Tuition, Fees, and Expenses: Stern School of Business Undergraduate Students

The preliminary* budget below approximates your cost of education for the academic year and includes an amount for tuition and fees, including school-based fees (depending on your course load); an allowance for room and board (which varies according to where you live); a standard amount for books, supplies, and personal expenses; and a transportation allowance.

Typical budgets are presented below to help you understand how your cost of education was determined.

Budget Components	On/Off-Campus Student	Commuter Student
Tuition and mandatory fees (two semesters full-time)	$39,195	$39,195
School-based fees	500	500
Room and board	13,226 <sup>1</sup>	1,670
Books and supplies	950	950
Transportation	varies	575
Personal expenses	1,000	500
Total budget	$54,871	$43,390

<sup>1</sup> Actual room and board varies depending upon several factors. There is a range of housing and meal plans available on-campus at NYU. The standard figure for financial aid purposes represents room and board for an on-campus student based on double occupancy and a 19 meal-per-week dining plan. This includes the cost of local telephone service, high-speed internet access, and cable television to the residence hall room. This same rate is used to represent the room and board amount for an off-campus student since costs on average are similar to on-campus options, although individual costs vary as the New York City area has many different housing options and associated costs, depending upon location, number of roommates, amenities, etc. Also note that University meal plans are available for students who live off-campus.
