

2021-2022

LAW AND SOCIETY MINOR AND PRELAW PROGRAM

- ▶ Abu Dhabi
- ▶ Accra
- ▶ Berlin
- ▶ Florence
- ▶ London
- ▶ Prague
- ▶ Shanghai
- ▶ Washington, DC

Take courses at one of eight NYU global locations and cultivate the skills necessary for success in law school. If you self-identify as a prelaw student, these courses will help you develop an understanding of international law and acquire new perspectives from other cultures. You will advance your understanding of legal systems in a comparative context, learning directly from professors who are leading scholars of political and social thought. If you are pursuing a minor in Law and Society in the Department of Sociology, you can take courses on legal topics in anthropology, politics, sociology, journalism, and economics, among many others. Career development panels and university-sponsored events may offer you the opportunity to connect with NYU alumni mentors at law firms and major corporations in their host cities.

PRELAW RESOURCES FOR NYU STUDENTS

Although there is no formal prelaw major or curriculum at NYU, if you self-identify as a prelaw student, you still have a number of resources available to you. On the New York City campus, the Barbara and Evan Chesler Prewlaw Program offers numerous prelaw events and workshops and connects you with prelaw advisers who can assist you with law school applications, help you build a network of connections with alumni mentors, and identify internship opportunities. For more information, go to nyu.edu/cas/prelaw.

STUDENT LIFE

On-site staff provide support for you during your time abroad. Orientation, trips, student clubs, and language exchanges throughout the semester help you connect with your host culture. Housing varies by location and is guaranteed to all students.
