A simple way to keep track of your progress and get in touch
Welcome to New York University!
The Office of Undergraduate Admissions has told me that this coming spring you will join our exceptional community of scholars, scientists, athletes, innovators, change agents, artists, entrepreneurs, hackers, and academics from around the world.

To help you prepare for a smooth arrival on campus, this guide features action items to complete over the coming months and various communications that you can expect to receive. These include some of the most important deadlines, but are not the full list — stay tuned to nyu.edu/nextstop for the latest information. Your school or program will also send details about orientation and course registration.

All official communications will be sent to your NYU email address. Please activate your account now at start.nyue.edu — and check your inbox regularly.

I hope that Next Stop NYU communications help ease your transition to NYU.

I look forward to greeting you on campus in January! If you have questions leading up to your arrival, please do not hesitate to get in touch with me, to contact the admissions office, or to reach out to the Center for Student Life at (212) 998-4411.

I hope you find your gap semester to be a time to pursue your interests, passions and projects, and that you will look ahead to your arrival at NYU with anticipation and excitement!

With all best wishes,

Marc Wais
Senior Vice President for Student Affairs

This schedule shows important dates for most students, but it might not be a complete list of deadlines for everyone. Please supplement the information on these pages with communications from other University offices. Not all deadlines will apply to all students, and dates may vary based on your date of admission.
Your school or academic department might also have additional deadlines and requirements not featured in Next Stop NYU. Stay tuned to your NYU email, or reach out to them for details. Find school contacts on the Next Stop NYU website.

UPON ADMISSION
Financial Aid Award Acceptance
OFFICE OF FINANCIAL AID
For students offered federal financial aid, such as loans or work study, you may accept them on NYU Albert Student Center. Any grant or scholarships that you may have been awarded will already be accepted on your behalf. In order for financial aid to be reflected on your spring semester bill, you need to have accepted the aid you intend to accept, have completed any required paperwork, and have credit approval (for Parent PLUS Loans).

Next Stop NYU offers an overview of university-wide deadlines that apply to most new students. However, each school at NYU will also have its own important dates and to-dos.

TRANSFER STUDENTS
Expect to get an email or letter directly from your school not long after your admission.

NEW FRESHMEN
Review your school’s Spring Admissions web pages and stay tuned to your NYU email for more details over the coming months. Key dates for new freshmen are listed below.

Liberal Studies
Registration for the Spring 2019 semester opens for new Liberal Studies students on Friday, November 16. You will be contacted by your academic advisor about the process for selecting classes in mid-October. New Student Orientation will begin Wednesday, January 23, 2019 and continues during the first three weeks of the semester.

FINANCIAL EDUCATION

Make Sound Financial Decisions Using iGrad

NYU has partnered with iGrad, an online financial education tool, to ensure students and their families have access to customized resources that will expand their knowledge of personal finance. iGrad helps you answer questions like how to make an NYU education possible, how to manage your financial needs, how to create a monthly budget, and how to navigate the student loan process.

To get started, create a free account and answer a few questions about your current status — iGrad will automatically recommend relevant articles, tools, and topics. Once you create a private account, you can measure your financial literacy health and keep track of student loan accounts.

Federal and state laws, and NYU policies, require you to complete various health requirements before arriving on campus.
There are a number of health requirements you must complete before you start at NYU. They are outlined here and in the checklist. Why so many? Because of federal regulations, New York State Public Health Laws 2165 and 2167, and NYU policies. Your participation in completing each requirement helps create a safer and healthier NYU — for you and the entire student body.
NOVEMBER 6
NYU Student Health Insurance Portal Opens to Enroll in or Waive
STUDENT HEALTH CENTER
All students are automatically enrolled in a default health insurance plan. This is reflected on your student bill. If you are already covered, and will continue to use your own insurance while at NYU, log on to waive the default health insurance and have it removed from your bill. An insurance brochure with benefits and premiums is available online. ▶ nyu.edu/health/insurance

JANUARY 15
Submit Mandatory Forms
STUDENT HEALTH CENTER
Deadline to submit the Immunization History and Student Health History forms, including the Wellbeing Questionnaire. If you are under 18 years of age, you must also submit the Treatment of a Minor form so that you can access services at the Student Health Center. Failing to meet these requirements can result in de-enrollment from classes. ▶ nyu.edu/health/requirements

JANUARY 15
Complete Sexual Misconduct Prevention Online Training
STUDENT HEALTH CENTER
In an effort to maintain a safe and aware campus community, all NYU students must complete the online training program called “Think About It.” Failing to complete this training will impact your ability to enroll in future classes. Check your NYU email in early December for an invitation to take the course. ▶ nyu.edu/sexual-respect

JANUARY 15
Complete AlcoholEdu: Part One
STUDENT HEALTH CENTER
All new students must complete the “AlcoholEdu” course online — even those who are over 21, or do not drink alcohol for personal, health, religious, or other reasons. Everyone will benefit from a shared basic knowledge of the effects of alcohol, potential problems, ways to reduce risk, and resources to help ourselves and others. “AlcoholEdu” is presented in two parts. Failing to complete both parts will impact your ability to enroll in future classes. Check your NYU email in early December for an invitation to take the course.

MARCH 15
Complete AlcoholEdu: Part Two
STUDENT HEALTH CENTER
Check your NYU email for an invitation to take part two in early to mid-February. Upon completion of part one, all students must also complete part two; otherwise, class registration may be blocked.
NYU STUDENT HEALTH CENTER

Here to help you feel your best so you can do your best.

Your health and well-being is a top priority. In addition to scheduling same-day appointments, you can speak with a medical or mental health professional 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

To arrange medical and mental health support before you arrive at NYU, simply call the Wellness Exchange at (212) 443-9999, or email wellness.exchange@nyu.edu. If your medical history includes a chronic medical condition or treatment by a psychotherapist or psychiatrist, let the Student Health Center know through the Health History form. This will help the medical team learn more about you to better meet your needs. And if you’re taking medication, the Student Health Center can help — just bring your original prescriptions so they can be refilled at the on-site pharmacy.

nyu.edu/health
All students enrolled at NYU have access to services at the Student Health Center: whether you have the NYU Sponsored Student Health Insurance Plan or not, you are welcome to come to the SHC. Insurance details are available in the Insurance brochure, which is available online.
A full-service pharmacy is conveniently located within the Student Health Center.
Medical Services
(212) 443-1000
You can visit a Primary Care Provider to manage all your healthcare needs (including vaccines and preventive care), and receive referrals as needed. Urgent Care services are available for an additional fee. In-house specialty services include: gynecology, dermatology, pulmonology, gastroenterology, orthopedics, sports medicine, neurology, endocrinology, allergy and immunology, and travel medicine. Additional medical services include confidential HIV testing, nutrition, physical therapy, optometry, and care management.

Counseling and Wellness Services
(212) 998-4780
Counseling and Wellness Services provides consultations, short-term psychotherapy, long-term psychiatric services, group therapy, toolkits, and outreach services. Though NYU does not provide long-term psychotherapeutic services, counselors can provide referrals for long-term care and help you utilize a variety of options in the community.

► nyu.edu/counseling

Wellness Exchange
(212) 443-9999
The Wellness Exchange is your greatest mental health resource at NYU. Call the hotline 24/7, chat via the Wellness Exchange app 24/7, make an appointment, or stop by during our drop-in hours to speak with a certified counselor about any day-to-day challenges or health concerns (e.g. medical issues, academic stress, depression, sexual assault, anxiety, alcohol or drug dependence, or eating disorders). Unsure which in-person option is right for you? Call or chat with our counselors to discuss your options and find the right fit. Worried about a friend? Our counselors are here for that too — in-person, over the phone, or through chat. The Wellness Exchange is here for you, whatever the reason. Not interested in phone, chat or drop-in hours? Email our counselors!

► wellness.exchange@nyu.edu
► nyu.edu/999

Pharmacy
(212) 443-1050
The SHC Pharmacy is a full-service pharmacy staffed by Registered Pharmacists and Certified Pharmacy Technicians who are ready to help you with all your health care needs. Prescriptions can be e-prescribed, faxed, or called into the SHC Pharmacy by any licensed Provider or Nurse Practitioner, or can be presented in person.

► nyu.edu/pharmacy
Health Promotion
(212) 443-1234
Health Promotion supports your health and wellbeing, whether or not you come to the Student Health Center. The office plans and implements campus-wide initiatives on a variety of topics including stress reduction, sexual health, and bystander intervention to promote healthy behaviors, encourage healthy living, and create a healthier campus environment.

Moses Center for Students with Disabilities
(212) 998-4980
NYU is committed to providing equal educational opportunity and participation for students with disabilities. The Moses Center works with NYU students with disabilities to obtain appropriate accommodations and services. Students are asked to self-identify and make known their requests for accommodations or other support. Staff is available for consultation regarding the definition of disability, the decision to register, submitting documentation and the registration process. Reasonable accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis and are based on a student’s disability-related needs, submitted documentation, and NYU program requirements.

▶ nyu.edu/csd

Student Health Insurance
(212) 443-1020
NYU requires that all students registered in degree-granting programs maintain health insurance. Therefore, all new students are automatically enrolled in the NYU Sponsored Student Health Insurance Plan. You may choose to opt out of the NYU plan if you are already covered (such as through your family’s plan). Insurance details are available in the Insurance brochure, which is available online and will be emailed to you in June.
