NYU in London is currently recruiting for a part-time lecturer to teach Abnormal Psychology, a class sponsored by NYU’s Psychology Department in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Courses commence in the Autumn Term (September-December 2022).

Founded in 1831, New York University is the largest private university in the United States. The University has degree-granting campuses in New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai and operates 11 global academic centers and research programs in more than 25 countries. NYU London is an undergraduate study abroad program of exceptional quality with teaching strengths across the curriculum. Our UK faculty, drawn mainly from local universities, has an excellent record in teaching and research. Classes are held at the NYU London centre at 4-6 Bedford Square, WC1.

If you would like to learn more about NYU London, please visit the website at https://www.nyu.edu/london.html

Applicants should have a PhD in the relevant field. It is expected that the post-holder will ideally have 2 to 3 years of experience teaching at the university level; experience teaching American undergraduates is helpful.

For full details including job description, duties, and application procedure, please go to http://apply.interfolio.com/94821

Closing date for applications is 10 June 2022.

The successful candidate should have the right to live and work in the UK prior to appointment.

NYU London is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity, and social inclusion. We strongly encourage applications from under-represented individuals in the profession, across colour, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, and gender and sexual identity. NYU London affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach.