Academic Year 2010-11 Instructions:

1. Submit a typed one-page Personal Statement. Tell us about your intellectual interests and how language study will further your academic and career goals. Summarize your personal statement in the space provided on page two of the application.
2. Continuing NYU Students: please enclose an unofficial copy of your current NYU transcript (from <https://www1.albert.nyu.edu/> or follow the links to Albert from the NYU home page).
3. Applicants not yet admitted to NYU should include copies of all undergraduate and graduate transcripts (unofficial or xerox copies are acceptable).
4. Ask two referees to send recommendation letters to the above address. We prefer academic references. We suggest that one recommendation come from a language instructor, if possible. You are responsible for ensuring that the letters arrive by the deadline. Recommendations can be sent by mail to the Center at the address on the form, faxed to (212) 995-4144 or sent by email to <kevorkian.center@nyu.edu>. Please use the FLAS recommendation form attached. References may be sent with the application or separately from the application. If your referee does not have the form, or if your referee is submitting by email, the form may be submitted separately from the recommendation letter. In that case, please include the form with your application.

Please note the following guidelines when applying for FLAS Academic Year Awards.

1. All awards are subject to U.S. Department of Education policies.
2. Applicants must be U.S. citizens or have permanent resident status.
3. Eligible languages of study at NYU are Arabic, Hebrew, Persian, Turkish, and Urdu. Applicants may apply to study other modern Middle Eastern languages in order to support research on the Middle East. If you are not sure about the relevance of your project to FLAS, please contact Amal Hageb at amal.hageb@nyu.edu or (212) 998-8871.
4. Students in graduate degree-granting programs at NYU are eligible to apply: Graduate School of Arts and Science, Tisch School of the Arts, Stern Graduate School of Business, Steinhardt School of Education, Law School, Gallatin School, Ehrenkranz School of Social Work, Wagner School of Public Administration and NYU Medical and Dental schools. Competitive priority will be given to master's level students and applicants who are considering careers in public service.
5. Students at all levels of language proficiency, except those with native fluency, are encouraged to apply. Competitive priority will be given to students who plan to achieve Advanced level proficiency before graduation.
6. All applications must include a statement of purpose, a current transcript, and two letters of recommendation (preferably, one from a language instructor).
7. Applicants applying to both summer and academic year should submit only one set of supporting materials (i.e. transcripts and recommendations).
8. FLAS fellows must have full-time status (a minimum of 12 points each semester), or full-time equivalency status, during 2010-11.
9. FLAS fellows must enroll in at least one language course and one Middle East area studies course each semester during 2010-11.
