From London's East End to the Lower East Side: A Jewish Journey

David Russell

London's East End is the cradle of British Jewry. From Rodinsky's Room to the King of the Schnorers to the Bespoke Overcoat, explore the past, present and future of the London's East End through novels, poems, memoirs and Oscar-winning films.

David Russell is a trustee of Kehillas Yaakov, one of the last shuls in London's East End, and a co-founder of the Jewish East End Celebration Society. He recently relocated to New York's Lower East Side and is a docent at Eldridge Street. He is the director of The Social Enterprise, which advises nonprofit organizations.

- Date & Time: Thu, Nov 5, 2008, 7:30pm
- Location: Lexington Avenue at 92nd Street
- Code: TBL5LK0301
- Price: $27.00

This event has already taken place and is no longer for sale online. Call Y-Charge at 212.416.5500 for more information.

Programs, venues, instructors/moderators are subject to change or cancellation without notice.