Advisement

In each semester of freshman year and in the fall semester of sophomore year, GSP students must attend a Pre-Registration Information Session to be cleared for registration. During the second semester of sophomore year, GSP sophomores seamlessly transition into the schools to which they originally applied* and will be invited to attend registration information sessions offered by advisors in those schools. (*some students consider changing direction and apply for admission to a school other than the one to which they originally applied; in such cases the GSP sophomore must submit an ‘Application for Internal Transfer’ to the NYU Admissions Office, just as any NYU student who wants to change direct must do; admission in such cases is not guaranteed and at the discretion of the Admissions Office. Students unable to attend a Pre-Registration Information Session should visit the GSP Advising Center at 726 Broadway, 6th floor, before their registration date to consult with an academic advisor.

GSP Courses

GSP students may register for any open class listed under the GSP heading. GSP classes do not have waiting lists.

Non-GSP Courses

GSP students may register for non-GSP courses. GSP sophomores are encouraged to register for courses which meet major or minor requirements in the school to which they intend to transfer. GSP students taking courses outside GSP are subject to the rules of the school offering the courses and must meet all prerequisites; if access codes are required, GSP students must visit the respective departments or programs to acquire them.

Registering

After attending a GSP Pre-Registration Information Session, students will be cleared to register by the GSP Advising Center. All registration dates are assigned by the NYU Registrar; on the date and at the time assigned (or afterward) the student can register via Albert.

Drop/Add

Students can make changes to their schedule via Albert during the Drop/Add period; as students may add open courses only, students should be careful before dropping a course to make sure that the course they want to add is open. After the first week of the semester, students are strongly cautioned not to add classes already in progress without consulting with the instructor and the GSP Advising Center.

Information

Students who have questions about the registration process should contact the GSP Advising Center, 726 Broadway, 6th floor, (212) 998-7269.
