ACCESS PROGRAM

ACCESS is an NYU Bookstore affordability initiative that delivers required course materials digitally at the lowest possible price to NYU students on the first day of class.

FALL 2021 STUDENT SAVINGS

Over 10,000 students enrolled into the Access program generating a combined savings of over $900K*

*compared to used book pricing

HOW DOES ACCESS WORK?

When Faculty choose their course materials, they can let the bookstore know that they want the course to participate in ACCESS. By participating in ACCESS, students will receive a digital copy of your chosen course materials on or before the first day of class at the lowest price available.

FACULTY BENEFITS

- Academic freedom
- Students are prepared on the first day of class
- Vendor learning platforms offer many resources

"The Follett Access program did save my students a significant amount of money, and given the focus upon affordability at NYU, that is worth noting! I think the program is great!"

- John Halpin, Clinical Professor, CAS

"Students had no trouble accessing the relevant book in digital form and appreciated the savings relative to buying the book."

- Bruce Bueno de Mesquita, Silver Professor; Professor of Politics, CAS

"The program has worked nicely for me and my students. A big draw may be that I use Mastering with the class and it's nice for them that everything is packaged together, and the price is excellent."

- Domingo J Piñero, Ph.D., Clinical Associate Professor, Steinhardt

If you would like to participate in the ACCESS program, please contact:

Nancy Wetmore-Mathews, Course Materials Manager at the NYU Bookstore at 212-998-4681 or nancy.mathews@nyu.edu.