

DIRECTIONS FROM NEWARK AIRPORT
(<http://www.panynj.gov/aviation/egrtfram.htm>):

FROM NEWARK BY TAXI: $40 to Midtown (CUNY Graduate Center) or the Village (NYU). Follow the signs from baggage claim to “ground transportation”/ “taxis” and wait in line for an official yellow taxi (NOTE: do NOT accept an offer from a roaming “taxi driver,” they are often not legal cabbies and might rip you off; go to the official queue and wait for an official yellow taxi.)

- 7 The taxi fare should be $40 (rate set by the Port Authority of NJ), before a customary 15-20% tip. The customer is responsible for paying tolls, and it’s customary to tip extra if the driver handles your bag ($1-2/bag).
- 8 Get a receipt and take down the medallion number and driver’s name if there’s a problem.

FROM NEWARK BY PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION. (Approximately $17, possibly slightly higher)

You’ll be taking AirTrain from the airport, then New Jersey Transit to New York Penn Station. Follows signs to AirTrain. Check an NJ TRANSIT train departure monitor in any of the airport terminals (A, B or C) to find the train to NEW YORK PENN STATION, which is 2 blocks west of the CUNY Graduate Center, or five stops on the R or W subway to the 8th Street subway stop (near NYU).

You can purchase a ticket from one of the ticket vending machines at the Newark International Airport Station. TVMs accept credit cards, debit cards or U.S. currency only Check an NJ TRANSIT train departure monitor (located at AirTrain entrances) to confirm your departure time. Purchase a NJ Transit ticket from a ticket vending machine located at the Newark Liberty International Airport Station.

After you catch NJ Transit, be sure you depart at “NEW YORK” Penn Station, NOT “NEWARK” Penn Station!!! Newark is in New Jersey, and it’s the stop before New York Penn Station. Ask the conductor if you’re not sure.

(Subway maps are free from the subway booth—just ask for one if you can find one with a clerk.) Purchase a Metrocard from the machine. If you’ll be riding frequently over the next four days, the 7-day unlimited ride card is the best option; otherwise, rides are $2 each, with free transfers to the bus within 2 hours from the time you swiped the card. Look for the R or W lines going downtown (south), and ride to 8th Street. Go to 24 Waverly Place (near Washington Square East) for the conference, or to 5 University Place for the dorms.

FROM NEWARK VIA SHUTTLE BUS (Newark Liberty Airport Express via Olympia Trails Busline): $13 one way; $22 round trip; free for kids.
