THE STORY

Fired from a provincial repertory company, Chick Byrd moves to London. Forty years old, ebullient and joking, he realizes that this is his last chance to make the grade as an actor.

Sharing a flat with an out-of-work friend, Julian, he is surrounded by the mundane--peeling wallpaper, leaking roofs and a wheezing landlord. The two actors plan their glorious futures with the aid of a meticulously prepared chart, encompassing the movements of agents and directors throughout the day.

Chick gets nowhere, but Julian hits the jackpot. Successfully screen-tested, he is flown to Africa to star in a film.

After repeated failures and several meaningless affairs, Chick embarks on a series of films advertising an oral deodorant and finds the fame that has eluded him, but as television's "Mr. Honeybreath." With hardly a backward glance he leaves London, to return to provincial Rep.
