

NYU SYDNEY

Located on the continent and in the nation of Australia, NYU Sydney offers courses and excursions in the rich history of the immigrant and indigenous Australian communities. Students may concentrate their studies with global academic pathways in areas such as business, environmental studies, and prehealth. Through field trips within the city and independent regional travel, students have the chance to explore and expand their knowledge of the country's historic and contemporary culture. See the full list of available subject areas below.

WHEN

Fall/spring/academic year/Summer Session/January Term.*

Opportunities during Summer Sessions and January Term are often specialized programs with different admissions processes and academic offerings than the fall and spring semesters. Visit the Global Programs website to learn more.

ACADEMICS

Courses are crafted to uphold the academic rigor expected from NYU. Students can select courses from a full array of disciplines taught by an exemplary faculty of local scholars, artists, and professionals.

Students earn 12 to 18 NYU credits per semester. Subject areas listed on the reverse side are generally offered during the fall and spring semesters.

SAMPLE GLOBAL ACADEMIC PATHWAYS

Global academic pathways enable students to stay on track with their major and/or minor by providing clusters of study abroad courses that have been approved by NYU departments.

- Anthropology: Coursework allows students to explore the classical and current anthropological issues of indigenous Australia as well as the principal themes and issues in the development of indigenous art in Australia.
- Business: NYU's world-renowned Stern School of Business offers courses in finance and marketing.
- Environmental Studies: Students can examine environmental studies through the lenses of journalism and literary theory.
- Global Public Health: Students in one of the global public health majors can complete core major requirements by taking courses in the areas of epidemiology, environmental health, and sociobehavioral health.
- Prehealth: Psychology courses and spring-semester offerings in biology, chemistry, child and adolescent mental health studies, and physics allow prehealth students to remain on track for their degree.
- Sports Management: Courses teach students how to create, manage, and market sporting events. Students will also get the opportunity to explore the business functions of entities within the sports industry as well as the different channels of media distribution needed to promote sports activities.

CULTURAL ENGAGEMENT

Faculty members lead trips to surrounding regions and communities, providing students with firsthand experience in local domains and cultures—from city to bush.

GLOBAL ACADEMIC CENTER

NYU Sydney is located in a recently renovated historic building in the Rocks, one of the oldest neighborhoods in the heart of the city. The facility includes classrooms, a computer lab, and a common area that doubles as a study lounge and a space for social gatherings.

ACADEMIC INTERNSHIPS

NYU Sydney organizes for-credit internships for students who want to gain work experience. Placements are offered in fields such as journalism, finance, advertising, and environmental science.

HOUSING

All students live in furnished accommodations leased by NYU in the Haymarket district. The building is within walking distance of the city center and local transportation, making for an easy commute to the academic center and surrounding neighborhoods.

HOW TO APPLY

Apply at nyu.edu/global-programs. Application deadlines are posted online. The NYU Office of Global Programs reviews completed applications in multiple phases. Students are advised to apply by the earliest deadline.

ADMISSIONS

The admissions process ensures that all students studying with NYU are capable of performing to high academic standards. NYU's global locations draw an exceptional group of students from leading institutions throughout the United States in addition to NYU students. All students complete an online application, which includes a personal statement. Non-NYU students submit additional materials to support their online application, including an official college transcript and a letter of recommendation.

Non-NYU students should research to confirm when the program they are most interested in will be available.

2019–2020 EXPENSES (PER SEMESTER)

University tuition and fees are $26,655, with the following exceptions: Tandon School of Engineering, Stern School of Business, and Tisch School of the Arts students pay their regular school charges. Airfare, housing, meals, personal travel, visa application fees, and other related expenses are additional costs.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID

Students receive the same financial assistance package at all NYU locations. Those who are offered admission by the Office of Global Programs and who have a FAFSA or CSS Profile on file are automatically reviewed for a variety of scholarships. Global Programs staff are also available to assist students with external scholarship opportunities. Please visit the financial aid section of our website at nyu.edu/global-programs/financial-aid for further information.

Non-NYU students are encouraged to contact their home institution regarding portable financial assistance, such as Pell Grants, Stafford Loans, and Direct PLUS Loans. Through a consortium agreement initiated by the student's home university, this assistance may travel with the student and apply to NYU tuition and fees.

Course offerings and housing accommodations at all global locations are subject to change. See the website for the most up-to-date information.

*Spring semester study is open only to NYU students.
