topics covering "Safety in the City", "Safety Tips for City Living", and "On The Go in NYC" are facilitated by the Department of Public Safety. In 2012, 19 programs were presented with the majority conducted for freshman, transfer and student orientations.
- Various NYU offices and student organizations co-sponsor annual awareness events through the academic year such as "Sexual Assault Awareness Week" and the Clothesline Project. In 2012, the Department of Residential Life offered 29 alcohol awareness programs, and 26 drug awareness programs. The Office of Health Promotion in the Student Health Center provided 15 programs on bystander intervention including sexual assault and harassment and 19 programs related to alcohol and substance abuse.
- Public Safety also offers training on safety-related topics for faculty and staff. Resident Assistants receive initial training from Public Safety officials on Clery Act requirements, role of Public Safety officers and other related topics during their orientation each summer and on an on-going basis.

- Resident Assistants receive first responder training related to a variety of potential crisis situations, including but not limited to, building evacuation, sexual assault intervention, and bias intervention.
- Sessions on security and transportation matters are held for staff from the Division of Students Affairs and Public Safety
- NYU Rape Crisis Intervention Team Members, including representatives from the academic units, University Health Center, University Counseling Service, Public Safety, Residential Education, Housing, Student Resource Center, Student Affairs, Athletics, and University Administration, have received training in how to assist victims of sexual assault and domestic violence from staff from various local rape crisis programs and agencies.
- Public Safety has a designated “Special Victims Liaison” who is specially trained in working with crime victims and whose responsibilities include investigating harassments and sexual assaults, maintaining relationships with other University departments, and assisting victims of sexual assaults as a liaison to law enforcement agencies.

Safe Haven Program

Through the cooperation of local merchants and services in the communities where NYU facilities are located, members of the University community can enter designated establishments at any time and request to use a telephone to contact Public Safety or the NYPD. These locations prominently display an NYU Safe Haven sticker on their windows. A listing by neighborhoods appears on page 10.

Alcohol and Drug Use

The issue of safety touches on many other areas of campus and city life, among them the use and sale of illegal drugs, underage drinking, and abuse of alcohol. New York University is committed not only to educating students on issues concerning alcohol and drug use but also to responding to behavior that is in violation of the University's Policies on Substance Abuse and Alcoholic Beverages. Detailed information about the University's policies and procedures regarding the use/abuse of alcohol and other drugs by students and the University's response within the wellness and conduct paradigms can be found on-line at <http://www.nyu.edu/life/student-life/student-communitystandards/university-student-conduct-policies.html>. University employees are urged to contact their Human Resources representative and/or the HR Web site (<http://www.nyu.edu/about/working-at-nyu.html>) for specific information regarding applicability of the alcohol and other substance abuse policy to employees.

Bias and Harassment Prevention

New York University is committed to maintaining a learning and working environment that is free of bias, prejudice, and harassment. Harassment based upon race, gender, color, religion, age, national origin, ethnicity, disability, veteran or military status, sexual orientation, gender expression, marital status, citizenship status, or any other legally protected basis is prohibited by law and undermines the character and purpose of the University. Such actions are illegal and against University policy, and will not be tolerated.

A bias-related crime occurs when a person intentionally commits a specified criminal offense against a person because of that person's actual/ perceived race, color, national origin, ancestry, gender, religion, religious practice, age, disability or sexual orientation. Examples of a bias-related conduct include but are not limited to physical or verbal assaults, theft, arson, electronic harassment, and hate mail. A bias-related incident does not have to meet the legal definition of a hate crime before NYU will take action under its own conduct policies.

It is the responsibility of all members of the NYU community to report incidents of sexual assault or a bias-related incident or crime. If you are the victim of a sexual assault or bias-related incident or if you have witnessed such an assault or incident, you should report the incident immediately to the NYU Department of Public Safety. The Department of Public Safety can be reached 24 hours a day, 7 days a week at 212-998-2222.

Filing a report with the NYU Department of Public Safety may not automatically initiate the disciplinary process at NYU. The appropriate person with whom a complaint should be filed depends on the status of the offender. For further information regarding where to report bias or harassment, contact the Director of the Office of Equal Opportunity at 212-998-2352 or the Director of Community Standards and Compliance at 212-998-4403.

Sexual Assault and other Sex Offenses on Campus

New York University is committed not only to providing broad-based education on the issues of sexual assault and harassment but also to pursuing disciplinary action against those who violate the rights of others by engaging in sexual misconduct. Detailed information about the University's policies and procedures regarding sexual assault and harassment can be found in this document.

Campus Security Report Preparation

This report has been prepared by a task force of University professionals from Public Safety, the Office of General Counsel, the Office of Government and Community Relations and the Division of Student Affairs. This group meets throughout the year to discuss security and safety issues and review existing policies. In addition, Public Safety meets consistently with the local precincts to discuss safety in the area and data that is included in this report.

Sex Offender Registry Information — New York “Megan’s Law”

Information regarding a registered sex offender can be obtained by calling the New York State Sex Offender Registry Information Line at 1-800-262-3257 or on-line at <http://www.criminaljustice.ny.gov/nsor/>. Callers must be 18 years old and must provide their name, address, and telephone number in order to request information. The Information Line is open Monday-Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. To learn the status of an individual, callers must provide the individual's name and at least one of the following identifiers: the individual's street address and apartment number, driver's license number, social security number, or birth date. A physical description is helpful but is not required. To use the on-line link, the person inquiring must provide his/her name and address to access information about the registered sex offenders. Nationwide information is available at: <http://www.nsopw.gov/?AspxAutoDetectCookieSupport=1>

Emergency Preparations

NYU's emergency plans for ensuring the safety of students on campus were vigorously tested during Hurricane Sandy. Since that event, NYU has undertaken additional measures to further strengthen its communication protocols and emergency infrastructure, particularly addressing extended power outages—the primary issue for the University during the storm. Significant investments have been made to expand the number of residential buildings with emergency power and install additional emergency lighting. For a full list of the improvements the University has undertaken since Hurricane Sandy, go to <http://www.nyu.edu/content/dam/nyu/publicAffairs/documents/PDF/Final-Hurricane-Sandy-Report-to-the-Community-07-01-13.pdf>

While New York City is one of the safest large cities in America and incidences of violence on campus are exceedingly rare, ensuring the safety of our community requires us to be prepared for a wide range of potential emergencies, including active shooter events. The University, working with NYPD and other experts, developed training on how to spot and prevent potential violence on campus, as well as how to react if a violent situation does occur. Additionally, an ongoing campaign of safety awareness tips has been developed with a recurring schedule of distribution, along with a website (nyu.edu/besafe) where a wide range of safety information and additional resources have been consolidated for ease of access and reference.

Emergency Response and Evacuation Policy Statement:

NYU has an operational plan for responding to campus emergencies that details the roles and responsibilities of the senior leadership of the University during a declared emergency.

There are four classes of emergencies at NYU:

- Routine: Declaration of a Routine Incident means that an unplanned event or off-normal condition, such as a student injury, a small lab chemical spill, or a very small trashcan fire that was immediately brought under control and caused no damage, has occurred. The incident may or may not require a time urgent response from outside the immediate facility or area of the incident. This event may involve a potential reduction in the safety or security of a particular facility or group.
- Developing Incident/Community Alert: Declaration of a Developing Incident/Community Alert means that an event is in progress or has occurred which involves an actual or potential reduction in the safety, health, or security of the campus with actual or potential direct harm to people, facilities, or the environment. The incident has the potential to develop beyond an isolated incident and/or a community alert, such as an approaching storm, incidents with physical injury, or riots. This incident may be an actual or potential release of hazardous materials or a fire not yet under control.
- Immediate Threat: Declaration of an Immediate Threat means that an event has occurred, or is occurring, which involves actual or likely major failures of security, health, or safety functions, which have, or will, result in direct harm and/or damage to the NYU community, several campus facilities, public health and safety, and the environment. This could include a large chemical spill, a large fire causing significant damage, serious injury and/or deaths, or an event that disrupts sizable portions of campus property and/or the NYU community.

- Campus Wide Emergency: Declaration of a Campus Wide Emergency means that an event has occurred, or is occurring, which involves actual or imminent major failures of security, health, or safety functions that have resulted in substantial, direct harm/damage to the NYU community; many, if not all campus facilities; the general public, health and safety, and the environment. For example, this could include incidents amounting to a disaster or catastrophe, a massive campus wide evacuation due to severe weather conditions, or a medical epidemic that is affecting the entire university and/or surrounding community.

Determination of Emergency Level.

The Public Safety Command Center serves as the central information intake point. The Center is staffed with supervisory personnel on a 24/7 basis and receives radio and telephone notifications regarding emergencies at the NYC campus as well as all of the Study Abroad and international sites; similar to a municipal 911 system. The Vice President of Global Security and Crisis Management, along with the Senior Vice Provost for Student Affairs, the Executive Vice President-Operations, and the Vice President of Public Affairs, determines the level of emergency and any additional resources that may be needed to mitigate the emergency.

Evacuation of the New York University Campus.

NYU is an urban university situated primarily within Greenwich Village, but which also extends to portions of southern and northern Manhattan. The NYU campus is defined by buildings without the traditional fences, entrance gates, etc. In the event of a campus wide emergency (which could also be a city or region-wide emergency), NYU would rely heavily on directions from the New York City emergency first responders, which is coordinated by the Office of Emergency Management during declared emergencies. The University has the capacity to evacuate any and all buildings when necessary.

Emergency Notification and Communication System.

NYU, through its' Department of Public Safety, maintains and operates a web based mass communication system. Students are automatically enrolled when they register for classes. In the event of an emergency, the message delivery is primarily via e-mail and SMS/text messaging to cell phones can also be via voice message to traditional phones. The messages are initiated on the advice of a Public Safety tour commander, or senior Public Safety management staff member. The Vice President of Global Security and Crisis Management, in consultation with Senior University officials or their designees, is responsible for message content and directing the sending of the message. A test of the Emergency Notification and Communication System is conducted once a semester. Tests for Academic Year 2013-2014 are planned for September and February. Messages alerting the University community can also be found on the nyu.edu home page under <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/info-alerts.html> and recorded messages by calling 212-998-1220. Messages are updated regularly when a University alert is active.

NYU Department of Public Safety Statistical Report

Crime Statistics Reporting

The statistics are gathered by three methods:

1. Reviewing the daily incidents reported to the Department of Public Safety.
2. Designated campus security authorities report incidents that may have been reported to them.
3. Crime information is frequently gathered from local law enforcement authorities.

The reported statistics are a combination of all three methods listed above.

Reporting Areas

The University reports incidents for its “on-campus” and “non-campus” facilities and is also required to report crimes that occur on “public property.” For NYU, an urban university with no walls around its campus, this poses the challenge of reporting crime incidents when, in most cases, these incidents are not on University property and do not involve members of the NYU community.

This Campus Security report contains maps that shows the “campus” and “non-campus” areas (as defined by the Higher Education Amendments of 1998), with charts reporting “campus,” “non-campus,” and “public property” areas crime statistics. Residence Halls located on campus and in non-campus locations are further drilled down in those respective categories.

On-Campus NYU’s on-campus properties include NYU facilities that fall within the borderline of the On-Campus map in this report. These facilities are owned and controlled by the University and are used primarily for supporting the University’s educational purposes..

Non-Campus NYU’s non-campus properties include NYU facilities that are owned or controlled by the University, primarily used for University purposes, but which are not located in the immediate on-campus area. These facilities include academic, residence halls, and administrative buildings in New York City outside of Greenwich Village.

Public Property This category includes all streets, sidewalks, and thoroughfares adjacent to on-campus facilities. For NYU, this means including the sidewalks and streets that are traveled by thousands of New York City residents and tourists every day as well as Washington Square Park, a public park that is visited by thousands of people each day. NYU shares a responsibility for safety in all of these public places but does not have jurisdiction over them. While this expanded area of reporting has produced greater numbers in NYU’s statistical reporting, only a very small percentage involves members of the NYU community.

FOOTNOTES

In 2010, there were three criminal mischief incidents involving graffiti of a religious bias nature (2 in an off campus mixed-use building and 1 in an on-campus academic building) and one harassment bias-related incident in a non-campus residence hall involving harassment of a student.

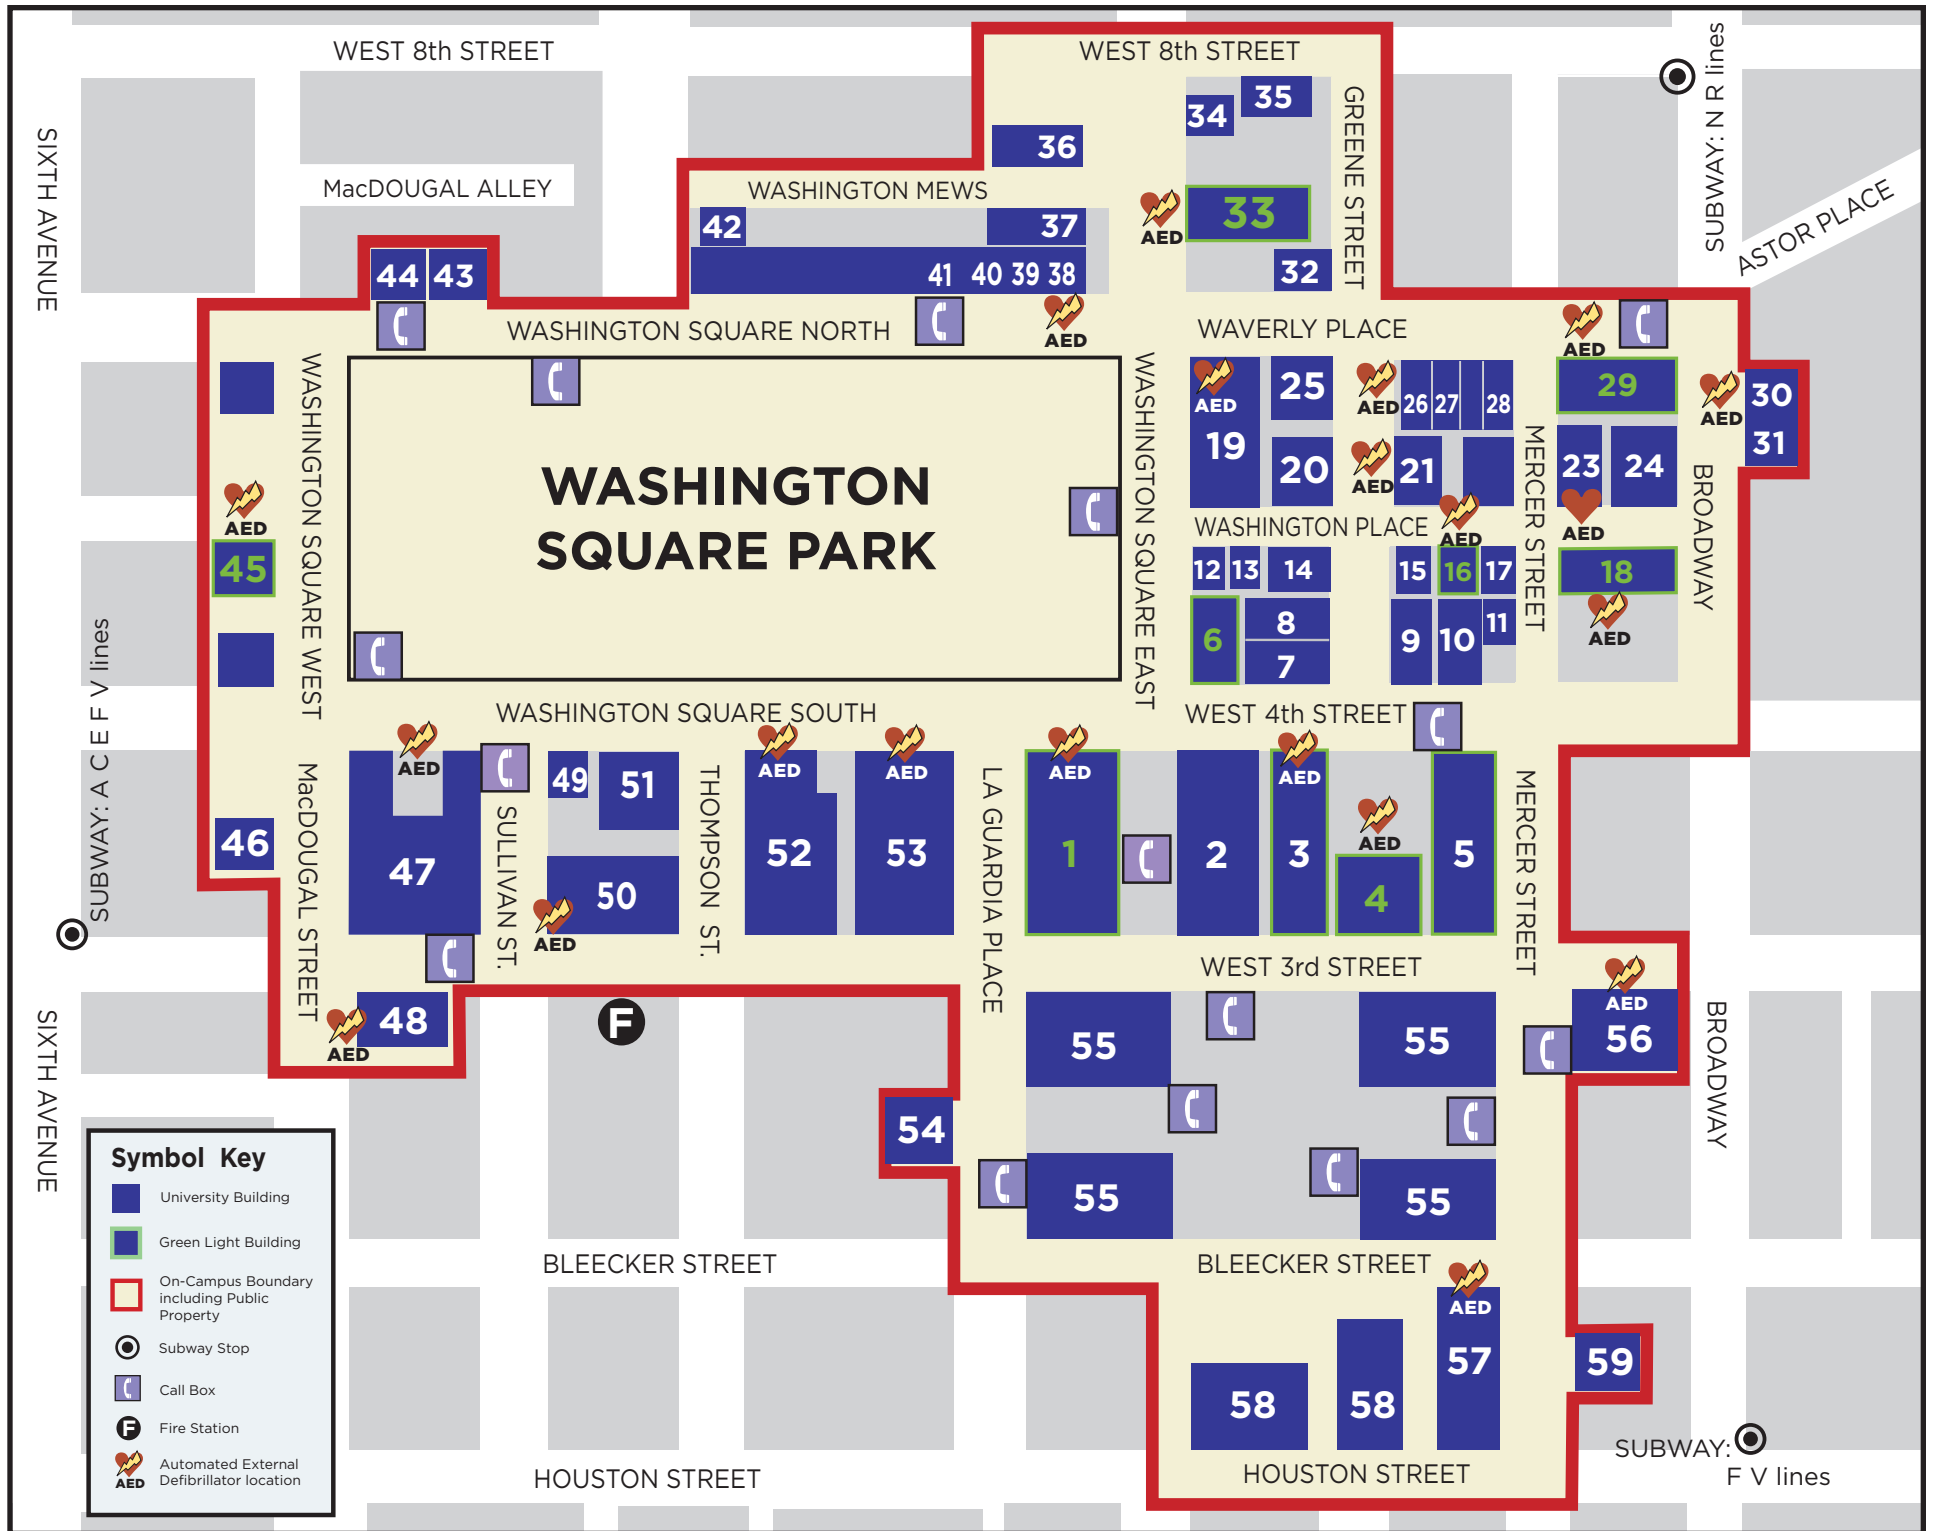

In 2011, there were five bias related incidents — 3 harassment (1 each for ethnic, race and religion occurring in non-campus residence halls) and 2 criminal mischief-graffiti (for sexual orientation; 1 in non-campus residence hall and 1 on campus).

In 2012, there were seven bias-related incidents — 6 in non-campus residence halls (4 criminal mischief for ethnicity, 1 harassment for race, 1 harassment for sexual preference) and 1 on-campus (harassment for ethnicity).

At the Singapore campus, there were no bias-related incidents for 2010, 2011 or 2012.

Included in this report are incidents reported to law enforcement agencies and communicated to Public Safety.

Safety Tips

- Travel on streets where there is pedestrian traffic.
- If possible, use the buddy system — walk with a friend.
- Use campus transportation. For schedules and information, visit www.nyu.edu/public.safety/transportation/.
- Be alert to your surroundings. BEWARE and BE AWARE.
- Carry money for emergencies (cab fare, quarters for phone calls).
- Use cash machines during daylight hours whenever possible.
- Avoid counting your money or displaying money on the street.
- Keep your knapsack tightly closed. In restaurants, keep your bag on your lap or where you can see it at all times.
- Always keep your valuables with you.
- Always lock your door whether leaving a room, office or home, even for a minute.
- When traveling by subway, stay near MTA personnel whether waiting or riding. Use Off-Hour Waiting Areas.
- Refrain from using smart phones and tablets while on station platforms or onboard trains.
- Before going on a date, know your date's name, address, and contact phone number. Leave that information with someone you trust. If possible, have a roommate or other friend meet a first-time date when they pick you up; otherwise meet in a public place. If sexual interaction on a date makes you uncomfortable, clearly state this to your date and remove yourself from the situation. If you are assaulted, find a safe place from which to call 911 or call NYU Department of Public Safety 24 hours a day at 212-998-2222.
- Program cell phone to 911 and 212-998-2222.

Annual Fire Safety Report

2013-2014

The Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, requires academic institutions to produce an annual report that outlines annual on-campus student housing fire-related statistics, fire safety policies and procedures. Since the majority of New York University's student housing is located off campus, all student residences are included. New York University publishes this information as part of the Annual Campus Security and Fire Safety Report every October 1st. This report is available to all students, faculty, staff and our community on the Public Safety website:<http://nyu.edu/life/safety-healthandwellness/public-safety/crime-reports-statistics.html>.

Definitions

Fire: Any instance of open flame or other burning in a place not intended to contain the burning or burning in an uncontrolled manner.

Fire Drill: A supervised and scheduled orderly evacuation of faculty, students and staff from a facility for the purpose of ensuring the safety of occupants during an actual emergency. Fire Drills are conducted at various times throughout the year to provide occupants familiarization with a facility's fire safety features and avenues of egress.

Fire Log: A bound log intended to chronologically record any occurrence of fire within an on-campus student housing facility. The log shall record the time and date that a fire occurred, as well as the general location and nature of the fire. The most recent seven (7) days of recordings must be readily available for review. The most recent sixty (60) days of recordings must be available for review within two (2) business days of the request.

Fire-related death: Any death occurring as a direct result of a fire occurring in an on-campus student housing facility, including any individual who dies within one (1) year of such incident.

Fire-related injury: Any injury sustained as a direct result of a fire occurring in an on-campus housing facility which as a result requires medical treatment at a medical facility.

Fire Safety system: Any devices, systems or combinations of systems designed and intended to detect fire, activate alarms, suppress or control fires. Such systems may include smoke detectors, heat detectors, sprinklers or other similar systems.

Sprinklered Building: A building in which all parts including dwelling units, common areas, refuse chutes and utility rooms are protected by an automatic wet sprinkler system.

Partially Sprinklered Building: Buildings in which only select areas are protected by an automatic wet sprinkler system.

Smoke Detector: A device intended to sound an audible alarm upon sensing products of combustion. A smoke detector may also activate a visible signal and may sound locally or transmit a signal to a central station.

Property Loss: Any damage to the structure and contents of an on campus housing facility as a direct result of an occurrence of a fire therein. Included in any assessment shall be any damage resulting from fire suppression efforts. resulting from fire suppression efforts.

Annual Fire Statistics

See Appendix A: On Campus Student Housing Annual Fire Statistics, page 12

See Appendix B: On Campus Student Housing Fire Safety Systems, page 12

Fire Protection Equipment

All of New York University student housing facilities are equipped with automatic fire detection and alarm systems. The equipment is continually monitored by Public Safety, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Health and Safety Inspections

Facilities Management and the New York City Fire Department inspect every building once a year. Residential life staff conducts room inspections on an annual basis to ensure students are complying with on-campus fire policies.

New York University Fire Policies for On-Campus Student Housing

Portable electrical appliances

Electric heaters, air conditioners, hot plate burners and Halogen lighting equipment are prohibited in residence halls.

Smoking

Smoking is prohibited in all areas of all University residence halls. Smoking devices, including, but not limited to, pipes, bongs, and hookahs, are not permitted in the residence halls.

Open Flame

Candles, incense, outdoor grills, or any other type of open flame or open coil device are prohibited in all University Residence Halls.

Policies for Education and Program

Students are educated on the Fire Safety Plan for their residence and New York University Safety Plans within the first ten days of each semester. This training is done by the Resident Assistant. NYU believes it is extremely important that residents familiarize themselves and their guests with all applicable fire safety procedures in their assigned building. Residents who fail to comply fully with applicable fire safety procedures, or who otherwise violate rules and regulations related to fire safety, will be subject to disciplinary action. Students who fail to abide by building emergency evacuation procedures will be subject to disciplinary action. In general, residents are expected to maintain reasonable standards of cleanliness to avoid fire hazards, and must not obstruct sidewalks, entrances, passages, fire escapes, elevators, lobbies, stairways, corridors or halls with personal property. The following items are prohibited in the residence halls and will be confiscated:

- Flammable decorations
- Natural or artificial evergreens
- Electric heaters, air conditioners, hot plate burners
- Halogen lighting equipment
- Candles, incense, outdoor grills, or any other type of open flame or open coil device
- Explosives, fireworks, firearms, or ammunition

Students found in possession of prohibited

Student Housing Evacuation and Drills

Residents receive residence hall specific information about fire safety and evacuation procedures at the beginning of each term from their RA or Residence Hall Director. Each semester the Office of Student Affairs in conjunction with Public Safety and Engineering and Safety conduct fire drills.

The following evacuation procedures are posted on the back of all apartment entry doors.

IN THE EVENT OF A FIRE, REMAIN CALM. NOTIFY THE FIRE DEPARTMENT AND FOLLOW THE DIRECTIONS OF FIRE DEPARTMENT PERSONNEL. IF YOU MUST TAKE IMMEDIATE ACTION, USE YOUR JUDGMENT AS TO THE SAFEST COURSE OF ACTION, GUIDED BY THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

If The Fire Is In Your Apartment

- Close the door to the room where the fire is located and leave the apartment.
- Make sure EVERYONE leaves the apartment with you.
- Take your keys.
- Close the entrance door as you exit, but do not lock.
- Alert people on your floor by knocking on doors on your way to the exit.
- Use the nearest stairway to leave the building.
- DO NOT USE THE ELEVATOR
- Call 911 once you reach a safe location. Do not assume the fire has been reported unless firefighters are on the scene.
- Meet the members of your household at a pre-determined location outside the building. Notify responding emergency personnel if anyone is unaccounted for.

If The Fire Is Not In Your Apartment

- Feel your apartment door and doorknob with the back of your hand. If they are not hot, open the door slightly to check if there is any flame or smoke in the hallway.
- Exit your apartment and the building if you can do so safely, following the instructions for a "fire in your apartment."
- If the hallway or stairway is not safe for egress because of flame, heat or heavy smoke conditions and you have access to a fire escape, use it to exit the building. Always proceed cautiously when on a fire escape.
- If you cannot use the stairs or a fire escape, call 911 or the Fire Department Dispatcher and inform them of your situation. Provide the address, floor, apartment number and the number of persons present.
- Seal the front door with wet sheets or towels. Seal air ducts and any other openings where smoke may enter.
- Open windows a few inches at the top and bottom unless flames or smoke is coming from below.
- Do not break any windows; they may need to be closed later.
- If conditions in the apartment appear life threatening, open a window and wave a bedsheet or towel side-to-side to attract the attention of firefighters.
- If smoke conditions worsen before help arrives, get down on the floor and take short breaths through your nose. If possible retreat to a balcony or terrace away from the source of the flames, heat or smoke.

items or who fail to evacuate during a drill or emergency are subject to disciplinary action and referral to a fire safety education workshop.

Plans for Future Improvements

New York University is committed to ensuring that all on-campus housing is fully sprinklered. In 2005, a campaign was launched to install fire sprinklers in all the residence halls. We anticipate being complete in 2017. Fire Safety is continually assessed to ensure compliance with all regulatory agencies and opportunities for improvement.

APPENDIX C

Residence Hall Director Fire Safety Responsibilities

Each Hall Director shall be familiar with:

- the Fire Safety Plan
- the types and locations of the exits
- the location and operation of the fire alarm system and manual pull stations
- the types and uses of fire extinguishers.

This should be accomplished as follows:

A. Each Hall Director shall have participated in the mandatory training session for professional staff conducted by the Associate Director of Crisis Intervention and Wellness Response. Any Hall Director joining the staff mid-year is required to meet personally with the Assistant Director of Crisis Intervention and Wellness Response to receive this training.

B. The Hall Director should, prior to the start of the fall semester, or within a week of his/her assuming the position, participate in a tour of the building with the engineer or facility manager for that building. The purpose of this building tour is to become familiar with the nature and location of the fire safety systems in that building, including (as applicable depending upon the building) the type and function of the alarm in that facility, fire panel, pull boxes, sprinkler system, fire extinguishers, exit routes, and other equipment.

Each Hall Director shall have prepared his/her building for a fire safety emergency by doing the following:

A. The Hall Director must provide an in-building fire safety training session for his/her RA staff in which the staff members are informed of their role and responsibilities related to fire safety.

B. The Hall Director must coordinate with the Residential Life and Housing Services Offices to ensure that each resident is provided with a fire safety plan upon moving into that building.

C. The Hall Director must ensure that each RA conducts a floor meeting within the first 10 days of each semester. Residents should be able to identify their primary fire safety exit as well as a secondary exit in the event that the primary exit is blocked or unusable due to smoke or fire.

D. The Hall Director must ensure that each RA has identified and informed residents of the pre-determined location where members of the floor should meet in the event of a building evacuation.

E. The Facilities Staff must ensure that the building alarms are tested on a regular basis.

F. The Hall Director must supervise building fire drills as scheduled.

G. The Hall Director must establish a designated meeting place for the RA staff to convene in the event of a building evacuation and/or emergency situation. In the event of an actual emergency, the Hall Director should exercise his/her best judgment to evaluate if the designated location is in a safe area, and move the group if necessary.

H. The Hall Director must ensure that the list of students with disabilities (permanent and temporary) in the building is up-to-date and maintained at the station of the Security Officer. In the case of those buildings in which there is no Security Officer, a modified list including the name, room location, and phone number of each student with a disability requiring evacuation assistance should be provided to each RA. Hall Directors are responsible for following the "Fire Safety Procedures for Students with Disabilities."

I. The Hall Director is expected to be attentive and responsive to violations for fire safety related policies or other conditions that may compromise the safety of building residents by taking the appropriate action, including the adjudication of fire safety violations and the reporting of inappropriate conditions to the appropriate personnel.

In the event that an evacuation (initiated by the sounding of the building alarm, by personal decision, or at the direction of the fire department personnel) becomes necessary, the Hall Director should do the following:

A. Coordinate the evacuation of the building in accordance with the guidelines for that particular facility. The Security Officer/supervisors may assist with this process, but it is the Hall Director who assumes primary responsibility.

B. In the event that stairways serving the fire floor and/or rooms above are unusable due to contamination or cut-off by the fire and/or smoke, call 911 or the fire department dispatcher, and inform them of the situation.

C. Meet with the Building Engineer, as appropriate and possible, to determine the origin and nature of the alarm device activated and the circumstances of the evacuation.

D. Review the updated listing of all residents with physical disabilities who cannot use stairs unaided. After the building has been evacuated, ensure that the Security Officer (or RA in those buildings without a Security Officer) has presented the fire department personnel with the list detailing the location (Floor and Room Number) of the person(s) with physical disabilities. See that the "Fire Safety Procedures for Students with Disabilities" are implemented.

E. Go to the designated location for meeting with the other members of the staff. Provide the Security Officers and/or fire department personnel with any information that you may have regarding conditions that prompted the evacuation.

F. After evacuation, to the extent that it is possible to do so, dispatch RAs to periodically proceed to the designated meeting location for their respective floors to speak with floor members and/or perform a head count to determine if all regular occupants known to have been present on the floor have been evacuated.

G. Assist with crowd control outside the building. Make sure that residents are at a safe distance from the building. Dispatch RAs to provide floor residents with information, as appropriate and necessary, regarding the status of the situation.

H. If the fire department has determined that there is no need to evacuate the building, a Security Officer will call each disabled resident to notify him/her of the "all clear" alert." In those buildings without a Security Officer, the RA on duty should place this call. The Hall Director should ensure that these calls, if necessary, have been made.

I. When the fire department has determined that it is safe to re-enter the building, the Hall Director should assume primary responsibility for coordinating that process and assign RAs to assist at the front door to check each resident's ID and verify those students without ID and guests.

APPENDIX D

Resident Assistant Fire Safety Responsibilities

Each Resident Assistant shall be familiar with the Fire Safety Plan, the types and locations of the exits, the location and operation of the fire alarm system and manual pull stations, and types and uses of fire extinguishers.

Each RA shall have participated in a mandatory in-building training module conducted by the Hall Director.

Each Resident Assistant shall have prepared his/her residents for a fire safety emergency by doing the following:

A. Each RA will conduct a meeting within the first 10 days of each semester. Each of these meetings will conclude with a coordinated fire evacuation exercise in which the RA and floor residents walk to each fire exit on the floor. The RA should be prepared to describe the location where the stairway exits the building (i.e. "This stairway exits on to E. 10th Street). Residents should be asked to identify which fire exit is closest to their rooms/suites, as well as identify a secondary exit to be used in the event their primary exit is blocked or unusable due to fire or smoke conditions..

B. Each RA will review fire safety information with any resident who moves onto his/her floor after the opening of the semester.

C. Each RA will provide fire safety information on the bulletin board and/or provide fire safety information to residents in other forms such as written materials or floor programs in accordance with related community development expectations and requirements.

D. Each RA shall notify residents of the pre-determined location where everyone should meet in the event of a building evacuation. In the event of an actual emergency, the RA should exercise his/her own best judgment as to whether the designated location is in a safe and secure area, and move the group to another location if necessary.

E. Each RA is required to report hazardous conditions and/or violations of NYU's fire safety policy to the Residence Hall Director. Such conditions may include disabled fire extinguishers or pull stations, hazardous/prohibited materials in rooms or in hallways, or vandalized or missing fire exit signs. RAs should exercise their own best judgment about other potentially hazardous conditions not listed here.

F. To supplement information obtained by the Hall Director and Residential Life and Housing Office, each RA is expected to report any of his/her floor residents that have a temporary disability (injury, illness, etc) that would affect that resident in the event of a fire safety emergency or evacuation situation, and notify the Hall Director of the name, location, phone number and duration of disability so that this information may be included in the list maintained for this purpose at Security Officer's desk or other location. This may be accomplished through meetings (such as the first meeting at the start of each semester) and/or individual visits with residents. The RA should inform the resident that the Hall Director has been notified of the resident's condition.

In the event that an evacuation (as a function of the sounding of the building alarm, by personal decision, or at the direction of fire department personnel) becomes necessary, the RA shall do the following:

A. Assist in the evacuation of the building in accordance with the guidelines for that particular facility. Should it be necessary to do so, residents will be required to evacuate the building in accordance with the established guidelines. In buildings with alarm systems, residents must evacuate at the sounding of the alarm. In those buildings without alarm systems, the need to evacuate is typically determined by either facilities staff or fire department or other emergency personnel. Evacuation should be via uncontaminated stairs.

B. As the RA evacuates the building, he/she is to knock only on doors that are in his/her path of egress. The RA should not extend their exit route to knock on all room/suite doors or stop on other floors.

C. In the event that stairways are unusable due to contamination or cut-off by fire and/or smoke conditions, call 911 and inform them of your situation and location. Provide your floor number, room number, and number of persons present. Remain in the room with the door closed but not locked. Open windows if outside air is fresh, keep windows closed if outside air is hot or smoke-filled. If smoke or fire is present in the hallway, remain inside room and place wet towels or clothing at the bottom of the door.

or use a cell phone.

- Ask another resident to inform the building staff of his/her location when he/she reaches the lobby.

If the building alarm sounds but the fire is not in his/her room, the disabled resident is to remain in the room but to prepare for an evacuation.

If the building alarm sounds and the student with the disability is in the building but not in his/her room, if he/she has access to a telephone, he/she should contact the lobby desk, Security Officer, or the Main Public Safety office (in that order) to alert building staff of his/her location. (The Hall Director must ensure that each student with a disability has been given these telephone numbers, and should urge the student to program those numbers into his/her cell phone). If there is no access to a telephone and the student is able to proceed to the building lobby, he/she should do so. If there is no access to a telephone and the student is unable to proceed to the building lobby, he/she should wait in the public area for fire department personnel to arrive during the building "sweep."

As soon as they arrive on the scene, fire department personnel will be supplied with the list of all residents with disabilities who require evacuation assistance. (It is the responsibility of the Security Officer to perform this task. In those buildings in which there is no Security Officer, each RA should have been provided with a list of disabled residents who require assistance in evacuating the building. RAs in such buildings should present that list to fire department personnel immediately upon their arrival.

E. After evacuation, to the extent that it is possible to do so, the RA should proceed to the designated meeting location for residents. Speak with floor residents and/ perform a head count to determine whether all regular occupants known to have occupied the floor have evacuated.

F. The RA should go to the designated location for meeting with the other staff members. Provide the Hall Director and/or fire department personnel with any information that he/she may have regarding conditions that prompted the evacuation.

G. Assist with crowd control outside the building. Provide residents with information, as appropriate and necessary, regarding the status of the situation.

H. For buildings where there is not a stationed Security Officer, if the fire department determines there is no need for students with disabilities to evacuate, use the telephone contact list to inform any students with disabilities that they are safe to remain in their rooms.

I. When the fire department has determined that it is safe to re-enter the building, Residential Life staff shall assist the Security Officer at the front door to check each resident's ID and verify those students without IDs and guests.

APPENDIX E

Fire Safety Procedures for Residents with Disabilities

An up-to-date list of all residents who have a disability that would significantly impede his/her ability to evacuate a building in a fire safety emergency is to be established and maintained in each residence hall. This list is to be developed from the following sources of information:

- Office of Residential Life and Housing Services staff are expected to inform each Hall Director of the identity of each resident in his/her building who has so indicated on the application for housing and through the follow-up information gathering process conducted by the Moses Center that he/she has a disability which would significantly impede his/her ability to evacuate a building in a fire safety emergency.
- Resident Assistants are to advise floor residents of the importance of informing building staff if any resident needs assistance to evacuate the building in the event of a fire safety emergency. The RA is to immediately provide that information to the Hall Director who will, in turn, see that the information is included on the list. This includes permanent and temporary disabilities.
- Each Hall Director must devise a means by which the names of residents with temporary disabilities (e.g. illness, accidents, etc) can be placed on the list of disabled students.

The aforementioned list should include the resident's name, nature of disability, room location, and telephone number and is to be placed with the Security Officer in the building lobby. In those buildings in which a Security Officer is not stationed, each building Resident Assistant is to be provided with a modified list which includes the name, room location, and telephone number of each disabled resident who requires evacuation assistance.

It is the responsibility of each Hall Director to meet personally with each resident who has a disability that would impede his/her ability to evacuate the building in the event of a fire safety emergency and advise them of the following protocol/procedures:

Students with disabilities are not expected to immediately evacuate their room at the sounding of the building alarm (if the building has an alarm).

If there is a fire in his/her room, the disabled resident is to:

- Leave the room, close but do not lock the room door.
- Go to a safe location in the hallway.
- Pull the pull-station alarm (if one is available) or call 911 to report a fire condition. The student may have to knock on a neighbor's door which there is no Security Officer, each RA should have been provided with a list of residents with disabilities who require assistance in evacuating the building. RAs in such buildings should present that list to the fire department personnel immediately upon their arrival.)

If there is a need to evacuate, fire department personnel will immediately proceed to the rooms of each student with a disability to assist in the evacuation. Other fire department personnel should conduct a "sweep" of public areas (e.g. laundry, lounges, etc) to ensure that no students with disabilities have been "stranded" in those areas.

During a scheduled fire drill, all students with disabilities should be notified PRIOR TO the drill. Students with disabilities do not need to evacuate during a scheduled drill, and should wait in their rooms. If a student with a disability is in a public area (i.e. lounge, laundry, lab, etc) and contacts the Security Officer or front desk or Hall Director, that student should be informed of the drill situation, and advised to remain in his or her location until the drill is concluded.

It is the responsibility of each Hall Director to ensure that this protocol has been implemented in those buildings for which he/she had administrative responsibility.

New York University

Policy on Sexual Assault, Harassment and Other Forms of Sexual Misconduct

2013-2014

Effective Date: August 15, 2013Issuing Authority: Marc Wais, Office of the Vice President for Student AffairsResponsible Officer: Thomas Grace, Director of Community Standards and CompliancePurpose of Policy:

1. To comply with the requirements of Title IX and the Violence Against Women Act.
2. To define the nature of sexual assault, harassment and other forms of sexual conduct that is prohibited at the University.
3. To set forth the manner in which allegations of sexual misconduct will be addressed at the University.
4. To provide resources for victims and those accused of sexual misconduct.

To Whom the Policy Applies:

This policy applies to all students, administrators, faculty and staff at the University.

I. General Statement:

New York University is committed to maintaining a safe learning environment that is free of acts of violence, harassment and other forms of sexual misconduct that undermine the character and purpose of the University and to creating a campus climate that supports, nurtures, and rewards educational and career advancement on the basis of ability and performance. All students are subject to this policy and also are encouraged to report any incidents of sexual assault or harassment of which they become aware that compromise the well-being of an individual or the University community.

II. Policy Statement:

A. Sexual Assault: Within New York University, sexual assault is defined as a sexual act against the will and without the consent of the victim. While defining effective consent in sexually intimate relationships can be difficult, examples of sexual assault include, but are not limited to:

- Sexual contact with someone whom you reasonably should have known was impaired due to the use of alcohol or other drugs.
- Sexual contact with someone who is “passed out” or sleeping.
- Sexual contact with someone who is unable to say “no” and/or change his/her mind due to the presence of coercion or intimidation.
- Sexual contact with someone who is under the legal age to consent.

B. Sexual Harassment: Within New York University, sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. It includes sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, non-verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- Submission to or rejection of the conduct is either an explicit or implicit term or condition of employment, basis for participation or advancement in an academic program, or basis for participation in a University activity or benefit;
- Such conduct creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive work, academic or residential environment;
- Such conduct otherwise adversely affects employment or academic opportunities.

Examples of sexual harassment include, but are not limited to:

- Verbal abuse or hostile behavior such as insulting, teasing, mocking, degrading or ridiculing another person or group.
- Unwelcome or inappropriate physical contact, comments, questions, advances, jokes, epithets or demands.
- Physical assault or stalking.
- Displays or electronic transmission of derogatory, demeaning or hostile materials.
- Unwillingness to train, evaluate, assist, or work with a student.
- Engaging in behavior that is invasive or disruptive to another student for the purpose of initiating a sexual or romantic relationship with that person.

C. Other Forms of Sexual Misconduct: Other forms (in addition to sexual assault and sexual harassment) of sexual misconduct that compromise the well-being of another student also are subject to review at the University. Examples of such misconduct may include, but are not limited to, actions that are sexually exploitative or degrading, retaliatory and/or abusive acts directed toward former relationship partners, or retaliatory/abusive actions directed toward someone who has rejected the efforts of another to establish a relationship.

III. Consensual Relationships:

Sexual behavior that is welcome or consensual does not constitute sexual harassment. However, consensual sexual relationships in situations where one individual has power or authority over another may result in claims of harassment when the relationship ends and/or may give rise to complaints by others of favoritism while the relationship continues. Examples of such relationships may include: a professor and his/her student, a supervisor and a subordinate, or a coach and team player. If such a consensual relationship occurs, any situation of authority should be discontinued immediately.

IV. Violations of Law:

Behavior which violates the University policy may also violate the laws of the locality in which the incident occurred and subject the perpetrator to criminal prosecution by the presiding authority.

A. Federal:

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (Title IX), 20 U.S.C. §§ 1681 et seq., and its implementing regulations, 34 C.F.R. Part 106, prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex in education programs or activities operated by recipients of Federal financial assistance. <http://www.justice.gov/crt/about/cor/coord/titleix.php>

B. New York State:

Sex Offenses are described in Sections 130.00 to 130.90 of the New York State Penal Code and in Appendix A of this document (page 15). <http://ypdcrime.com/penal.law/article130.htm>

C. Global Academic Centers:

should be aware that they are subject to the laws of that country with regard to what constitutes sexual assault or another sex-based offense.

V. Reporting an Incident of Sexual Assault, Harassment or other Sexual Misconduct:A. New York City Campus:

Victims, or anyone else who is aware of the occurrence of such an incident, are encouraged to report such offenses as soon as possible, whether the incident took place on or off campus, to the NYU Department of Public Safety (212-998-2222), the Title IX Coordinator (212-998-2352) or via the web at: <http://www.nyu.edu/about/policies-guidelines-compliance/equal-opportunity/harassment-and-discrimination/submitcomplaint.html>, a Residence Life and Housing staff member (212-998-4600), the Office of the Dean of Students in his/her school, the Office of Community Standards (212-998-4403), the Student Health Center (212-443-1000) and/or the Wellness Exchange (212-443-9999), or another campus official from the contact list available at <http://www.nyu.edu/content/dam/nyu/equalOpp/documents/OEOcontactlist.pdf>

B. Global Academic Centers:

Students at a global center should report an incident to a campus security officer, a residence hall staff member, the site Wellness Coordinator, or the appropriate Student Affairs administrator:

- NYU Abu Dhabi — Dr. Birgit Pols, Director, Health and Wellness Center, 212-443-1140, birgit.pols@nyu.edu

- NYU Washington, D.C. — Michael Ulrich, Director, 202-654-8310, michael.ulrich@nyu.edu

C. Referral to Police:

A victim of sexual misconduct has the option to report the incident to the appropriate local law enforcement authorities for the purpose of filing a criminal complaint and/or seeking and enforcing a no contact, restraining or similar court order and has the right to be assisted by the University in exercising this option. (In New York: contact the Victims Services Liaison in the Department of Public Safety at 212-998-9829. At a Global Academic Center: contact the office of the site Director). A criminal investigation into an allegation of sexual misconduct does not relieve, or substitute for, the University's duty and authority to conduct its own prompt review of a complaint; the University will not wait for the conclusion of a criminal investigation or proceeding to begin its own investigation and resolution of an alleged violation. Furthermore, because the standards for criminal proceedings differ from those used in campus disciplinary actions, conduct that may not be subject to criminal prosecution or sanctions may still be addressed through the University disciplinary process, and/or a finding of “not guilty” in a criminal case does not preclude a finding of responsibility in a campus disciplinary proceeding for violating University policy. Students are advised to preserve physical evidence to support their complaint in the event they wish to pursue criminal action.

D. Retaliation:

The University will take steps to prevent/address any form of retaliation against the complainant.

E. Specific Rights Afforded to Sexual Assault Complainants: Victims of sexual assault are entitled to specific rights, among them:

- The right to a prompt and equitable investigation and resolution of a complaint.
- The right to file a complaint with the appropriate local law enforcement authorities for the purpose of filing a criminal complaint and/or seeking and enforcing a no contact, restraining or similar court order.
- The right to be assisted by the University in seeking assistance from local law enforcement.
- The right to request and receive a change in his/her living situation if such a change is reasonably available.
- The right to request and receive a change in his/her academic situation if such a change is reasonably available.
- The right to be referred to on- and off-campus counseling, mental health or other student services for victims of sex offenses.
- The right to file a complaint on campus and to avail him/herself of the process for doing so including, but not limited to, the following: adequate, reliable, and impartial investigation of complaints; an equal opportunity to present relevant witnesses and other evidence; an equal opportunity to be accompanied by an adviser (who may be an attorney); an equal opportunity to the appeal processes.

- The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) permits a school to disclose to the student victim information about the sanction imposed upon a student who was found to have engaged in violative behavior when the sanction directly relates to the victim. Furthermore, when the conduct involves allegations of a crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, a postsecondary institution is required to simultaneously provide written notification of the final results of a disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator to both the victim and the alleged perpetrator, regardless of whether the institution concluded that a violation was committed.

VI. Resolution of a Report of Sexual Assault, Harassment or other Sexual Misconduct:

The University will act promptly in response to information that an incident of an assault, harassment or other form of sexual misconduct has occurred. Any conduct that may be in violation of this policy will be investigated and addressed in a timely manner, typically within 60 calendar days.

A. Confidentiality:

If a complainant requests confidentiality or asks that the complaint not be pursued, the University still must take all reasonable steps to investigate and respond to the complaint within the parameters of such a request. If a complainant insists that his or her name or other identifiable information not be disclosed to the alleged perpetrator, the complainant must realize that the University's ability to respond may be limited. When a complainant insists that his or her name or other identifiable information not be revealed, the University must evaluate that request in the context of its responsibility to provide a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students. Thus, the University will weigh the request for confidentiality against the following factors:

- the seriousness of the alleged harassment
- the complainant's age
- whether there have been other complaints about the same individual
- the alleged perpetrators' rights to receive information about the allegations under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 C.F.R. Part 99.15

If the University cannot ensure confidentiality, the complainant will be so informed. If the University cannot take disciplinary action against the alleged perpetrator because the complainant insists on confidentiality, it may pursue other steps to limit the effects of the alleged conduct and prevent its recurrence.

B. Investigation and Resolution:

Step One: Investigation. An investigator will conduct a prompt, thorough and impartial initial investigation of the complaint in the manner he or she deems necessary. The parties to the complaint each will have an opportunity to be heard and will be kept informed of the status of the investigation as deemed appropriate. As circumstances warrant, preliminary administrative actions (e.g. interim suspension, restricted access to campus facilities, no-contact orders, reassignment in University housing, academic modifications, etc.) may be taken to preserve the safety and well-being of those involved and/or the campus community.

Step Two: Informal Resolution: With the consent of the complainant and the alleged perpetrator, and if the University deems the circumstances to warrant doing so, a matter may be resolved through non-disciplinary interventions (e.g., educational, counseling, changes in housing and/or academic accommodations, administrative actions). A complainant has the right, however, to end the informal process at any time and begin a formal student conduct proceeding. Mediation, even on a voluntary basis, is not an appropriate means of resolving a sexual assault complaint.

Step Three: Formal Student Conduct Action (if initiated): Should informal resolution be inappropriate or unattainable, the matter will be referred to the appropriate student conduct process. At NYU, there is no single office that handles all disciplinary cases. An alleged policy violation may be addressed through one of the following jurisdictions:

- If the matter involves students from a single School or College and occurred in the context of an academic activity, disciplinary action is carried out by the faculty and administrators of that School or College through its student conduct process. Information about each School's or College's disciplinary procedures is available online at: <http://www.nyu.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges.html>. Matters involving students from the same School or College but which occurred in the context of an activity that was not sponsored by the School/College may be referred to the Division of Student Affairs if there are inherent University level issues.
- If the matter involves students from more than one School or College, disciplinary action is carried out under the authority of the University Senate, through its designee the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. A description of the University Student Disciplinary Policies and Procedures is located in Section I (The Office of Community Standards: University Disciplinary Policies and Procedures) on the following webpage: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/student-life/student-communitystandards/university-student-conduct-policies.html>
- Student Conduct matters at Global Academic Centers are managed by the site Director. Information about the Student Disciplinary Process for Students Enrolled at Global Academic Centers is located in Section VI (Student Disciplinary Process for Students Enrolled at NYU's Global Academic Centers) on the following webpage: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/student-life/student-communitystandards/the-judicial-process.html>
 - a) Standard of Evidence: The University utilizes a standard of preponderance of the evidence (i.e., it is more likely than not that sexual assault, harassment or another form of sexual misconduct occurred) when reviewing a complaint.

b) Disciplinary Sanctions: The specific sanctions available to the adjudicating body may differ depending on the circumstances of the matter being addressed. In general, however, sanctions imposed upon students determined to have violated this policy can include a range of sanctions including, but not limited to, warning, censure, education/counseling, disciplinary probation, suspension or dismissal from the University.

c) Notification: When the conduct involves allegations of a crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, a postsecondary institution is required to simultaneously provide written notification of the final results of a disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator to both the victim and the alleged perpetrator, regardless of whether the institution concluded that a violation was committed.

VII. Medical and Counseling Resources Available to Victims/Complainants:

Many services, including resources for medical and emotional well-being, are available to victims of sexual assault, harassment and other forms of sexual misconduct whether the incident occurred in New York or at one of the University's Study Away Sites. Contact information and general advice on how to seek assistance for yourself or another person who has been subjected to such behavior can be obtained from one of the offices listed above. Counseling and additional resources are available in Section II (Specific University Policies) on the following webpage: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/student-life/student-communitystandards/university-student-conduct-policies.html>

APPENDIX A

New York State Laws Regarding Sex Offenses

The following is a summary description of sex offenses as they are defined in the New York State Penal Law, Sections 130.00 to 130.90. Sex offenses are ranked (first degree, second degree, etc.), and carry different punishments ranging from a few months imprisonment for misdemeanors, to up to 25 years imprisonment for felonies.

Readers seeking more specific information are urged to consult the New York State Penal Code which is available as a link on the following government website: <http://www.criminaljustice.ny.gov/nsor/>

What constitutes consent?

Consent "Lack of consent" is defined in New York State's Penal Law as occurring in the following circumstances:

- (a) forcible compulsion
- actual physical force
 - the threat of physical force, expressed or implied, that puts the victim in fear of being physically harmed or of another person being physically harmed
 - the imminent threat to kidnap the victim or third person
- (b) physically helpless
- physically unable to indicate a lack of consent (e.g. because the victim is unconscious or because of a physical disability that makes one unable to physically or verbally communicate lack of consent)

(c) under 17 years of age

- if the victim is under 11, or if a person at least 18 (or over) has sex with someone less than 13, this constitutes a 1st degree sexual offense
- if a person 18 or over has sex with someone less than 15, this constitutes a 2nd degree sexual offense
- if a person 21 years old or over has sex with someone less than 17, this constitutes a 3rd degree sexual offense

(d) mentally incapacitated

- When the victim is made temporarily incapable of understanding or controlling his or her conduct (e.g. the victim was given a drug or other intoxicating substance without his or her consent)

(e) mentally disabled

- when a person suffers from a mental illness or condition that renders him or her incapable of understanding the nature of his or her conduct.

(f) inmate

- when a person is literally or physically under the control of others. Some examples are: The victim is an inmate in either a state or city correctional facility, the victim is committed to a psychiatric institution, or the perpetrator is a mental health provider and the victim is her/his client.

(g) some factor other than incapacity to consent

- Rape 3 and criminal sexual act 3 have been modified with a "no means no" clause. In cases of intercourse, oral sexual conduct, or anal sexual conduct, if the victim clearly expressed that he or she did not consent to the sex act in such a way that a reasonable person would have understood those words or acts as expressing lack of consent, this would be prosecutable as Rape in the third degree or criminal sexual act in the third degree.

What constitutes a sexual offense?

If any of the following acts are perpetrated against a victim "without his or her consent," as defined above, it is a crime under the New York State Law:

Sexual Intercourse: the penetration of the penis into the vagina, however slight - in other words, if the penis goes into the vagina just a little, not in its entirety, that is considered completed "sexual intercourse". (There is no requirement of physical injury and there is usually no requirement that ejaculation or orgasm have occurred).

Oral sexual conduct: does not require any penetration and occurs upon contact between penis and mouth, mouth and anus, or mouth and the vulva or vagina..

Anal sexual conduct: conduct between persons consisting of contact between the penis and anus.

Sexual Contact: any touching of the sexual or intimate parts of the body whether over or under clothing:

- between persons not married to each other
- done for the purpose of gratifying the sexual desire of either party
- includes the touching of the victim's sexual or intimate parts by the perpetrator AND the touching of the perpetrator's sexual or intimate parts by the victim

Aggravated Sexual Contact: insertion of a foreign object into the vagina, urethra, penis or rectum. Depending on the precise circumstances, this can constitute a 1st, 2nd, 3rd, or 4th degree sexual offense.

Report on Security and Safety at New York University Global Academic Centers

2013-2014

New York University closely monitors travel advisories issued by the U.S. Department of State as well as other governmental and international agencies and responds appropriately. Public Safety has been granted privileges by the Overseas Security Advisory Council under the U.S. Department of State. These privileges allow for access to in-depth, current information on global affairs. Select members of Public Safety and the Office of Global Programs have access to this information and to key personnel in the U.S. Department of State. Designated staff of each Academic and Research Center abroad remain in contact with the local United States Embassy, as well as local authorities, for guidance on security matters. The staff at each Center are instructed to closely monitor and adhere to both U.S. and local advisories. Similar vigilance from our exchange partner universities is requested. Appropriate announcements are communicated to students via a variety of mechanisms at each site. In addition, security is assessed at all Academic Centers abroad by the Department of Public Safety. While access to facilities and overall security vary from site to site, entry is restricted to individuals holding NYU identification; and outside guests to the Centers are announced.

New York University currently maintains overseas sites in Paris, Florence, Madrid, London, Accra, Berlin, Prague, Buenos Aires, Tel Aviv, Sydney and Shanghai, and a domestic site in Washington, D.C. Crime statistics from these locations are contained in this report and are obtained directly from each site administrator's office. Personnel identified as campus security authorities are trained annually in relation to Clery compliance and incident report preparation. Below is a listing for each site along with contact information:

Due to the cultural differences in each of the countries, students who become the victims of crimes are encouraged to contact the appropriate site staff who will assist in coordination with local law enforcement. In the event of an emergency, law enforcement should be immediately contacted. In the event a crime occurs which necessitates a timely warning, the Academic Center's designated Campus Security Authority, in consultation with the Director of Global Programs and NYU Department of Public Safety, will issue a site-specific Campus Safety Alert to advise community members of the event and potential risks. Security incidents are also documented and sent to the Assistant Director of Public Safety for Crime Prevention, Clery Compliance and Strategic Planning at the NYU New York campus for review and additional consultant with site staff whenever necessary.

POLICIES

All NYU student conduct policies are applicable to the global sites. During orientation, these and other site specific security policies and programs are discussed. Students are encouraged to remain vigilant and be responsible for their personal safety. Students seeking to report or obtain assistance regarding an incident involving one of these policies are advised to contact the appropriate site administrator, as noted above. The academic building of each site is staffed by a security officer who monitors access into the facility. Access into student housing ranges from keys to front doors of apartment buildings to front desk coverage. All problems, comments, and observations can be reported to site administration. Additional information can be found on NYU Global Academic Centers at <http://www.nyu.edu/global/global-academic-centers.html>.

Report on Security and Fire Safety at the New York University School of Medicine

2013-2014

While the policies and procedures presented in the New York University Campus Security Report are for the most part applicable to the New York University School of Medicine, because the School of Medicine has its own administrative infrastructure, there are a few differences in the manner by which those security policies and procedures are implemented at the School of Medicine. These differences are summarized below. For more detailed information, please consult the New York University School of Medicine Student Handbook at <http://school.med.nyu.edu/studentsfaculty/student-affairs/student-resources/student-handbook>. The NYU Clinical Cancer Center on 34th Street is one of the non-campus sites of NYU's School of Medicine.

The NYU School of Medicine campus extends along First Avenue from 30th Street to 34th Street in Manhattan's Kip's Bay neighborhood, which has been categorized by the city police department as a low-crime area. The number of serious crimes occurring on the School of Medicine campus is quite low.

The primary function of the Security Department is to provide the safe and secure environment for all members of the School of Medicine community. In addition to their regular assignments, security staff attend New York State mandated training as well as other in-service training, which includes management of disruptive persons, fire safety, infection control protocols, Bomb Threat protocols, knowledge of the campus, information about the alarm systems and building evacuation. Even though School of Medicine security staff have no authority beyond that of private citizens, they are trained to use citizen arrest procedures as may be necessary.

The Security Department is aided in its tasks by the use of various systems, such as card access, CCTV, and alarm systems. Many entrances and exits, to include high security areas are monitored by either security staff and or closed circuit television equipment which has the capacity to record images. The card access system is integrated with the ID card system so ID cards can provide access to doors when programmed.

More information about safety and security at the School of Medicine can be found by contacting the Security Department at 212-263-5038 or visiting <http://redaf.med.nyu.edu/campus-security>.

Reporting Procedures

All criminal incidents, and requests for assistance should be reported to the Security Department. Victims or witnesses may report crimes on a voluntary and confidential basis. Reports can relate to incidents or emergencies that occur either on or off campus. The Security Department has an Operations Center (which operates around the clock), in which most security systems terminate. This center receives calls for service, monitors alarms and CCTV, and dispatches resources. Incidents or emergencies may be reported there or at any location where a School of Medicine security officer is posted. These locations include residence halls and hospital facilities. If something is sensitive, or egregious you should ask for the security supervisor on duty and report the matter to him. In addition to the Security Department, the following University offices and personnel may be contacted to report crimes:

Medical Education: Associate Dean for Curriculum, Director of Education 212-263-0748.

Human Resources: Vice President of Employee Relations, Employee Relations Manager 212-404-3714.

Once a report is received, it is assessed and investigated by security management personnel. Incidents concerning students are reported to the appropriate Dean for review and follow-up. All accounts are entered into an incident report data base. The department distributes information on campus crime to the School of Medicine community via campus media. Serious crimes, such as robbery and assault, the Security Department issues notifications called "Security Alerts" to the School of Medicine community.

Campus Facilities and Programs

The Facilities of the New York University School of Medicine exist to house or support the mission of the institution: to teach, carry on research, and provide services. The use of certain of these facilities by university and non university groups is permitted under certain conditions. For information on the use of these facilities, contact the Facilities Scheduling office at 212-263-6997 or by visiting <http://redaf.med.nyu.edu/rooms-spaces>.

Residence Halls

Housing for the School of Medicine is administered through the Office of Real Estate and Strategic Capital Initiative. Residential buildings provide a 24-hour security personnel presence and CCTV in sensitive areas. Access into a residential facility is restricted to current students, residents, guests or otherwise authorized visitors. All entrants, including staff and faculty, will be requested to wear and display proper identification.

Classrooms

The School of Medicine provides 24-hour security CCTV coverage in lobbies, entrances and public access ways leading to as well as in and around classroom facilities. Several classroom spaces can only be accessed via card reader.

Wellness Reporting Procedures

While the School of Medicine enforces the policies of the University regarding Alcohol and Substance Abuse and Sexual Assault and Harassment, students at the School of Medicine are encouraged to report problems in these areas to the Security Department, School of Medicine Student Health Services at 212-263-5489 or the School of Medicine Office of Student Affairs at 212-263-6088. Students are also encouraged to make contact with any off-campus resources as necessary.

Student Mistreatment

In addition to the University policies on harassment, assault and bias, the School of Medicine enforces the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) statement on Student Mistreatment. This statement addresses alleged, perceived or real incidents of mistreatment of students based on race, religion, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, physical handicap or age; humiliation, psychological or physical punishment and the use of grading and other forms of assessment in a punitive manner. Further details about this policy are available in the School of Medicine Student Handbook (<http://school.med.nyu.edu/studentsfaculty/student-affairs/student-resources/student-handbook>).

Reporting Areas

On-Campus New York University School of Medicine on-campus properties include facilities that extend from 30th Street to 34th Street, between 1st Avenue and the FDR Drive. These facilities are owned or controlled by the School of Medicine and are used primarily for supporting the University's educational purposes.

Non-Campus The School of Medicine's non-campus properties include facilities that are owned or controlled by the School of Medicine, primarily used for University purposes, but which are not located in the immediate on-campus area.

Public Property This category includes all streets, sidewalks, and thoroughfares adjacent to on-campus facilities.

School of Medicine Annual Fire Safety Report

2013-2014

The Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, requires academic institutions to produce an annual report that outlines annual on-campus student housing fire-related statistics, fire safety policies and procedures. Since the majority of New York University's student housing is located off campus, all student residences are included. New York University publishes this information as part of the Annual Campus Security and Fire Safety Report every October 1st. This report is available to all students, faculty, staff and our community on the Public Safety website: <http://www.nyu.edu/life/safety-health-wellness/public-safety/crime-reports-statistics.html>.

Definitions

Fire: Any instance of open flame or other burning in a place not intended to contain the burning or burning in an uncontrolled manner.

Fire Drill: A supervised and scheduled orderly evacuation of faculty, students and staff from a facility for the purpose of ensuring the safety of occupants during an actual emergency. Fire Drills are conducted at various times throughout the year to provide occupants familiarization with a facility's fire safety features and avenues of egress.

Fire Report: Fire Report: All fire incidents must be reported to the Housing, Security or EH&S as soon as possible. An investigation will be completed and a report issued within 48 hours. A copy of the report details including the time, date, general location, and nature of the fire will be provided within two business days of the request.

Fire-related death: Any death occurring as a direct result of a fire occurring in an on-campus student housing facility, including any individual who dies within one (1) year of such incident.

Fire-related injury: Any injury sustained as a direct result of a fire occurring in an on campus housing facility which as a result requires medical treatment at a medical facility.

Fire Safety system: Any devices, systems or combinations of systems designed and intended to detect fire, activate alarms, suppress or control fires. Such systems may include smoke detectors, heat detectors, sprinklers or other similar systems.

Sprinklered Building: A building in which all parts including dwelling units, common areas, refuse chutes and utility rooms are protected by an automatic wet sprinkler system.

Partially Sprinklered Building: Buildings in which only select areas are protected by an automatic wet sprinkler system.

Smoke Detector: A device intended to sound an audible alarm upon sensing products of combustion. A smoke detector may also activate a visible signal and may sound locally or transmit a signal to a central station.

Property Loss: Any damage to the structure and contents of an on campus housing facility as a direct result of an occurrence of a fire therein. Included in any assessment shall be any damage resulting from fire suppression efforts.

Annual Fire Statistics

See Appendix A: On Campus Student Housing Annual Fire Statistics, page B4

See Appendix B: On Campus Student Housing Fire Safety Systems, page B4

Fire Protection Equipment

All of New York University student housing facilities are equipped with automatic fire detection and alarm systems. The equipment is continually monitored by NYULMC Security, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Health and Safety Inspections

Facilities Management and the New York City Fire Department inspect every building once a year. Housing staff conducts room inspections on an annual basis to ensure students are complying with on-campus fire policies.

New York University Fire Policies for On-Campus Student Housing

Portable electrical appliances

Electric heaters, air conditioners, hot plate burners and Halogen lighting equipment are prohibited in residence halls.

Smoking

Smoking is prohibited in all areas of all University residence halls. Smoking devices, including, but not limited to, pipes, bongs, and hookahs, are not permitted in the residence halls.

Open Flame

Candles, incense, outdoor grills, or any other type of open flame or open coil device are prohibited in all University Residence Halls

Policies for Education and Program

Residents receive residence hall specific information about fire safety and evacuation procedures at the beginning of each term from the Department of Housing. NYU believes it is extremely important that residents familiarize themselves and their guests with all applicable fire safety procedures in their assigned building. Residents who fail to comply fully with applicable fire safety procedures, or who otherwise violate rules and regulations related to fire safety, will be subject to disciplinary action. Students who fail to abide by building emergency evacuation procedures will be subject to disciplinary action. In general, residents are expected to maintain reasonable standards of cleanliness to avoid fire hazards, and must not obstruct sidewalks, entrances, passages, fire escapes, elevators, lobbies, stairways, corridors or halls with personal property. The following items are prohibited in the residence halls and will be confiscated:

- Flammable decorations
- Natural or artificial evergreens
- Electric heaters, air conditioners, hot plate burners
- Halogen lighting equipment
- Candles, incense, outdoor grills, or any other type of open flame or open coil device
- Explosives, fireworks, firearms, or ammunition

Students found in possession of prohibited items or who fail to evacuate during a drill or emergency are subject to disciplinary action and referral to a fire safety education workshop.

Student Housing Evacuation and Drills

Residents receive residence hall specific information about fire safety and evacuation procedures at the beginning of each term from the department of Housing.

The following evacuation procedures are posted on the back of all apartment entry doors.

YOU ARE IN A NON-COMBUSTIBLE (FIREPROOF) BUILDING

If The Fire Is In Your Apartment

- Close the door to the room where the fire is located and leave the apartment.
- Make sure EVERYONE leaves the apartment with you.
- Take your keys.
- Close the entrance door as you exit, but do not lock.
- Alert people on your floor by knocking on doors on your way to the exit.
- Use the nearest stairway to leave the building.
- DO NOT USE THE ELEVATOR
- Call 911 once you reach a safe location. Do not assume the fire has been reported unless firefighters are on the scene.
- Meet the members of your household at a pre-determined location outside the building. Notify responding emergency personnel if anyone is unaccounted for.

If The Fire Is Not In Your Apartment

- Stay inside your apartment and listen for instructions from firefighters, unless conditions become dangerous.
- If you must exit your apartment, first feel your apartment door and doorknob with the back of your hand. If they are not hot, open the door slightly to check if there is any flame or smoke in the hallway.
- If you can safely exit your apartment, follow the instructions for a "fire in your apartment."
- If you cannot safely exit your apartment or building, call 911 or the Fire Department Dispatcher and inform them of your situation. Provide the address, floor, apartment number and the number of persons present.
- Seal the front door with wet sheets or towels. Seal air ducts and any other openings where smoke may enter.
- Open windows a few inches at the top and bottom unless flames or smoke is coming from below.
- Do not break any windows; they may need to be closed later.
- If conditions in the apartment appear life threatening, open a window and wave a bed sheet or towel side-to-side to attract the attention of firefighters.
- If smoke conditions worsen before help arrives, get down on the floor and take short breaths through your nose. If possible, retreat to a balcony or terrace away from the source of the flames, heat or smoke.

See also Appendix C: Fire Safety Procedure for Residents with Disabilities, page B4

Plans for Future Improvements

Fire Safety is continually assessed to ensure compliance with all regulatory agencies and opportunities for improvement.

APPENDIX C

School of Medicine Fire Safety Procedures for Residents with Disabilities

Fire Safety Procedures for Residents with Disabilities

An up-to-date list of all residents who have a disability that would significantly impede his/her ability to evacuate a building in a fire safety emergency is to be established and maintained in each residence hall. The Director of Housing will be responsible for developing the list from information gathered from student housing applications and observation from Housing Staff assigned to each residential building. In addition, Housing department staff will devise a means by which the names of residents with temporary disabilities (e.g. illness, accident, etc) can be placed on the list of disabled students.

The aforementioned list should include the resident's name, nature of disability, room location, and telephone number and is to be placed with the Security Officer in the building lobby.

It is the responsibility of Housing staff to meet personally with each resident who has a disability that would impede his/her ability to evacuate the building in the event of a fire safety emergency and advise them of the following protocol/procedures:

Students with disabilities are not expected to immediately evacuate their room at the sounding of the building alarm (if the building has an alarm).

If there is a fire in his/her room, the disabled resident is to:

- Leave the room, close but do not lock the room door.
- Go to a safe location in the hallway.

- Pull the pull-station alarm (if one is available) or call 911 to report a fire condition. The student may have to knock on a neighbor's door or use a cell phone.
- Ask another resident to inform the building staff of his/her location when he/she reaches the lobby.

If the building alarm sounds but the fire is not in his/her room, the disabled resident is to remain in the room but to prepare for an evacuation.

If the building alarm sounds and the student with the disability is in the building but not in his/her room, if he/she has access to a telephone, he/she should contact the lobby desk, Security Officer, or the Main Public Safety office (in that order) to alert building staff of his/her location. (Housing staff must ensure that each student with a disability has been given these telephone numbers, and should urge the student to program those numbers into his/her cell phone). If there is no access to a telephone and the student is able to proceed to the building lobby, he/she should do so. If there is no access to a telephone and the student is unable to proceed to the building lobby, he/she should wait in the public area for fire department personnel to arrive during the building "sweep."

As soon as they arrive on the scene, fire department personnel will be supplied with the list of all residents with disabilities who require evacuation assistance. (It is the responsibility of the Security Officer to perform this task.)
