

NYU PARIS

Courses at NYU Paris represent a diverse range of disciplines and explore their connections to French language, culture, history, and art. The academic program accommodates students at all levels of French language proficiency, allowing them to take subject courses in English or entirely in French along with advanced language courses in spoken or written French. Students may concentrate their studies with global academic pathways in areas such as art history, media, and music and performing arts. Trips and guided excursions in and around Paris complement coursework. Refer to the full list of available subject areas below.

WHEN

Fall/spring/academic year/Summer Session/January Term. Opportunities during Summer Sessions and January Term are often specialized programs with different admissions processes and academic offerings than the fall and spring semesters. Visit the Global Programs website to learn more.

ACADEMICS

Courses are crafted to uphold the academic rigor expected from NYU. Students can select courses from a full array of disciplines taught by an exemplary faculty of local scholars, artists, and professionals.

Students earn 12 to 18 NYU credits per semester. Subject areas listed on the reverse side are generally offered during the fall and spring semesters. Some students may be eligible to register for one or two courses at one of the following local affiliated institutions: the University of Paris 1, 3, 7, and 10.

SAMPLE GLOBAL ACADEMIC PATHWAYS

Global academic pathways enable students to stay on track with their major and/or minor by providing clusters of study abroad courses that have been approved by NYU departments.

- Art History: Courses are available on the history of photography in France, the 19th- and 20th-century French art world, and the Parisian contemporary arts scene. Students enjoy the diverse selection of museums and the many styles of architecture found in Paris.
- French Language and Culture: Qualified advanced students in French may enroll in one or two courses at a local affiliated institution.
- Media in Paris: Courses taught in English—offered by the Steinhardt School of Culture, Education, and Human Development's Department of Media, Culture, and Communication—introduce media in Europe and discuss its production, distribution, consumption, and regulation.
- Music and Performing Arts: Students may take courses in voice and acting conducted in French. An experimental theatre workshop is also offered in English.
- Philosophy: Courses taught in English are available on the history of French philosophy and the philosophy of language.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The NYU School of Law provides law students with the opportunity to explore aspects of the European legal system.

CULTURAL ENGAGEMENT

- French-American debate club
- Homestays with Parisian host families
- Language exchange

GLOBAL ACADEMIC CENTER

The academic center is in a state-of-the-art building located on the Left Bank near many French universities and the Luxembourg Gardens.

ACADEMIC INTERNSHIPS

NYU Paris organizes for-credit internships for students of all majors who want to gain work experience. For example, placements are offered in fields such as fashion, marketing, public relations, and technology. Students will enroll in a four-credit course to earn credit for their academic internship.

HOUSING

Students may choose to live in a Parisian household or an NYU residence hall. Additional housing options can vary by semester and typically include furnished rental apartments in the city.

STUDY AWAY PROCESS

Students interested in studying away can visit the NYU Office of Global Programs website at nyu.edu/global-programs and submit a brief online interest form. The Office of Global Programs considers the unique program requirements and each student's complete academic and university records when reviewing student submissions. Submission deadlines per semester are posted online. After each deadline, the NYU Office of Global Programs reviews submissions on a rolling basis.

Non-NYU students submit additional materials including an unofficial college transcript and an adviser approval form. Non-NYU students should research to confirm when the program they are most interested in will be available.

2022-2023 EXPENSES (PER SEMESTER)

University tuition and fees are $29,084, with the following exceptions: Stern School of Business and Tisch School of the Arts students pay their regular school charges. Airfare, housing, meals, personal travel, visa application fees, and other related expenses are additional costs.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID

Students receive the same financial assistance package at all NYU locations. Those who are offered admission by the Office of Global Programs and who have a FAFSA or CSS Profile on file are automatically reviewed for a variety of scholarships. Global Programs staff are also available to assist students with external scholarship opportunities. Please visit the financial aid section of our website at nyu.edu/global-programs/financial-aid for further information.

Non-NYU students are encouraged to contact their home institution regarding portable financial assistance, such as Pell Grants, Stafford Loans, and Direct PLUS Loans. Through a consortium agreement initiated by the student's home university, this assistance may travel with the student and apply to NYU tuition and fees.

Course offerings and housing accommodations at all global locations are subject to change. Refer to the website for the most up-to-date information.
