GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSION TO COUNTERBLAST

To be considered for publication, authors should submit their manuscripts (unpublished articles only) in MLA Format (see below), using endnotes instead of a list of works cited.

1) Submit two hard copies of the manuscript. The text should be double-spaced with one-inch margins. Include title, name of author, and date of manuscript.

2) Submit an exact copy of the manuscript on disc, in Microsoft Word (PC) format or as an email attachment in Word.

3) Include an abstract of your article.

4) Include a short biographical note (50 - 100 words) on a separate page.

→ Do not embed your name or any running headers or footers in the text.
→ Photographs or illustrations must be submitted with the initial manuscript, with brief captions and credit lines. We prefer to receive illustrations in jpeg, gif, or tiff format.
→ Permissions and clearances for all illustrations are the sole responsibility of the author and must be obtained in advance of publication.
→ The full postal address, phone number, and e-mail address (if available) of the author must be included.

Address all submissions and inquiries to:

Sal Fallica
Counterblast
Department of Culture and Communication
New York University
239 Greene Street, 7th Floor; phone: 212 998-5217
e-mail: sjf1@nyu.edu

or

Ruth Liberman
Counterblast
Department of Culture and Communication
New York University
239 Greene Street, 7th Floor; phone: 212 992-9488
e-mail: ruth.liberman@nyu.edu.

Style Guidelines for MLA Format

Sources should be acknowledged in endnotes appearing at the end of the document.

Note numbers replace parenthetical references at the points in the text where citations are necessary. The numbers follow punctuation marks, except dashes. Place a note number, like a parenthetical reference, at the end of a sentence, clause, or phrase containing the material quoted or referred to.

A bibliographic entry for a work published as part of a book or periodical usually ends with the inclusive page numbers for the entire work cited, but a documentation note ends with the page number or numbers only of the portion you refer to.

Note Form

A documentation note has four main divisions: the author's name in normal order, followed by a comma; the title in italics; the publishing data in parentheses; and a page reference. There is a period only at the end.

Sample First Note References: Books and Other Nonperiodical Publications

Sample First Note References: Articles and Other Publications in Periodicals

Sample First Note References: Miscellaneous Print and Nonprint Sources
A Television or Radio Program
A Sound Recording
A Film or Video Recording

Sample First Note References: Electronic Publications
A Television or Radio Program

Subsequent References
After fully documenting a work, use a shortened form in subsequent notes. As in parenthetical references, include enough information to identify the work. The author's last name alone, followed by the relevant page numbers, is usually adequate.
16 Frye 345-47.
If you cite two or more works by the same author -- for example, Northrop Frye's Anatomy of Criticism and The Double Vision -- include a shortened form of the title following the author's last name in each reference after the first.
17 Frye, Anatomy 278.
18 Frye, Double Vision 278.