Gilman Overview:
Understanding the Application
Benjamin Gilman Scholarship Program

- Administered by the Institute of International Education

- Sponsored by the U.S. Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs

- For students of high financial need who have been traditionally underrepresented in education abroad

- Goal to diversify the population of students who study abroad, as well as the countries and regions they select
  - Expanding beyond traditional study abroad locations, and encouraging students to study outside of Western Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and Canada
Award Details

• Over 2,900 scholarships awarded per academic year

• Awards are up to $5000 to defray costs study abroad, including tuition, fees, books and airfare

• Award amounts vary based on the strength of application, financial need, as well as program location and length

• Awards sent directly to recipients (not to Financial Aid Office)
Critical Need Language Award

• Applicants studying a critical need language while abroad can submit an additional essay to be considered for a supplemental award of $3000 (for maximum award of $8000 total)
• Note: This is not a separate award; cannot receive without winning Gilman scholarship
• Critical need languages include the following:
  – Arabic (all dialects);
  – Azerbaijani
  – Bangla
  – Chinese (all dialects);
  – Hindi
  – Indonesian
  – Japanese
  – Korean
  – Persian
  – Punjabi
  – Russian
  – Swahili
  – Turkish
  – Urdu
Who Can Apply

• U.S. Citizen

• Federal Pell Grant recipient

• Must have application on file for study away (but do not need to have received admissions notification yet)

• Must receive academic credit for study away program

• Program cannot be in location currently under a U.S. Department of State Travel Warning (currently this includes Tel Aviv)

• Program must be a minimum of three weeks (21 days) in one country -- note that some summer study away programs may not be long enough

• Can only receive award once
Selection Criteria

Keep in mind Gilman’s mission: to diversify the population studying abroad by encouraging underrepresented students to participate.

*Underrepresented students include (but are not limited to):

- students from diverse ethnic background
- first-generation college students
- veterans
- students with disabilities
- student athletes whose extracurricular commitments make it difficult to study away
- students with high financial need
- students in fields of study underrepresented in study abroad, specifically science, technology, engineering and mathematics
- students who have transferred to NYU from community colleges, HBCUs, Tribal Colleges, Hispanic-serving Institutions, or other Minority-Serving Institutions
- students going to non-traditional study abroad destinations, especially those outside of Western Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and Canada

What is advisor certification?

Study Abroad Advisors will be asked to verify that you have applied to a credit-eligible study abroad program and confirm your study abroad program information. The Financial Aid Advisor will be asked to verify whether you are currently receiving a Federal Pell Grant and the estimated amount of financial aid, excluding loans, you can apply to your program. Advisors can only certify if information is correct, we cannot advocate on students’ behalf.
Upload Official Transcript

- Must provide Official Transcript from all undergraduate institutions
- Request Official transcripts from Registrar and have mailed to you or upload official e-Transcript
- Do NOT mail transcript to Gilman Scholarship Program
- Scan and upload copy to the online application
- Request your transcript ASAP!
Abroad Program & Program Details

Official Program Title
• “NYU Accra” = correct
• “NYU in Accra” or “Accra” = incorrect

Official Dates
• Use the official calendar on website (do NOT estimate the dates – remember that the semester dates at NYU global locations differ from NYU in New York!)

Application question: “Will you be studying a foreign language while abroad?”
• Foreign language coursework required at some but not all NYU programs. If you will be taking a foreign language course, answer “yes.”

Application question: “Will you be taking classes that are taught in a foreign language abroad?”
• Courses at NYU’s global locations are mostly taught in English but some programs allow students to take content courses in a foreign language (ex: Biology taught in Spanish). If you will be taking your content courses in English, answer “no.”
International Experience

• Include information about any other undergraduate study abroad where you have received academic credit

• Do not include personal travel!
Financial Aid

Study Away Cost Estimates (2017-18)

Groceries/dining, airfare, student visa, and personal expenses vary greatly by student; tuition is consistent as when enrolled at the degree campus. Airfare charges often depend on the departure city, and immigration costs depend on the citizenship of the student. Required health insurance costs will be communicated separately by the home campus Health Center. The cost of living is affected by exchange rates and other factors which fluctuate daily. For general planning, please consider the chart below which is based on estimated expenses for one semester.

Estimated Total Cost of Your Study Abroad Program:

• Gilman wants to see all possible costs you may incur during your semester away, including: home school tuition & fees, immigration, housing, books, transportation, meals, flight, and insurance (included in tuition if on an NYU program)

  — IMPORTANT NOTE: Please use the highest amount possible to calculate the program costs to demonstrate the maximum amount of need.

• If participating in an NYU Fall/Spring semester program, use the example chart (available online here) to calculate the overall cost of your program. The example on the next slide is a helpful guide.

Please Note: Your estimate will likely seem quite high. Don’t worry. You will find that actual cost of living largely depends on your budget, lifestyle, preferences, etc. It is possible to live affordably in an expensive city, and to live expensively in an affordable city!

Essays

Students must submit 2 essays:
• Statement of Purpose
• Proposal for Follow-On Service Project

Essays should be no more than 7,000 characters (including spaces), or approximately 1-1.5 pages single-spaced.

Additional essay required to be considered for Critical Need Language Award
