

NYU TEL AVIV

NYU Tel Aviv provides students with a vivid and objective understanding of the Middle East and its vast array of cultures, political movements, religious traditions, and environments. Language courses in Arabic and Hebrew are offered at all levels, and subject courses examine the many and varied issues facing the region. Students may concentrate their studies with global academic pathways in areas such as politics and science. Day trips and multiday guided excursions throughout Israel and the Middle East are an integral part of the curriculum. Refer to the full list of available subject areas below.

NYU
PROGRAMS

WHEN

Fall/spring/academic year/Summer Session.* Opportunities during Summer Sessions are often specialized programs with different admissions processes and academic offerings than the fall and spring semesters. Visit the Global Programs website to learn more.

ACADEMICS

Courses are crafted to uphold the academic rigor expected from NYU. Students can select courses from a full array of disciplines taught by an exemplary faculty of local scholars, artists, and professionals.

Students earn 12 to 18 NYU credits per semester. Subject areas listed on the reverse side are generally offered during the fall and spring semesters. Some students may be eligible to register for one or two courses at NYU's local affiliated institution, Tel Aviv University.

SAMPLE GLOBAL ACADEMIC PATHWAYS

Global academic pathways enable students to stay on track with their major and/or minor by providing clusters of study abroad courses that have been approved by NYU departments.

- Arabic and Hebrew Languages: Language courses are available at all levels, from elementary to advanced, and allow students to familiarize themselves with the region's languages.
- Emerging Media: Tel Aviv's emerging media landscape provides students opportunities to engage in the local community through the application of media in art, education, entertainment, business, and human well-being. This provides many types of experiential learning opportunities, including internships.
- Politics: Students enroll in courses that explore the historical and present-day issues facing Israel and the Middle East. Prominent faculty, guest lectures, and visits to important organizations and institutions throughout Israel complement the curriculum.
- Science for Majors: Biology and Neuroscience majors can satisfy core requirements with Molecular and Cell Biology II and Organic Chemistry II.

CULTURAL ENGAGEMENT

- Credit and noncredit internships
- Volunteer opportunities
- Holiday and Shabbat meals with local families
- Guest lecture series featuring prominent scholars, writers, musicians, journalists, and public intellectuals
- Cultural exchange with the local student population

GLOBAL ACADEMIC CENTER

The NYU Tel Aviv academic center is located near HaYarkon Park in a residential neighborhood close to the beach. The academic center is a short commute from the residence hall and is equipped with state-of-the-art technology. Classrooms, a computer lab, student lounge, the NYU Tel Aviv library, and administrative offices are connected to a secure Wi-Fi network. The center lobby and atrium provide lively meeting spaces and nice spots to relax in between studies.

ACADEMIC INTERNSHIPS

NYU Tel Aviv organizes for-credit internships for students of all majors who want to gain work experience. For example, placements are offered in fields such as journalism, business, media, politics, fine arts, the environment, and education. Students will enroll in a four-credit course to earn credit for their academic internship.

New York University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution.

HOUSING

All students are required to live in NYU-sponsored housing. The modern residence hall is located near HaYarkon Park and features 24-hour security and a shared kitchen that includes kosher/halal spaces.

STUDY AWAY PROCESS

Students interested in studying away can visit the NYU Office of Global Programs website at nyu.edu/global-programs and submit a brief online interest form. The Office of Global Programs considers the unique program requirements and each student's complete academic and university records when reviewing student submissions. Submission deadlines per semester are posted online. After each deadline, the NYU Office of Global Programs reviews submissions on a rolling basis.

Non-NYU students submit additional materials including an unofficial college transcript and an adviser approval form. Non-NYU students should research to confirm when the program they are most interested in will be available.

2022-2023 EXPENSES (PER SEMESTER)

University tuition and fees are $29,084, with the following exceptions: Stern School of Business and Tisch School of the Arts students pay their regular school charges. Airfare, housing, meals, personal travel, visa application fees, and other related expenses are additional costs.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID

Students receive the same financial assistance package at all NYU locations. Those who are offered admission by the Office of Global Programs and who have a FAFSA or CSS Profile on file are automatically reviewed for a variety of scholarships. For example, NYU Tel Aviv students registered for innovation and entrepreneurship, biology, or chemistry courses may be eligible for specialized awards of up to $5,000, and College of Arts and Science students who major in either Biology or Chemistry will be considered for the Levine Family Travel Scholarship, an award of up to $1,500. Global Programs staff are also available to assist students with external scholarship opportunities. Please visit the financial aid section of our website at nyu.edu/global-programs/financial-aid for further information.

Non-NYU students are encouraged to contact their home institution regarding portable financial assistance, such as Pell Grants, Stafford Loans, and Direct PLUS Loans. Through a consortium agreement initiated by the student's home university, this assistance may travel with the student and apply to NYU tuition and fees.

Course offerings and housing accommodations at all global locations are subject to change. Refer to the website for the most up-to-date information.

*Limited availability for visiting students during spring semester.
