Applications are not considered completed until the following items have been submitted:

- Completed and signed application form.
- A 250-500 word personal statement addressing your academic and personal reasons for wanting to study abroad with Gallatin as well as any experience you may have had living or traveling in another country.
- An interview with the program director or administrator.
- Official transcript (non-NYU applicants only).
- Letter of recommendation.

Once your application is completed, you will be contacted to arrange an interview. After your interview, a decision will be made in approximately two to three weeks. Admission decisions are based on strength of academic performance, interview, personal statement, and whether there is space remaining in the program. Programs may fill without notice.
