Woody Tasch Chairman of Slow Money

Woody Tasch is chairman of Slow Money, a non-profit financial intermediary dedicated to investing in local food systems and building restorative capital markets. Woody is chairman emeritus of Investors' Circle, a network of angel investors, family offices, social purpose funds, and foundations that has invested $133 million in 200 early stage sustainability-promoting ventures and venture funds, since 1992. In the 1990s, he pioneered the integration of asset management and philanthropic purpose as treasurer of the Jessie Smith Noyes Foundation and founding chairman of the Community Development Venture Capital Alliance. An experienced venture-capital investor and entrepreneur, he has served on numerous for-profit and non-profit boards. He lives in northern New Mexico.”
