I. Introduction

This course has two aims. First, it is a survey of political institutions and behavior in the United States focusing primarily at the national level, which aims to demonstrate the connection between the guiding principles of the American Constitution and the role of politics and government in contemporary American life. Second, it introduces students to a variety of analytical concepts and approaches to the study of domestic politics.

A COURSE PACKET with other required material will be available for purchase at New University Copy and Graphics (11 Waverly Place).

IV. Student Responsibilities and Course Grading

Formal Course Requirements

Recitation participation: 15%

Recitations will cover topics discussed in class and in the readings the preceding week. Because of the peculiarities of university scheduling, the weekly rotation of topics will begin on Wednesday afternoon following lecture and conclude the following Tuesday. Typically, discussion will focus on an important topic covered in the Kernell and Smith reader or the packet. You are expected to have completed all of the assigned readings for the week prior to your recitation, and to attend all recitations.

First examination 20%
The first examination will be held in class on Wednesday, October 1, and will cover the first four weeks of class.

Second examination 20%
The second examination will be held in class on Wednesday, November 5, and will cover weeks 5-9.

Brief research paper: 15%
A 4-5 page research paper is due on November 26. Topics will be distributed in class.

Final examination 30%
The final examination will be held on Monday, December 15, from 10-11:50am. Roughly two-thirds of the exam will cover material not covered by the first two exams. The remaining third will review those earlier topics.

Policy on missed exams and late papers
Exams: Exceptions in emergency situations are inevitable, but in general, students missing an exam will receive a grade of zero. If you must miss an exam, please contact your teaching assistant before the scheduled test time, and if the excuse is justified (such as in cases of illness or family/personal emergencies), we will schedule a make-up.

Paper: In general, students will be penalized 1/3 of a grade (e.g. from a B+ to a B) per day late. If you know your paper will be late, it is in your best interest to contact your teaching assistant prior to the deadline, since the penalty may be relaxed in extenuating circumstances.

V. Academic Integrity
All of the work you do in this course is expected to be your own. Absolutely no cheating or plagiarism (using someone else’s words or ideas without proper attribution) will be tolerated. All ideas not your own must be properly cited. Any cases of cheating or plagiarism will be handled according to university policy. For more information on university policy, see http://www.nyu.edu/cas/Academic/Bulletin/Policies.html#f.
