

2021-2022

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

- ▶ Abu Dhabi
- ▶ Berlin
- ▶ London
- ▶ Shanghai
- ▶ Sydney
- ▶ Washington, DC

Address environmental issues and questions of sustainability on both a local and global scale with coursework offered by the Department of Environmental Studies at the College of Arts and Science. Students learn about environmental issues worldwide and explore a range of areas, including environmental science, environmental law, global public health, climate change, and environmental justice. Professors and lecturers include biologists, architects, economists, urban planners, environmental lawyers, and other experts with diverse experience in the field. Students engage with global sustainability topics through internships, volunteer opportunities, and guided research.
