It’s Official - There’s Now IT Print Stations in All Residence Halls

NEW YORK, NY (September 8, 2015) -- We did it for the students. We did it to make life easier. And we especially did it for the procrastinators and last-minuters. To reduce the wait times of printing in key locations such as the Elmer Holmes Bobst Library and to make life easier for students living in residence halls, the Student Senators Council (SSC), in conjunction with the Inter-Residence Hall Council (IRHC), is proud to announce the installation of NYU IT Print Stations in all 22 residence halls managed by New York University (NYU).

Prior to the release of these new IT Print Station, students in the majority of residence halls would have to travel outside their buildings to utilize their printing grant. This could especially be seen on-campus with long wait times for IT Print Stations before classes or during final examination periods. Now, with the installation of IT Print Stations in all residence halls, students who live in the residence hall system will not have to leave their building to print their essays, notes, or projects.

“Being able to print from the comfort of your own residence hall is not just an issue of convenience, but also an issue of safety for our students. I’m proud that the SSC has been able to collaborate with NYU IT and I’m thankful to IRHC for their support in turning this project from an idea to a reality,” said Michael Hengerer, SSC Chair.

"Printing has always been a major concern for students living in our residence halls. There have been multiple different projects over the past 10 years to try to make this happen, but all have failed. It truly took a coordinated effort from SSC, IRHC, ORLHS, and IT to make printing in residence halls a reality. I'm so pleased I was able to be a part of a change that will have a huge beneficial impact on residential life," said Walker Chabbott, IRHC President.

To print documents, follow the NYU Print Service guide. NYU IT Printing will be fully available in all NYU Residence Halls beginning the Fall semester of 2015.

About the Student Government and Student Senators Council

We are here to improve New York University (NYU). The Student Senators Council is the overarching student government at NYU. We are constantly working with other students, organizations, faculty, and administrators at NYU to create the best university experience. We have a large team of Senators, Presidents, Committee Chairs and Students that help us advocate on behalf of students; create and further agendas; and lead new initiatives at the university. For more information, visit us at www.nyu.edu/studentgov.
