The Education Studies major at the Steinhardt School of Culture, Education, and Human Development tackles the big questions surrounding education in a global context, from how to improve access to quality education to what role education can play in creating social change. Education studies students have two exciting and relevant study abroad pathways at NYU Accra and NYU Buenos Aires. The close connection between the Education Studies program and these centers offers you a unique opportunity to broaden your education-focused learning in two of the world’s most culturally vibrant and politically active cities.

You can study in either location during your junior or senior year!
NYU ACCRA

At NYU Accra, you will investigate questions of education policy, explore how local and international actors think about the role of education in international development, and learn about the practical challenges and opportunities that come with implementing education programming in developing countries. You can also gain a deeper understanding of Ghanian society through elective courses in activism, documentary filmmaking, and community psychology.

EDUCATION STUDIES COURSES
▶ Human Development I and II

SELECT ADDITIONAL COURSES
▶ African Women Speak
▶ Community Psychology
▶ Documenting the African City
▶ Experiential Learning Seminar
▶ Globalization and the Developing World
▶ Health and Society in a Global Context
▶ Society, Culture, and Modernization in Ghana

NYU BUENOS AIRES

The Education Studies program and NYU Buenos Aires are committed to exploring issues related to human rights and social justice. You will become part of diverse local communities and organizations across the city through internship and volunteer opportunities that focus on education and human rights advocacy. In elective courses, you will get to know a city filled with music, art, theatre, and widespread participation in local politics. And in courses on culture and Latin American media, you will immerse yourself in the historical and contemporary traditions of a place that is widely recognized as the cultural capital of the region.

EDUCATION STUDIES COURSES
▶ Human Rights, Education, and Activism in Argentina
▶ Human Rights in Education
▶ Survey of Developmental Psychology

SELECT ADDITIONAL COURSES
▶ Art and Politics in the City: New York and Buenos Aires
▶ Cinema in Latin America: Contemporary Argentine Cinema
▶ Cultures and Contexts: Latin America
▶ Experiential Learning Seminar
▶ Global Media Seminar: Latin America
▶ Health Policy in a Global World
▶ Interamerican Relations: Latin America and the United States
▶ Political Institutions and Economic Policy
▶ Queer Cultures and Democracy
▶ Spanish Language

STUDENT LIFE
On-site staff provide support for you during your time abroad. Orientation, trips, student clubs, and language exchanges throughout the semester help you connect with your host culture. Housing varies by location and is guaranteed to all students.

HOW TO APPLY
For more detailed information, including a complete list of current course offerings and application guidelines, visit the NYU Office of Global Programs website at nyu.edu/global-programs. To find more information about Summer Session and January Term programs abroad, go to nyu.edu/visitingstudents.

Financial aid and scholarships are available to all NYU students.

FOR MORE INFORMATION
Admissions Process
Office of Global Programs
383 Lafayette Street, 4th Floor
New York, NY 10003-7011
global.admissions@nyu.edu
212-998-4433

Academics
Department of Applied Statistics, Social Science, and Humanities
246 Greene Street, 3rd Floor
New York, NY 10003-6677
edstudies.adviser@nyu.edu
212-992-9475

nyu.edu/global-programs

Course offerings at all global locations are subject to change and can vary by semester. Not all course options are available to all students. See nyu.edu/global-programs for the most up-to-date information.