TALENT and BEAUTY

Blonde, blue-eyed Rosalind Roberts, currently starring in "The Desert Raven," an Allied Artists release opening at the Theatro, is co-starred with Miss Roberts in the film. Rosalind started her scholastic record in high school by receiving all eleven (11) school honors, including valedictorian, thus breaking all records in the 100 year history of her high school with her 4.0 average.

The stunning Miss Roberts also is the proud possessor of a Masters Degree at Northwestern School of Law.

After arriving in Hollywood, Rosalind worked with several dramatic coaches including two years with Estelle Harman, and worked with many writers, including the Marxes. Her first television shows include "Bonanza," and "Adventures in Paradise." She was featured recently as Lenua's "Touch of Mink" with Cary Grant and Doris Day. "The Emerald Bay" starring Jeffreys Lewis and "Pocketful of Miracles" with Glenn Ford, Bette Davis and Hope Lange.

Her beauty contest awards, Rosalind courses in free finishing schools, including John Robert Powers. Dance study includes modern jazz, tap, can can, burlesque and stripping. She has studied the languages of French, Spanish and Italian. Believer in the development of both mind and body, Rosalind is very much the outdoor girl and loves most sports. Her favorites are swimming, horseback riding, snow and water skiing (she was Michigan snow queen three years in a row), skating and hunting.

One of the versatile Miss Robert's daily rituals is to up to minute her charts of the stock and commodity markets. She is an originator as well, of several innovations in other fields that are being copied throughout the entire country today. The beautiful blonde actress started the world's first correspondence course in modeling. Ros is an artist of outstanding talent and spends her spare time painting. She did the murals on the three walls of Ozarris', well-known Le Cienega Boulevard Restaurant in Beverly Hills.

Confidentially, Ros, who was born Rosalie Sappington, in the State of Missouri, has the strong political aspirations that have been in her politically and medically famous Southern family for generations. The family has its history three Missouri governors near the Civil War period—the first battle of the Civil War being fought in the family hometown in Missouri. Her ancestor, who also is the great grandmother of Ginger Rogers. Dr. John Sappington, received medical fame for his healing for 50,000,000 for the treatment of malaria fever.

Other vital statistics are: Height 5 feet 4 inches; weight, 112 pounds; measurements of 38-22-33.
