This oral history interview is an intimate conversation between two people, both of whom have generously agreed to share this recording with the Brooklyn Historical Society archives, and with you. Please listen in the spirit with which this was shared.

This interview is hereby made available for research purposes only.

All rights are reserved by the Brooklyn Historical Society, Brooklyn, New York.

Researchers will understand that:

1. The Brooklyn Historical Society abides by the General Principles & Best Practices for Oral History as agreed upon by the Oral History Association (2009) and expects that use of this material will be done with respect for these professional ethics.

2. This transcript is a nearly verbatim copy of the recorded interview. As such, it may contain the natural false starts, verbal stumbles, misspeaks, and repetitions that are common in conversation. This decision was made because BHS gives primacy to the audible voice and also because some researchers do find useful information in these verbal patterns.

3. Unless these verbal patterns are germane to your scholarly work, when quoting from this material researchers are encouraged to correct the grammar and make other modifications maintaining the flavor of the narrator’s speech while editing the material for the standards of print.

4. All citations must be attributed to the Brooklyn Historical Society:

   Narrator’s Name (First Last), Oral history interview, Year of Interview (YYYY), [Collection Title] Oral History Collection, Identifier/Catalog Number; Brooklyn Historical Society.