

Access to Albert is Available through NYUHome

home.nyu.edu

When you access Albert via NYUHome, you will no longer need to enter your UID and PIN. NYUHome will validate your access based on your NetID and password.

Access to NYUHome requires an activated NYU NetID. If you currently access NYUHome you will be able to access Albert. Once you have successfully logged into NYUHome you will have 10 minutes to log on to Albert. For security reasons you will not be permitted to connect to Albert after 10 minutes have elapsed. You would then need to log out of NYUHome and log in again in order to connect to Albert. You will find the link to Albert under the Academics tab.

If you do not currently have an activated NetID, you can activate your NetID and NYUHome account at any time. From any internet-connected computer go to the ITS Start page (<http://start.nyu.edu/>) and follow the on-line start-up instructions.

If you encounter a problem activating your NYUHome account, you could contact the ITS Client Services Helpline at (212) 998-3333 or via e-mail at its.clientservices@nyu.edu.

Albert has a number of security features. However, you should still be concerned about the security of your personal information. You are encouraged to use good commonsense procedures to safeguard your data:

Always log out from Albert and exit your browser program before leaving the computer.

Never disclose your NetID or password to anyone.
