

New York University

CODE 103/542 "Post Doctoral Fellow"

NAME OF CANDIDATE
SCHOOL
DEPARTMENT
HIGHEST DEGREE	YEAR RECEIVED
"Post Doctoral Fellows" are neither employees nor students of New York University. They come to NYU with stipends administered through NYU from a variety of external sources. "Post Doctoral Fellows" have no specific work assignments, nor does the stipend they receive constitute payment for services rendered. "Post Doctoral Fellows" normally have received a doctoral degree within the past five years and have not held a tenure track position. They come to the University in a training capacity, for the purpose of developing their own research competence. They commit to an average 35 hours each week at NYU, for a minimum of four months duration, up to five years. They are under the supervision of an NYU faculty member. Note: 103/542 "Post Doctoral Fellows" should not be confused with 103 research scientists/research scholars/training personnel who are NYU employees, paid from external funds and are assigned to specific NYU sponsored programs. Nor should they be confused with NYU's own predoctoral graduate students who are awarded fellowships and who are currently coded 542.
