

Oregon Posting Notice

“Workers’ Compensation Notice of Compliance”

Employers will automatically receive a Notice of Compliance poster from the state of Oregon when they first get compensation coverage or change coverage providers.

Once you have the posting notice, it remains valid and without need to update the posting as long as the policy remains active. You are allowed to make and post copies of valid posters. If the policyholder, employer name, or the insurer changes, you will automatically receive a new poster. A change in the policy number, which is a common practice at annual renewal, does not require a new posting notice as long as the other elements remain the same.

The employer can request additional posters by calling the State at (888) 877-5670
