In a one (1) – two (2) page essay, please explain why you are interested in completing the "Comparative Health Systems" course in Florence, Italy. (Please type your response using 12 point "Times New Roman" font, and attach it to this application.)

Course Description: three credit hour course taught in Florence, Italy from December 26, 2009 – January 9, 2010. No prerequisites. Credits will be applied to either your Fall 2009 or Spring 2010 transcript depending on your selected semester in which to register the course. The course examines the delivery of health services as pertains to nurse's contribution using the social/cultural, historical, literary and scientific contexts. Aspects of current health care delivery issues with comparisons to the United States and those in Italy and other Western European countries with similar systems will be studied.

Florence, Italy: New York University's estate in Florence known as La Pietra is situated on a hillside just north of the city center. La Pietra is a 15th century villa surrounded by 57 acres of gardens, rolling hills, and olive groves. While in Florence, students can explore the illustrious legacy of this extraordinary villa bestowed on NYU by Sir Harold Acton.
