Dr. Andrew D. Hamilton
President
New York University
New York, NY 10012-1091

Dear Dr. Hamilton:

Congratulations on New York University’s inclusion on the list of 2022-2023 Fulbright Program “Top Producing Institutions” of Fulbright U.S. Students, to be announced in The Chronicle of Higher Education in February 2023. This achievement is a testament to your institution’s deep commitment to international exchange and to building lasting connections between the people of the United States and the people of other countries.

I would like to thank your entire team for their hard work in promoting the Fulbright Program to your students, and in particular Kurt Davies for their support of the Fulbright U.S. Student Program on your campus.

The Fulbright Program is the U.S. government’s flagship international academic exchange program. It is funded through an annual appropriation from the U.S. Congress to the Department of State. Participating governments and host institutions, corporations, and foundations around the world also provide direct and indirect support to the Program, which operates in over 160 countries worldwide. Since its inception in 1946, over 400,000 talented individuals from all backgrounds have participated in the Fulbright Program and returned home with an expanded worldview, a deeper appreciation for their host country and its people, and broader professional and personal networks. As a diplomat, I love the Fulbright Program because it supports changemakers and fosters global cooperation. Fulbrighters strive to make the world a better place in classrooms and countries worldwide.

New York University’s place among the Fulbright Program’s 2022-2023 Top Producing Institutions clearly demonstrates your dedication to preparing Americans to thrive in the global economy and serve as engaged citizens. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Antony J. Blinken
