

*New York University-Tamiment Library
Center for the United States and the Cold War*

Spring 2015 SEMINAR SCHEDULE

February 12th- Brandon Gauthier, Fordham University, 'Bullwhip Barbarians...the Worst of This Breed': Postwar Portrayals of 'North Korea' in the U.S. media, 1953-1963"

February 26th- Jacob Zumoff, New Jersey City University, "The Comintern and American Communism in the 1920s"

March 26th- David Greenberg, Rutgers University, Brainwashing, Psy War, and Hidden Persuasion: Propaganda Anxieties in the Early Cold War"

April 2nd- Kostis Kornetis, New York University, "Children of the Dictatorship. Student Resistance, Cultural Politics and the "Long 1960s" in Greece"

April 16th- Christopher Dietrich, Fordham University, "Oil Elites, State Rights, and the Cold War: The Case of Libya, 1969-1971"

April 30th- Frank Gerits, Center for the United States and the Cold War Fellow, "The Ideological Scramble for Africa: How shifting ideas about development shaped the Global Cold War"

May 7th- Talya Zemach-Bersin, Center for the United States and the Cold War Fellow, "Operation Understanding: Cold War Education for American Nationalist Globalism, 1945-1950"

Seminars take place from 5:00pm to 7:00pm at the Tamiment Library, Bobst Library 70 Washington Square South, 10th Floor. Reception to follow.