3rd Annual Martin Luther King, J.R. Celebration Week

January 21-26, 2008 “Dare to Dream”

D.R.E.A.M. is acronym for Deconstruct, Reflect, Envision, Act, and Mobilize

CSD invites students and faculty to join the staff of the Students with Disabilities for an all-day celebration on Wednesday, January 23, 2008 from 9am-5pm. This will provide everyone with a chance to see our new office and meet our staff. We will have a gallery presentation of films, audio, photos, and reading materials addressing the complex issues of race, religion, and disability.

Location: 719 Broadway, 2nd Floor Conference Room

Light refreshments will be served throughout the day and pizza for lunch with movie

The Gallery will include:

Videos to be shown throughout the day including:

I Have a Dream: Recording of Martin Luther King’s televised speech 8/28/68

Strong: Inside the Hidden World of Dyslexia and ADHD: A Powerful Documentary

The Speeches of Martin Luther King, Jr.: A collection of speeches and interviews

Breathing Lessons: A powerful documentary of survival

Martin Luther King, Jr.: The Man and the Dream-His role in civil rights

Stories of Success: Success and struggles as adults with learning disabilities

Audio’s of famous speeches and equal right moments in history to listen to

Photo’s of famous equal rights events as we celebrate the life and influence of Dr. King

Reading material of Dr. King’s famous speeches

CSD will also be having a Reflection Corner where students may submit a statement of their thoughts on Martin Luther King’s concerns and their own “D.R.E.A.M. of Disability Rights as a Civil Rights Issue”

The submissions will include your name, campus/home address, class year and phone number. All statements will be judged on their personal and social connection to Disability Civil Rights expression.
