Academic Calendar (NYU Registrar)
Before Classes Begin

There are a few things every student needs to do before classes begin to make sure they are ready for their semester at NYU. Visit your semester’s Admitted Students Critical Instructions webpage for detailed information.

All students are advised to read and follow the Visiting Student Blog for information and reminders to help you prepare for your time at NYU.

1. Activate your NYU NetID
Students must activate their NetID and set a password in order to accept their admission to the University and register for courses. Your NetID is your e-identification, which gives you access to electronic resources at NYU. It is a combination of your initials and a set of numbers. If you are a visiting or exchange student, you should have received your NetID and instructions for activation via email when you were admitted to NYU.

When you activate your NetID, you will have access to NYUHome, the central student information system where you read your email and you can log in to your Student Center to register for classes, view your course schedule, pay your bill, and request your transcript. NYUHome is online at home.nyu.edu.

2. Read your NYU email
Under NYU policy, communications between the University and students occur over NYU email, which is available through NYUHome. You may have already received emails from NYU offices and services at your NYU address. You will also be expected to email professors, staff, and students using your NYU account. Your NYU email address is your NetID@nyu.edu. You should read your NYU email often (at least daily) to make sure you do not miss important information or notices.

If you are having difficulty activating your NYU email, please complete the following steps:
1. Clear your browser cache and cookies through your web browser’s internet options
2. Go to start.nyu.edu
3. Enter your NetID (the ID you were given via email that contains your initials followed by three or four numbers). Then click “Start.”
4. Re-enter your password and click “Continue.”
5. Select the third item, “Set an NYU Google Apps for Education password.”
6. Enter a new password and follow the instructions on the screen to complete activation of your email account.
7. Once your email account has been activated, go to home.nyu.edu and sign into NYU Home.
8. To access your NYU email account, click on “E-mail” under the NYU Home banner on the upper right hand corner.

3. Get your NYUCard
All students must have a NYUCard. The NYUCard is a multi-purpose identification card issued to all students. It grants you access to NYU buildings, residence halls, athletic facilities, resources and services. You can also use it as an ID card in the city to receive student discounts at museums, shops, and other locations.
You should get your NYUCard before your first class so you can have access to the NYU building where your class will take place. You can get your NYUCard at the NYUCard Center located at 7 Washington Place and Mercer Street. You must bring a photo ID with you to get your NYUCard. Information about submitting your ID photo online is available here: https://photoid.nyu.edu/. Online photo ID submission will begin a month prior to the start of classes.

If you are in the New York City area, we recommend you get your card before classes start, because the Card Center will likely be very busy the first day of class. If you will not be in the NYU area before classes begin, you can get your NYUCard on the first day of class.

Note: Students are asked to turn in their NYUCard to the Card Center at the end of their time at NYU (it will be deactivated when you are no longer a student). Students who return to NYU in the future without having turned in their NYUCard they will be assessed a replacement fee.

4. Check your course schedule and student account balance on NYUHome
It is a good idea to log in to NYUHome and your Student Center and double check your course schedule and account balance before class begins to make sure your registration and payments are set and have not changed. You can also map the location of your class by using the NYU campus map online at http://www.nyu.edu/footer/map.html or by downloading the NYU Mobile app, which features a campus map. Use the building code key to determine the locations of your classes.

5. Submit your immunization forms
New York State law and NYU policy require all students taking six credits/points or more during the semester to submit proof of immunity to measles, mumps, and rubella and acknowledge receipt of information regarding immunization for meningitis. All students taking at least six credits must submit their forms to the Student Health Center online. Students who do not submit forms are at risk of being dropped from all courses without a refund after the semester begins. Information about immunization is online at http://www.nyu.edu/shc/about/health.requirements.html.

6. Get your textbooks
You may search for your textbooks online at the NYU Bookstore website: http://bookstores.nyu.edu/. You can search for textbooks by entering your personal information or your course information. If your search does not yield results, do not worry! Some professors do not order their books through the NYU Bookstore, and you can always wait until the first day of class to get your syllabus to see which books and readings you will need.

You can purchase your textbooks from the NYU Bookstore, which sells new and used books, or another provider of your choice, such as Amazon.com or Barnes & Noble.

Orientation, Check-In, and Welcome Week

Fall and Spring in New York Online Orientation
Available on each term's Admitted Students websites.

The online orientation will be available for all students to view prior to the start of classes. The orientation highlights the important information found in this handbook. It is recommended that all Fall and Spring in New York students view the orientation and read this handbook before their semester begins.

Fall and Spring in New York Check-In Sessions
The check-in sessions are a chance for you to meet University Programs staff members and other students in the program. Staff will review important information you need to know to have a successful semester at NYU and answer any questions you have about NYU. All Fall and Spring in New York students must attend a check-in session. You may RSVP for a session online at your program’s Admitted Students’ website. You must be logged in to NYUHome to access the RSVP form.

International Exchange Program (College of Arts and Science)
International Exchange students taking courses at the College of Arts and Science must also attend an orientation with their academic advisors, Anne Blatz and Brendan Rose. Exchange students who cannot attend the orientation should contact international.exchange@nyu.edu.

International Student Arrival Form (mandatory)
The U.S. Department of Homeland Security requires all new international students with a J-1 or F-1 visa to report their arrival at NYU to the Office of Global Services. All international students must report their arrival and submit immigration forms to OGS online. Failure to report may jeopardize your ability to remain legally in the United States. Information about arrival is available on the Office of Global Services website.

International students with any questions about their student status or experience at NYU prior to or during the semester should contact the Office of Global Services at newinternationalstudents@nyu.edu or 212-998-4720.

Academic Support Services

NYU Classes
NYU Classes is the online content management system ("blackboard") used for many, but not all, courses at NYU. Classes is used by many professors to post the course syllabus, readings, online discussions, and other course information online. To access Classes, log into NYUHome and visit the Academics section. Please remember that not all courses at NYU use Classes. If you do not see one of your courses listed in Classes, it does not mean you are not registered for the course. To see all of the courses you are registered for, you can view your complete schedule in your Albert Student Center. If you know a course is using Classes and it does not appear in NYUHome, ask your professor to add you to the platform.
The Academic Resource Center (ARC) is your one-stop shop for all academic questions such as course selection and registration, adding or dropping a course, and tutoring/academic support. There are also computer stations and lounge space available for student use.

Academic Policies and Procedures

Visiting students must follow the policies set forth by the Office of University Programs and NYU. Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with these policies and procedures and are strongly encouraged to speak with their academic advisor if they have questions.

Registering for Restricted Courses

Because visiting students have no academic history at the University, students cannot register themselves in courses with prerequisites. They need a unique permission number in order to add a class to their schedule. Prerequisites and other course requirements should be listed in the course notes and details in the Albert course search.

Students who feel they meet the prerequisites of a course and/or there is a registration block on a course need to submit a course Enrollment Request Form to University Programs Advising. To submit a request, students must complete the online form and email up.advising@nyu.edu with supporting documentation as proof of your academic background (e.g., course syllabus, test scores).

NOTE: Students must be logged into their NYU email to access the online form.

Advising shares your request with the academic department of the class for review. If approved, students receive an email with a permission number they can use to register. It can take several business days for requests to be reviewed, so students are encouraged to submit their requests early to register for a prerequisite course.

Late Registration

Students who wish to add a course to their schedule after the term’s add/drop deadline must do so through their advisor. Written permission from the course professor must be received by your advisor. Students may submit their request with instructor permission to up.advising@nyu.edu or in person during walk-in hours at the Academic Resource Center, 18 Washington Place.

Course Withdrawals

Students may drop courses online until the add/drop deadline for the term. After the deadline, students must submit a class withdrawal request via their Albert Student Center. Information and instructions are available on the NYU Registrar website. As NYU students, visiting students are held to the University’s withdrawal and refund calendars and may receive a final grade of W (withdrawn) for a dropped course and no tuition refund depending on the date of course withdrawal. See Important Dates and Deadlines on page 2 for links to refund and registration calendars.

Term Withdrawals

Students who wish to drop ALL of their courses in a given term and withdraw from the University in full must submit a term withdrawal request via their Albert Student Center. Information about term withdrawal is available on the NYU Registrar website. As NYU students, visiting students are held to the University’s withdrawal and refund calendars and may receive a final grade of W (withdrawn) for course(s) and no tuition refund depending on the date of term withdrawal. See Important Dates and Deadlines on page 2 for links to refund and registration calendars.

Pass/Fail Grades
Visiting students are permitted to take one course per term pass/fail. Taking a course pass/fail means that letter grades A-D are converted to P on academic record. Students who fail a course receive a final grade of F. Credit is awarded for students who earn a P, but the grade is not included in GPA. Students should consult with their home institution to determine if a pass/fail course is eligible for transfer credit.

To request a course for pass/fail, students must submit a Pass/Fail Request Form by the pass/fail deadline. See Important Dates and Deadlines on page 2.

Incomplete Grades
If unforeseen circumstances keep a student from being able to complete a course in full, they may speak with their course professor to receive a grade of I (incomplete) and make arrangements to submit outstanding work. It is the professor's decision whether an incomplete grade is possible or not. Incomplete grades are placeholders, giving students one term to submit all coursework and receive a final letter grade. Students must complete an incomplete course within one term; courses not completed by the deadline receive a final grade of F.

Petitions
Visiting students who wish to receive a tuition refund as an exception to the University's refund calendar, to retroactively drop a course, or make other changes to their student record outside of University Programs and NYU policy must submit an official petition and have their request reviewed by a campus committee. To receive a petition form or for more information, please email up.advising@nyu.edu.

GETTING AROUND NYU and NYC

Getting to NYU
NYU is primarily located around Washington Square Park in the Greenwich Village neighborhood in downtown Manhattan. The campus is easily reached using New York City public transportation. Directions on how to get to NYU are on the NYU visitor’s website. There is no NYU transportation service to bring you to campus from the local airports or bus/train terminals. All students are responsible for transportation to/from NYU.

There are many ways to get from the airport to campus, including buses, shuttles, and trains. The easiest way to get to campus is to use a taxi or car service. If you use a taxi, be sure to get one from the official taxi stand at the airport. DO NOT accept a ride from an unauthorized taxi driver.

Also, if you are flying, it is a good idea to register your trip with NYU Traveler. NYU Traveler is the University’s web-based travel safety service.

Getting Around NYU

NYU Transportation
http://www.nyu.edu/public.safety/transportation/

Three bus routes connect the Washington Square campus with other NYU locations in downtown Manhattan and Brooklyn. Buses run Monday-Friday from 7:00 a.m. to midnight and Saturday-Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to midnight. Safe Ride is a shared, on-demand van service available during late night hours. All campus transportation services are free with your NYUCard.
Campus Map
Interactive and downloadable campus maps are online at http://www.nyu.edu/footer/map.html. We also recommend students download the NYU Mobile app, which also features a campus map, shuttle tracking, and safe ride features.

Getting Around New York City
Most of Manhattan's streets form a grid with streets running east and west and avenues running north and south. Street numbers increase as you travel north (10th Street is north of 4th Street), and avenue numbers increase as you travel west (5th Avenue is west of 2nd Avenue). Broadway is the only street in Manhattan that travels the full length of the island and is not a part of the grid.

Areas of the city that were built prior to the grid’s creation in 1811, like the Financial District and West Village, have narrower and more crooked streets with names rather than numbers.

Public Transportation
New York City Subway Map: http://web.mta.info/maps/submap.html

The Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) operates the City’s network of subways and buses. To use public transportation in the city, students must purchase a MetroCard. There is an initial $1 cost for a new MetroCard, so make sure to refill your card instead of buying a new one! One ride on a bus or subway is $2.75, but you can receive discounts when you buy a MetroCard with multiple or unlimited rides. MetroCards may be purchased from vending machines or tellers in any subway station.

For more information about MetroCards, please visit the MTA website.

Commuter Transportation
Commuter students travelling to NYU's campus can use the MTA, New Jersey Transit, Long Island Railroad (LIRR), MetroNorth, PATH, and other transportation services. Only New Jersey Transit offers a student discount on fares.

Further commuter student information is available from Commuter and Off-Campus Student Services.
